Arthur—Miss Smarte called me a lobster last night; at least, she insinuated that I was.

Frank—I think you must have been mistaken. I can't believe she'd do such a thing as that.

Arthur—Well, then, what did she mean by answering me as she did? I said I never was so happy as when I was in the water, and she said: "Naturally." What did that mean, I should like to know, if it wasn't that I was a lobster?

THE RACE FOR AMERICA'S CUP.

AMERICA'S CUP, the Blue Ribbon of the Sea, has inspired British yachtsmen to put forth their mightiest efforts ever since it was captured from them by the victorious America half a century ago.

It is estimated that the expense of his effort to get the cup in 1890 at $800,000. That, however, included $400,000 which he paid to Count Florio, of Italy, for the fine yacht which the Count called the Aegusa.

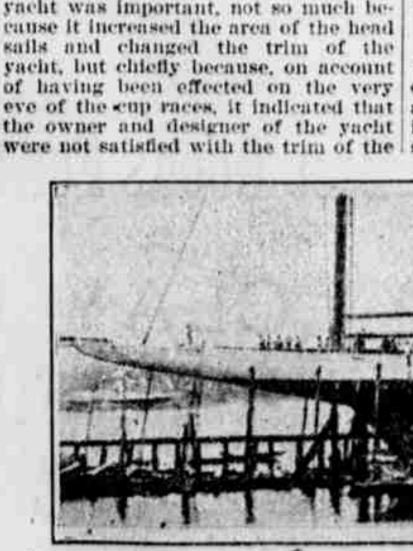

crossed the Atlantic, would not have excited comment, but occurring as it did just before the cup races, it was a tacit admission on the part of her owner and designer that the yacht was not fast enough.

as the largest item in the cost of running the steam yacht Erin, for, say, the two months she actually is in service in connection with the races.

While Sir Thomas Lipton repeatedly expressed his confidence in Shamrock III's ability to win back the America's Cup, it appeared that his confidence was not shared by those who were actively concerned in the management of the Shamrocks.

So radical a change in the rig of the yacht was important, not so much because it increased the area of the head sails and changed the trim of the yacht, but chiefly because, on account of having been effected on the very eve of the cup races, it indicated that the owner and designer of the yacht were not satisfied with the trim of the challenger and wanted to make last-minute improvements on the sail plan as originally designed. Such a change, if it had been made before the yacht shall be useful for cruising purposes after racing contests, is as far off as ever.
