

DISGUISED CATARRH

A Stealthy, Insidious, Weakening Enemy to Women--Many Thousand Women Suffer Needlessly From This Cause.

There are a multitude of women, especially housewives, and all other women obliged to be on their feet constantly, who are wretched beyond description, simply because their strength and vitality is sapped away by catarrhal discharges from the pelvic organs. These women get up in the morning tired, drag themselves through their daily duties, tired, only to go to bed at night as tired as before.

Mrs. Eva Hartho, 123 East 13th Street, N. Y. City, N. Y., writes: "I suffered for three years with what is generally known as leucorrhoea. In connection with migration of the womb, the doctor advocated an operation which I dreaded very much. Reading of the value of Peruna, I thought it best to give three bottles of it at once. Now I am a changed woman. Peruna cured me. I took nine bottles, but I feel so much improved, I can take it as I did, an operation so much. I am to-day in perfect health, and have not had a single day's trouble since." - Mrs. Eva Hartho.

Miss Louise Mabon, 3 Glen Ballie Street, Toronto, Ont., Canada, writes: "If all women knew what I have learned from taking Peruna, they would have many happier and more beautiful women. My health has never been so good, and I feel so well, and I can do so much more than I could before. I have been so well that I had to take my bed, and I had to take my bed, and I had to take my bed. I had to take my bed, and I had to take my bed. I had to take my bed, and I had to take my bed." - Miss Louise Mabon.

Mrs. Anna Martin, 47 Hoyt St., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "Peruna did so much for me that I feel it my duty to recommend it to others who may be similarly afflicted. About a year ago my health was completely broken down, and I was in misery, and I had to take my bed, and I had to take my bed. I had to take my bed, and I had to take my bed. I had to take my bed, and I had to take my bed." - Mrs. Anna Martin.

Mrs. Wm. Betrick, Kennard, Washington County, Neb., writes: "I am fifty-six years old and have not felt well since the change of life began ten years ago. I was in misery, and I had to take my bed, and I had to take my bed. I had to take my bed, and I had to take my bed. I had to take my bed, and I had to take my bed." - Mrs. Wm. Betrick.

Barbara Alberty, corner Seventh and Walnut streets, Appleton, Wis., writes as follows in regard to Peruna: "For years I have suffered with backache and severe pains in the side. My doctor told me to take Peruna, and I have benefited here and I sent out for Peruna, and I have benefited here and I sent out for Peruna, and I have benefited here and I sent out for Peruna." - Barbara Alberty.

Peruna is such a perfect specific for each case that when patients have once used it they can never be induced to quit it until they are permanently cured. It begins to relieve the disagreeable symptoms at once. The backache ceases, the trembling joints are strengthened, the appetite restored, the digestion made perfect, the dull headache is stopped and the weakening drains are gradually cured. These results certainly follow a course of treatment with Peruna.

He Knew What to Do. In the old canal days, a fine steamer was taken by his master on a packet boat which was so crowded that the dog was put in the captain's cabin to be out of the way. His owner reached his destination after nightfall, and had taken so much wine by that time that he was carried off the boat, and no one remembered the matter. Next morning the captain took the dog on deck, but he was much afraid he would jump off to the tow-path and try to return that way, and so handsome an animal would have been in danger of being stolen. Carlo, however, lay perfectly quiet, but with an air of listening that attracted notice. Toward noon he heard the voice of the horn of a packet coming from the opposite way, and as the boats passed each other he made a leap, and was next heard from as having got off at the place where his master had stopped, and as having gone at once to the house where the man was a guest. Human intelligence could not have surpassed that shown by this animal.

Two Points of View. "You never know what it is to be well till you're sick," says Paddy. Certainly life loses all charm to the confirmed invalid, though he be lapped in luxury. A doctor compares the state of mind of a man before dinner and after who suffers from indigestion. Before dinner the patient's thoughts are something of this kind: "What a jolly thing life is! How grand it is to breathe the pure air, to revel in the glorious sunshine, to laugh and be merry! With friends all around, a prosperous future before one, all one's hopes and plans turn out well. It may safely be said that we live in a good country and that life is the most enjoyable state imaginable. But after dinner, when the stomach is full of food, and the digestion is imperfect, and the combination the most excellent of its kind. The above is true not of food products only, but is especially applicable to medicinal agents and after nearly a century of the excellent remedy, Syrup of Figs, is everywhere accepted, throughout the world, as the best of family laxatives. Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the combination of the laxative and carminative principles of plants known to act most beneficially on the system and presented in the form of a pleasant and refreshing liquid, but also to the method of manufacture of the California Fig Syrup Co., which ensures that uniformity and purity essential in a remedy intended for family use. Ask any physician who is well informed and he will answer at once that it is an excellent laxative. If at all eminent in profession and has made a special study of laxatives and their effects upon the system he will tell you that it is the best of family laxatives because it is simple and wholesome and cleanses and sweetens the system effectually, without any unpleasant after-effects. Every well-informed druggist of reputable standing knows that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative and is glad to sell it at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, because it gives general satisfaction, but one should remember that in order to get the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs it is necessary to buy the genuine, which is sold in original packages only; the name of the remedy--Syrup of Figs and also the full name of the Company--California Fig Syrup Co.--printed on the front of every package.

THE MEN AND WOMEN Who Enjoy the Choicest Products of the World's Commerce.

Knowledge of What is Best More Important Than Wealth Without It.

It must be apparent to every one that quality of the highest order is necessary to enable the best of the products of modern commerce to attain permanently to universal acceptance. However loudly advertised, they may not hope for world-wide recognition unless they are of the highest quality and command the general approval of not individuals only, but of the many who have the happy faculty of selecting, enjoying and learning the real worth of the choicest products. Their commendation, consequently, becomes important to others, since to meet the requirements of the well informed and cultured of all countries the method of manufacture must be of the most perfect order and the combination the most excellent of its kind. The above is true not of food products only, but is especially applicable to medicinal agents and after nearly a century of the excellent remedy, Syrup of Figs, is everywhere accepted, throughout the world, as the best of family laxatives. taken. I used it faithfully for two weeks, and it completely cured me. I have not had any pain since, anywhere, but feel like a new woman. I am truly thankful for what Peruna has done for me." - Barbara Alberty.

Mrs. Kate Mann, 806 Bathurst Street, Toronto, Ont., Canada, writes: "I am pleased to give praise to Peruna for the blessed relief I found through its use. I suffered for years with backache and dragging down pains and often had to go to bed and stay there. When I was so busy that I could not be spared, it was therefore a simple goodness to me when Peruna was brought to my notice. Every dose made me feel much better, and I promised myself that if I found that it cured me I would not stop until I was cured. I have been in perfect health for one year. I enjoy work and pleasure because of my health, and I have no trouble about my back, and I feel that you are in good health. Peruna has simply been a household blessing, and I never will be without it again." - Mrs. Kate Mann.

COMMERCIAL REVIEW.

General Trade Conditions.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s "Weekly Review of Trade" says: Reports from all sections of the country promise brisk spring and summer trade. Orders are coming forward on a large scale, and frequent requests for prompt shipment indicate that stocks are low and requirements urgent. The statement has been made repeatedly of late that traffic blockades were ended, but, as a matter of fact, the relief was in every case of a local nature and almost immediately followed by so much new business that congestion returned.

Heavy distribution of wages makes prompt trade active and collections retain in the anti-inflation region. Activity in building lines is so great as to occasion frequent comment. Floods added to the disturbed condition of the cotton market.

Railway earnings continue to exceed previous years' figures, roads reporting for the first week of March showing a gain of 14.1 per cent. over last year and of 18.3 per cent. over 1901. It is already certain that railway construction will far exceed even last year's enormous figures.

Eastern producers of footwear report new business in fall shoes quiet as yet. The outlook is satisfactory.

An erratic market for the raw material, together with unfavorable weather, brings a decrease in sales of cotton goods. Only a fair demand is reported for men's wear, woollens and work clothes. Removal of the embargo in Massachusetts reflects on very heavy shipments of wool, and prices are fairly steady.

Futures this week numbered 230 in the United States, against 234 last year, and 22 in Canada, against 24 a year ago.

It Didn't Work.

He was middle-aged, poorly dressed and decidedly fussy. He had hardly taken his seat in the restaurant when he began to grumble about everything in sight. There was nothing on the bill of fare fit to eat, he declared, and kept the waiter busy attending to his many trifling wants. Finally he ordered some chops well done and a cup of coffee brought to him at once. The beverage was not to his liking and he sent it back for repairs, voicing a complaint louder than ever. After waiting five minutes he demanded his chops and at intervals of a minute repeated the demand. At length in a burst of anger he declared he would go somewhere else to eat and called for his check for the coffee. Grabbing overcoat and hat he was about to rush out when the man who sat beside him interrupted.

"That's not your coat," he said sternly.

"Oh--beg pardon--a mistake," stammered the angry one as he replaced the heavy silk-lined coat on the hook, took his own shabby one from an adjoining peg and left the place.

"I lost a new derby through that dodge once," said the watchful one as he resumed his meal. That game of kicking at everything and working up a show of anger as an excuse for absent-mindedness is being extensively worked nowadays. The minute he began his protest I was 'on' at once. Did you notice the awful rag was going to leave?"

Miss Menard cured after doctors failed to help her.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me after doctors had failed, and I want other girls to know about it. During menstruation I suffered most intense pain low in the abdomen and in my limbs. At other times I had a heavy, depressed feeling which made my work seem twice as hard, and I grew pale and thin. The medicine the doctor gave me did not do me one bit of good, and I was thoroughly discouraged. The doctor wanted me to stop work, but, of course, I could not do that. I finally began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and felt better after taking the first bottle, and after taking six bottles I was entirely cured, and am now in perfect health, and I am so grateful for the medicine."
