CLAY PARK, Three Springs Pa.

Sale Register.

Saturday, June 20.—W. K. Spear, executor, will sell on the premises one mile south of Salvia the Mansion farm of the late James Minniek, deceased, containing 102 acres, more or less about 90 acres cleared and well fenced; also a house and lot adjoining farm. Sale begins at 10 o'clock.

As Mr. and Mrs. William Mellott of the corner—accompanied by Miss Mary Crouse were on their way to the salvation meeting on Sunday morning the yoke of the harness was broke letting the tongue fall to the ground.—As a means of stopping the horses Mr. Mellott directed them against a fence with so much force that he and his wife were thrown from the carriage and both were considerably bruised.

Teachers Wanted.

We need at once a few more teachers, both experienced and inexperienced. We have more calls this year than ever before. Schools and colleges supplied with competent teachers free of cost. Address with stamp, American Teachers' Association, J. L. Graham, LL. D., Mgr. Memphis, Tenn.

After a laborious search of the Scripture for a justification of the tobacco habit, a subscriber of the Colon Express, who started in with the first chapter of Genesis but reached the last chapter of Revelation without finding anything worthy of note, was swaying on the verge of despair, when in the middle of the eleventh verse, at the second clause, he paused, read twice, slapped his leg, took a fresh chew and read aloud: "He that is filthy let him be filthy still."

A record not often equalled by school children has been achieved by J. Elliott Trego, a member of this year's graduating class in Tyrone. Starting to kindergarten at the age of 4 and passing two years later into the public schools, he has been a pupil eleven years, and in that time has never missed five minutes from school, never being absent or tardy, besides doing excellent work in all studies.

Board will meet at Webster Mills on above hour and date.

Some eastern capitalists have been prospecting in this county for minerals during the past few weeks. They sent a New York Drilling Company here who put down a 100-foot hole on C. W. Lawyer's farm, and then went down to Webster Mills and bored two holes in the Knob. This seemed to satisfy them, for last Saturday morning they packed up their kit, took it to Mercersburg and shipped it to the northern part of the State. Inasmuch as the parties concerned neglected to come in and tell us whether success or failure attended their investigations, we cannot satisfy the curiosity of our readers, and will leave them to do as we are doing—guess.

The editor of the country paper that wrote the following was intended for a larger field in which to operate. "A woman has written that a kiss on the forehead denotes intellect." This may be true but the man who would waste his time kissing a woman's forehead when she has the rest of her face with her, hasn't any intellect worthy of mention.

H. M. Whiteside of Baltimore, aged 19, and R. L. Dunphy aged 23 of Towson, Md., were drowned in the canal about 200 yards west of Hancock a few days ago. They had been playing base ball and becoming very warm went into the canal to wade around until they would cool off. Mr. Dunphy got beyond his depth and Mr. Whiteside tried to rescue him:—Neither could swim; both drowned. They were members of one of the B. & O. engineer corps.
