WHY CORN IS KING.

The Grain, Ear, Stalk and Leaf Developed at Will—Where the Farmer's Bank Account Comes in for a Big Benefit.

The following paragraphs concerning corn are taken from an article in May Cosmopolian, written by A. D. Shamel, superintendent of the Illinois experiment station.

Corn breeding is a modification of live stock breeding, and follows the same general laws and principles. It is the application of principles of plant and animal breeding to the corn plant. The per cent. of sugar in the sugarbeet has been increased from three per cent. to sixteen per cent. The ordinary beet was improved by seed selection, so that an enormous industry has been built up and a new source of sugar given to the world. This has been done with a plant which seeds once in two years. Corn produces a crop every year, a single seed producing a return of over a thousand fold. From this great number of offspring, varying in size, shape, color and composition, a selection can be made which will develop any feature of the seed or plant. By continued selection, these valuable attributes can be fixed in the characteristics of the plant, and the usefulness and importance of the crop increased. To illustrate the point: We have been able by selecting ears having long shanks, to increase the length of the shank nearly two feet in five years' selection. By selecting ears with tall stalks, we have been able to increase the height of the stalk almost three feet in five years. By selecting ears from plants having wide leaves we have been able to increase the average width of the leaf, and by selecting ears from stalks having narrow leaves, we have been able to decrease the width of the leaf.

CORN-BREEDING FIELDS.

In breeding corn, a small field (usually an acre in size) is used. The land is prepared and the seed bed treated as for the ordinary field. They are usually about one hundred and twenty hills long and thirty rows wide. Each row is planted from a separate ear.—The barren stalks, poor stalks and all undesirable stalks, such as suckers, are removed before the tassel appears. The field is protected or isolated, so that no mixture can take place from other varieties or from any source. In the fall these rows are husked separately, and the seed from the next year's crop is selected from the rows giving the highest yields per acre, of best composition, with the least barren stalks, and of the best type. In this way, the yield per acre of the variety is increased, the quality improved and type preserved and developed. By this plan, we are able to give personal attention and direct selection to the individual stalk and ear, which would be impossible in a large field.

MARVELS OF CORN CULTURE.

Thousands of practical instances could be given to show the value of improved varieties of corn. For instance, one Southern Illinois farmer, more progressive then the rest, was induced to secure enough improved seed to plant three hundred acres as a result of his study of corn in the Illinois college of agriculture.—These three hundred acres outyielded all of the other fields on his farm more than thirty bushels per acre; and, so far as could be determined, the fields of that section yielded about thirty bushels per acre. This increase in yield meant a total gain of about nine thousand bushels, which represented a cash value of about four thousand dollars for that season. As this increase did not represent an increase cost of production, the gain was pure profit.—In another case a farmer in Central Illinois became interested in improved seed corn, through the school of corn-judging in the Illinois agricultural college. He secured enough seed grown by a corn breeder, to plant eighty acres. As a result, he raised almost twenty-five bushels more per acre on this field than where the ordinary seed was planted.—The next year, over one thousand acres were planted with improved seed; and last year over seven thousand acres of improved corn from the more carefully selected seed, was grown on this farm.—In addition, there were thirty breeding fields laid out for the purpose of systematic and scientific improvements of the varieties grown at this place. In Northern Illinois the manager of a large farm became interested in the benefits of improved seed corn, with the result that last year nearly three thousand acres of improved corn was grown and several breeding fields were established.

NOT A SICK DAY SINCE.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of rheumatism, neuralgia, liver and kidney troubles and general debility." This is what B. F. Bass of Fremont, N. C. writes. Only 50c. at W. S. Dickson's, druggist.

THEY HAVE TOO MUCH MONEY.

Fifty years ago there were not as many millionaires in the United States as are now credited to the city of Pittsburg or the state of Pennsylvania. And the word "millionaire" is now a modest description of our overrich. It is the multi-millionaire, and John D. Rockefeller has achieved a step in advance, is classed as a billionaire and is reported the richest man in the world, from the Standard Oil and kindred investments, backed by extraordinary business capacity and ambition for accumulation without limit. Before the South African war Albert Beit of Kimberly was, according to an English list published in 1900, the world's only billionaire. Li Hung Chang of China stood second in the list, with $500,000,000, and Reckefeller third with $250,000,000. He has since quadrupled his possessions, and now is named as the world's only billionaire. In the English list printed in 1900 only seven others were given fortunes of over $100,000,000. Prince Elim Demidoff of Russia, $200,000,000 Cornelius Vanderbilt of New York, $125,000,000; Andrew Carnegie, $120,000,000, and William K. Vanderbilt, John Jacob Astor, William Rockefeller and William Waldorf Astor each $100,000,000. Mr. Carnegie is a richer man than he is here set down. His benefactions are now set down as rising $75,000,000.

In 1900 Lord Rothschild was credited with $75,000,000, and Alphonse Rothschild of Paris and Baron Albert Rothschild of Vienna $70,000,000 each. The English Dukes of Devonshire, Bedford, Norfolk and Buccleugh each had $50,000,000.

Alfred Krupp, gunmaker, had $45,000,000, Claus Spreckles and P. D. Armour each $40,000,000, Collis P. Huntington, George J. Gould and J. Pierpont Morgan each $35,000,000, and Marshall Field, Harold McCormick, W. L. Elkins and James J. Hill each $25,000,000, all of them ranking in wealth with Russian and Austrian princes.

Half a century ago the millionaire class was confined mainly to the princes, dukes and bankers of Europe. The American millionaire came with the captains of industry in the era of the development of railways, mining and manufacturing. Many Americans who were simply hard workers thirty years ago on a limited income have advanced to the rank of millionaires.

4% Interest On Time Deposits

Outside of Pittsburgh and a few other localities, the bank rate of interest rarely exceeds 3 per cent. The small cost of sending your money to this bank to earn 4 per cent, interest adds one-third more to your income.

$1,000 at 3 per cent. earns $30.00.
$1,000 at 4 per cent. earns $40.00.

Write to-day for Booklet No. P. —tells all about our bank and this modern method of banking—absolutely safe. We guarantee the safe delivery of all deposits sent us.

THE LEGISLATURE.

This item was written during the closing hours of the legislative session of 1903—the shortest in the history of the commonwealth since the adoption of the present constitution—and at a moment when the fate of a few important bills was trembling in the balance. It can be truthfully said that the session has been characterized by hard work and unusually harmonious action.—Some important bills have passed both houses, some of which have received the approval of the governor while others are still in his hands.

It has done good work and deserves the commendation and thanks of the taxpayers of Pennsylvania. It probably did commit a few blunders, but these are inseparable from human life, and its good deeds far outnumbered the evil that will live after it. In this work of doing right it had invaluable assistance from the governor who by the excercise of the veto power and the practice of suggesting the recall of bills containing bad grammar, superfluous statements and vicious provisions, succeeded in keeping the quantity of bad in the work of the session down to a minimum.

BIG TELEPHONE DEAL

Agreeably to the announcement made in the Republican of last week, it may be stated to-day that the Bedford-Fulton Telephone Company has acquired the plant of the Bedford County Telephone Company in Everett.—While it was known to the Republican a week ago that the deal was in progress and that it would most likely be consummated, negotiations had not gone far enough to warrant a positive statement.

The deal gives the Bedford-Fulton Telephone Company a joint interest in the line to Bedford, control of the Everett exchange and of the entire territory east of Tussey Mountain.—This arrangement guarantees to the patrons of the new company free communication with Bedford, where there are more than a hundred telephones.

At a meeting of the local company held last night a proposition was formulated and submitted to the Bell Telephone people looking to a long-distance service. This will be accomplished if possible. It would give communication with Pittsburg, Philadelphia and other large cities.—Everett Republican.

BIBLES IN FORTY TONGUES.

The Pennsylvania Bible society held its ninety-fifth annual meeting Wednesday at Philadelphia. The report of the board of managers showed that during the past year Bibles, Testaments, psalm books and extracts from the Bible, amounting to 91,647 volumes, and representing a cost of $14,638.99, were distributed in forty different languages and in raised characters for the blind.

The society keeps a copy of the Bible in every cell in the penitentiaries; supplies institutions, public and private poor families, missions, seamen and soldiers, and many others. It has fifty branches in Pennsylvania.

A JOKE ON THE DEACON

The editor of a rural newspaper was in Philadelphia during the week following the shooting of President McKinley, and noted with surprise the promptness of newspapers there to bulletin-board the hourly reports of the president's condition. He determined to adopt the idea on all important events when he should return home. Soon afterwards he was told one morning by a local physician that Deacon Jones was seriously ill. The deacon was a man of some distinction in the community; so, the editor posted a series of bulletins as follows:

10:00 a. m.—Deacon Jones no better.

11:00 a. m.—Deacon Jones has relapse.

12:30 p. m.—Deacon Jones weaker. Pulse failing.

1:00 p. m.—Deacon Jones has slight rally.

2:15 p. m.—Deacon Jones' family has been summoned.

3:10 p. m.—Deacon Jones has died and gone to Heaven.

Later in the afternoon a traveling salesman happened by, stopped to read the bulletins, and going to the bulletin board, made another report concerning the deceased. It was:

4:10 p. m.—Great excitement in Heaven. Deacon Jones has not yet arrived.—Plain Dealer.

Rhubarb is a plant which should not be neglected, but stewed regularly when fresh as a spring tonic, good for young and old. Remember to cut the rhubarb without peeling it. Season it lightly with sugar. Stew it slowly in an old fashioned porcelain pipkin. Like lettuce salad, it is one of the best and most certain remedies for the tired, worn feeling of spring that can possibly be given the family.
