

dale Tennis Club, Chicago, from experience advises all young girls who have pains and sickness peculiar to their sex, to rely on Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many beautiful young girls develop into worn, listless and hopeless women, simply because sufficient attention has not been paid to their physical development. No woman is exempt from physical weakness and periodic pain, and young girls just budding into womanhood should be carefully guided physically as well as morally.

If you know of any young lady who is sick, and needs motherly advice, ask her to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., who will give her advice free, from a source of knowledge which is un-equaled in the country. Do not hesitate about stating details which one may not like to talk about, and which are essential for a full understanding of the case.

Miss Hannah E. Mershon, Collingswood, N. J., says:

"I thought I would write and tell you that, by following your kind advice, I feel like a new person. I was always thin and delicate, and so weak that I could hardly do anything.

Menstruation was irregular. "I tried a bottle of your Vegetable Com-pound and began to feel better right away. I continued its use, and am now well and strong, and menstruate regularly. I cannot say enough for what your medicine did for me."

> How Mrs., Pinkham Helped Fannie Kumpe.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM :- I feel it is my duty to write and tell you of the benefit I have derived from your advice and the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The pains in my back and womb have all left inc, and my menstrual trouble is corrected. I am very thankful for the good advice you gave me, and I shall recommend your medicine to all who suffer from female weakness." — MISS FANNIE KUMPE, 1922 Chester St., Little Rock, Ark. (Dec. 16, 1900.)

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will cure any woman in the land who suffers from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, kidney troubles, nervous excitability, nervous prostration, and all forms of woman's special ills.

GOOD ROADS

Bural Free Delivery. Indiana is the first State to co-oper ate directly with the Postoffice Department in regard to rural delivery. The Governor has signed a bill which prevides that five per cent, of the road fund shall be set aside to keep the rural mall routes in good condition. Many routes have been discontinued during the past winter on account of the condition of the roads. It is said that the policy of the department will be to require had roads to be repaired as soon as possible, after which a year's notice will be given of the improvements required in order to maintain the routes. Greater care will in future be excreised in initiating routes. so as to make sure that when once started they may not have to be discontinued. In one section recently twen ty-seven out of thirty-five applications for rural delivery routes were rejected on account of the quality of the roads. The Pestmaster-General has also db recred that no more routes are to be established over rouds that require the payment of turnpike tolls by the deparament, and that routes already estabilshed over such roads will be dis continued upon the expiration of the existing contracts. This will probably have the effect c" causing other States to follow the example of New Jersey, which has in the last few years through purchase by State or countles transformed most of its tell ronds into free highways. It has been claimed by mony that instead of abandoning routes on account of the character or quality of the roads the General Government should, under the authority given to Congress in the Constitution, improve and maintain these roads as post roads. These critles do not seem to realize that, as it is the intention to extend rural delivery over the entire country as rapidly as possible, this would soon huply that the Postoffice Department would have

o maintain practically all roads, as towns, countles and States would soon cense to do for themselves what they could get done for them without direct. the General Government should bear its share of the cost of developing the road system of this country into a coudition similar to that of the great Eumanuer that would tend not to paralyze but to stimulate local efforts either through the building of object lesson roads in all parts of the country, or, better, through co-operation with Pa., States or counties as provided for in the Brownlow hill, to the extent at

COMMERCIAL REVIEW. Gereral Trads Conditions.

R. G. Dun & Company's "Weekly Review of Trade" says:---

Unrest in the ranks of labor has increased rather than abated since May I, when difficulties of this sort usually culminate. No single struggle of great magnitude is in progress, but the frequency of small strikes is disturbing, and in the aggregate a large force is idle, while important industrial under-takings are checked. Prices of com-modifies declined slightly during April Dun's index number falling from $99.

Dun's index number tailing from $99. 267 to $68.561. A year ago the highest point of recent years was touched at $to2.280. Railway carnings in April were 13.4 per cent. larger than in last year and 28.7 per cent. above 1001. Textile manufacturers at the East have not improved their position dur-ing the past week. Jobbers are buying only small quantities, exercising a dis-crimination that indicates dull markets crimination that indicates dull markets elsewhere, and salesmen are being with drawn from the road. A Judge's Experience In a Treadmill,

An amusing story is told of a certain well-known judge who, when inspecting the prison of an assize town, expressed a wish to try the treadmill, "to see what the punishment is like." Such a wish was, of course, law, and the judg quickly found himself treading a mea ure which, however novel and exhila rating at first, soon became a terribl burden to fourteen stone of solid and untrained flesh.

ill-luck would have it, his nex neighbor on the mill was a burgla whom the judge had sentenced the da before, to "eighteen months' hard. "Stop, let me off" cried the ju as he dragged one weary leg after th other up the endless staircase; but was impossible, for the terrible machin could not be stopped for at least ter mutes.

State have compiled with the law, and have commenced read improvement, the results of which are already quite remarkable. During the past two years 138 miles of road have been practically completed. The change in conditions of travel is becoming fully appreciated throughout the State, and there is pressure each year for increase of the appropriations. One very important result is the training given town officials in the art of road construction and repair, so that old, worthless methods are being given up, and the towns are getting more for their money. In securing the co-operation of practically all the towns and in arousing general interest in road improvement throughout the State, the Connecticut plan seems to have surpassed the State or county method as practiced, say in Massachusetts and in New Jersey. The weak point of the Connecticut system has been the lack of connection between the improved sections of road. but this fault is disappearing with the new constructions made year by year.

There is nothing new in principle in the bill recently introduced in Congress by Colonel Brownlow, of Tennessee.

providing for National aid of a more extensive and substantial character. It is proposed that the Government shall no longer confine its assistance to educational work; that it shall furnish not only information and supervision.

but financial assistance. Under cerinin limitations the National Government will co-operate with States and countles in the improvement of the common roads, each assuming a certain proportion of the expense. The large fund which Congress may appropriate for this work will be divided among the States in proportion to population. But no State can secure its share except by complying with the conditions prescribed, the chief of which is that it shall raise a like sum for the same purpose. In-stend of discouraging State effort, this should greatly stimulate it. Again, if a State takes no action looking to the acceptance of the Government's proffered help, the individual counties may do so, and this again will create a rivalry among the counties
