To celebrate the unconventional delights of feasts taken perched among the branches M. Guescenin ping the Crusoe. The fame of the tree and its dining rooms spread. All social, literary, artistic Paris made it a point to breakfast or dine among the rustling leaves.

Imitators soon appeared on the scene, and today Scenux is nothing less than a village built in treetops. There are over a score of trees with spacious ciring rooms, many also beasting of sleeping and living apartments, ingeniously constructed on the stout branches of the trees. The tallest tree may be likened to a three story dwelling. It has three distinct rooms, built one above the

The Sphinx Needs an Umbrella.

Venice has lost her famous campanile, and now Egypt has good cause to tromble for her sphinx-at least so says a distinguished European Egyptologist who examined this ancient monument recently.

It is slowly wasting away, he says, and the sole cause is because too much rain has recently descendthere are terrible showers of rain in Egypt, which are followed by flerce tempests, and as a result the sphinx, which has stood for centuries, is now being slowly, but surely, destroved, the stone of which it is fashioned being no longer able to resist the periodical onslaughts of the weather.

As the only efficacious remedy he suggests that an immense umbrella be placed over the monument, as thus the rain could be warded off, and that some method be also devised to protect it against the sand which envelops it during tempests.

Old Walnut Stumps Valuable.

Old walnut stumps are on a boom throughout Tennessee. Stumps that have remained unnoticed for years and were regarded as worthless are now eagerly sought after at prices that seem almost fabulous. One need then is Electric Bitters, the eling over the country buying every walnut stump that could be found. At first the prices paid were small, but as the eyes of the stick timber folks began to open the prices went higher and higher until now they are out of sight, and the funny part about it is that the uglier, knottier and more unsightly the stump the more money it will suffering, try them. It is stated that the stumps are made into veneering material and used in the manufacture of high grade furniture.

A Big Feghern.

A large foghorn is to be placed in being produced by sirens. Compressed air is supplied by valves actunted by clocky ork. Every two minutes the foghorn will emit a deep roar, followed ten seconds later by a sharp shrick. There are three air tanks, each 6 feet in diameter and 12 feet long, and three gasoline engines run compressors to fill these tanks. The plant runs automatically, and a constant pressure is maintained in it. Even the clock is wound by a compressed air motor.

The Coming Race. The male spider is a dwarf; the female is a giant. It is the female which invites the fly to walk into her parlor. A Chicago anthropologist has recently been prophesying that the human race will soon reen are growing larger and the men smaller. What will the poor men do if his prophecy should come true? They find it hard enough even now want .- Youth's Companion.

Chemical Foods. M. Berthelot expresses the opinion in the Paris Temps that the time will come when chemists will be able to prepare more digestible and nutritious foods than we now derive from the animal and vegetable world directly, but he does not believe that it will be possible, as some suppose, to concentrate nutriment enough for a meal into a few

AMERICANMONTALY REVIEWS

How Can I Keep Up with the Times?

T is pretty hard to keep well informed on the political news, the scientific news, the literary news, the educational movements, the great business developments, the hundreds of interesting and valuable articles in the hundreds of excellent magazines. About the only way it can be done by the average busy man and woman is to read a magazine like "The Review of Reviews," and, as it is the only magazine of the sort, it is a good thing to send $2.50 for a year's subscription.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT says:

"I know that through its columns views have been pre-sented to me that I could not otherwise have had access to; because all earnest and thoughtful men, no matter how widely their ideas diverge, are given free utterance in its columns."

EX-PRESIDENT GROVER CLEVELAND says: I consider it a very valuable addition to my library."
