

GRAVES OF A HOUSEHOLD.

FELICIA DOROTHEA HEMANS.

They grew in beauty side by side, They filled our home with glee; Their graves are severed far and wide By mount and stream and sea. The same fond mother bent at night O'er each fair sleeping brow; be had each folded flower in sight-Where are those dreamers now?

One 'mid the forests of the West, By a dark stream is laid; The Indian knows his place of rest, Far in the cedar shade. The sea, the blue, lone sea, hath one— He lies where pearls lie deep; He was the loved of all, yet none O'er his low bed may weep.

One sleeps where southern vines are dressed Above the noble slain; He wrapped his colors round his breast On a blood-red field of Spain. And one-o'er her the myrtle showers Its leaves, by soft winds fanned; She faded, 'mid Italian flowers, The last of that bright band. And, parted thus, they rest who playe1

I stepped aboard, and my heart leaped

And, parted thus, they rest who play Boueath the same green tree, Whose voices mingled as they prayed Around one parent-knep! They that with smiles lit up the hall, And cheered with song the hearth; Alas for love, if thou wert all, And naught beyond, O earth!

and, all of them inmates of the Sail- the chains. Well, sirs, I tell you my NOK, HE conversation had turned | mutton,' whispered one, and we sat upon "thirst." Perhaps the still there and stared. o subject was not entirely "We had orders to board the brig. X out of place, although the but I'll be blamed if I could climb that NON half dozen ancient marin- gangway and step over that silent sitrs assembled in the little back parlor | ting figure, so we slipped down to the of an old inn at Livingston, Staten Ini- bow and hauled ourselves on deck by ors' Snug Harbor, had been doing their knees shook (I had two of 'em then) as best to banish thirst for hours past. "Talk 'bout thirst," growled old Sam into my mouth as half a hundred rats Padler, who is familiarly known scampered along the deck. You'll unaround around the Sallors' Home as derstand in a minute, gen'lemen, why "Stumpy"-perhaps because he is near- I look upon any man as ain't an honest ty as broad as he is long or perhaps on thirst on him as akin to one o' them account of his wooden leg, on which there varmint, he repeatedly knocks the ashes from his pipe. "You fellers ain't no call to was four dead men, leastways as much talk 'bout thirst," said Stumpy. "I as the rats and the sun had left of know what it means, for ain't I seed 'em, lyin' around the for'ard hatch. In a hull ship's crew lyin' stiff and dead the galley the Malay cock lay dead. for want of a drop o' water? Yes, with one hand clutchin' at his shaggy sirs. It tecks me to talk 'bout thirst. black hair and the other with his long I tell you, gen'lemen, a man as ain't no finger nails buried in the flesh of his thirst is a rat, that's what hels." After throat. Close by Ly all that was left whetting our appetites in this senten- of the cabin boy. His head and shoultious manner Stumpy lapsed into pro- ders was inside an overturned cask, found silence. Those who would profit by the old out, and in his stiff ingers he grasped sea dog's anecdotes must follow a cer- a tin drinking cup. tain fixed formula. They must sit in solemn silence until the old salt has have kept a crew of ten or fifteen men overhauled his thinking tackle, unrav- on full rations for a month. There was eled and straightened out his yarn, easks of salt beef and rice and flour knocked out his pipe upon his leg, spit and plenty of fuel for the galley fire, three times, cut himself a new chew of The ship was sound. Not a sail split tobacco, and shut his eyes for the or a halyard started. Masts and spars space of a few moments. Then he all in apple pie order. Everything sails in and nothing will stop him. snug an taut. The wheel and rudder Should there be the slightest interrup- perfect. Not a thing the matter with tion to these proceedings he rises, the ship. Not a sign of mutiny or seizes his cane, glares around angrily. murder. What was the meating of the and stalks out of the room, pounding mystery? We soon found out. Thirst, the bare boards with the thump of his gentlemen. Thirst had killed the enwooden leg.

Conditions being duly observed, the night when some one had innocently board to the sharks. There was not broached the subject of "thirst," Stumpy cheerfully took up the thread brig. c? his yarn and went full steam ahead.

"I was mate on the steamship Glen- youse fellows, when you polish off a earn early in the year 1884," he said. "We were carrying a cargo mostly iron boy crawling around into an upturned and bound for Shanghai, bein' in the cask trying in his lying agony to ten trade. We'd had a roughish time scrape a drop from its dry sides with of it in the Bay o' Biscay and been his tin mug. Thick o' that colored shook up some in the Mediterranean. cook tearin' off the hair from his head slipped through the Suez Canal and and the flesh off his throat in his frenreached about seventy-three east lon- zy for a drink. Think o' that skipper gitude without anything worth calling with his last bit o' strength wavin' a an adventure, when one day, while sheet from the gangway to a passin' keeping a sharp lookout for shoals ship, held up by hope for maybe au ahead, for we wuz bearing down upon hour or so, then, as she went on her that chain of coral reefs called the Malvine Islands, which seem to have feeble signal of distress. fallin' back

BENEFIT

Old Love Letters. There is nothing that makes a man feel so sore and aggrieved as a wife's old love affairs, when, in reality, he black gown of some soft wool or slik should be proud of her popularity, could have no handsomer trimming and consider it a compliment to his than "relief crochet" lace. own good taste that she should have been admired; and yet the fact is that not one man in a thousand can stand the mention of a wife's old sweethearts with any degree of amiability. contrary, it generally has about the that the flaunting red flag has on the gentleman with horns who makes things lively in the Spanish arena. An old faded photograph, a bundle tears, has created a panic in many an otherwise happy home. A man always wants to feel that the woman of his choice has never loved own precious self, and that is the rea- prefer to cut the flowers out himself son that he asks about five thousand and ninety-eight times during a three gin, weeks' courtship; "Did you never realty love any other man?" And if you be wise and want him very badly, you will never make any incriminating admissions. Never, no never, become confidential and show a husband old love letters. In the first place, it is not exactly honorable, because when a man offers terial is gathered in a band at the his love to a woman he pays her the highest compliment in his power; therefore, if he has really loved her, the front. A pointed collar of yellow and she could not return his love, a regard for his feelings and a proper of the waist. appreciation of the compliments im plied in singling her out for his love, "Well, sirs, the first th'ar as we find should make her keep inviolate any expression of love. If she has merely trifled, it is additional reason for secreey.

Then, too, a more self-interested motive should control her and keep the matter secret. A husband is rarely favorably in-may have been before he came on the match the skirt. his tongue was swollen and sticking scene. He has always a sort of injured feeling whenever his name is mentioned, and while he may not say "There was food enough around to very much, yet the fact remains that he does feel injured. So it is better for a woman to forget .- New Haven

Register.

Fresh Air and Exercise.

Before putting on your clothing slip on a loose gown and take a few breath ing exercises. First open a window and stand near it, being careful to avoid a draught. Draw in ten full deep, long breaths, inhaling through the lips. Place the tips of the fingers on the chest and note that it rises to tire crew, except such, maybe, as had its full capacity of expansion as the ended their agonies by jumping overair is being drawn in and sinks inward as far as possible as the air is being one single drop of water aboard that exhaled. Ten inhalations will be sufficient to put you in good form and "Not a drop of water! 'Think of that, good humor, but twenty will be twice ns beneficial. This will start the blood lemonade. 'Think o' that little cabin pulsating through the body and you will feel a warm glow the moment you > have censed. To dress properly for housework it is not necessary to diseard your stays. Stays, if worn rightly, are not injurious, and if not worn properly should never be worn at all. They should be toose. By this I do not mean merely comfortable, but roomy, so that you can almost turn them completely about the torso. They should be low in the bust and should be held down by gar-

> > Don't Scold Children.

let her resolve not to scold them .- In-

Shopping Bags Grow Larger.

shades.

The jaunty wrist bag is being grad-

These bags are commodious, some

It is the fad to have one's mo

This new mace is called "relief crochet," and is exceedingly handsome It is made of a beautiful quality of rochet linen or silk thread, and is done in roll stitch. Some of the most attractive insertions are made on the bias. For trimming, the waist and skirt medallions should be crocheted.

This work will not tax the eyes, like the old-fashioned thread work, and the wiman who wishes to have an elegant

Latest Fad in Buttons.

The woman who can embroider has the advantage over her sister who is not handy with the needle. To give to say nothing of equanimity. On the a smart touch to her shirt waists she can embroider buttons for trimming. same soothing effect on his temper to take the place of hand-painted sets whose place they have usurned.

A pretty idea for a white slik or wool waist is to have buttons to match embroidered in violets or forget-meof old letters, faded and suspicious of nots. To accomplish this, have a square of the waist material stamped. then stretch it across the embroidery frame and proceed to embroider each flower separately. The failor who is and will never love any one but his to cover the buttons will doubtless so that there will be plenty of mar-

White Gauze Waist,

A white liberty gauze waist has sleeves tucked in wide horizontal tucks from the shoulder to below the elbow. The sleeve gradually widens from the top, and is quite voluminous where the tucks cease. The loose mawrist. The waist is not tucked, but is laid in several wide box pleats in lace falls low over the front and back

A Brown Walking Coat.

A brown collenne walking gown had a full skirt with four graduated tucks attached to the skirt with fagoting. a line of the fagoting heading the wide hem. The skirit was shirted in two groups, one about six inches below the belt, and the other about the same distance above the first tuck. The waist clined towards a man who has ever had a collar and pointed yoke of fagotmade love to his wife, even though it ing and two groups of shirring to

According to Face Lines.

A long oval face is shortened and improved by a square opening at the neck, a very round face by the pointed opening, while a face with the nose a little too prominent is greatly inproved by the circular opening, and with its tendency to broaden out vogue.

DRETTY P TO WEAR Pink brocade is used for a beautiful new petticoat. Multese lace insertions are lovely in Empire nightgowns. Tucking of the most minute fort figures in the lovellest creations. Royal blue and white striped silk makes a decidedly smart daytime petticont. Dotted materials, either ombre and in contrast, are among the catchy materials noticed.

The new laces and nets for evening gowns are exquisite with gold and sliver spangled effects very prominent, Chinchilla, sable, baby iamb and the air filled with sunshine that pours splendid novelty, mole, are all, with into a seventh floor apartment. In a ermine, in the first rank of fashion's word, if housework

HOUSEHOLD . . . * * * * MATTELS Cups For Salad Dressing.

. he ingenious woman has found new use for her old-fashioned and odd sups. They have long been good for pothing in particular on account of their large size and because they have 10 handles. Yet these big cups are exactly the shape of many of the mayunalse diches, and may be used to idvantage for this purpose. With the preaching of the doctrines of sainds by the apostles of good health, there aas been an increasing use of lettuce. selery, tomatoes, cucumbers and vegeables of different kinds served coud with dressings. In consequence the nayonnaise cup has become a staple article of table service. Many people prefer the French dressing upon the table, instead of dressing the individtal salad beforehand. The dishes made for holding dressing are to be found n different shapes. Some are oblong. ike small sauce boats, with a flat, ather than a looped, handle at the and. Others are round, like cups .-Pittsburg Dispatch.

New in Spoons.

Despite the many styles of individand spoons now in use, inventors are continually on the alert to supply some particular need or convenience. A lovel housewife's assistant is the neasuring spoon, like the ordinary teaspoon in size, but marked in the botom of the bowl with lines and figures to guide her in proportioning ingrelients for cooking mixtures, says the New York Sun. The warning labels. me-half, one-quarter, one-eighth spoon-'ul, are affixed just as on a measuring zlass. The spoon is of sterling use in the making of gravies, of puddings, cakes, salads or any dishes of a nature 'equiring exactness in the seasoning. The measuring spoon is to be had n grades to suit all purposes. This s the case, too, with the newly derised baby's spoon, which is a very practical improvement on the original The bowl of the baby's speen is shaped is usual, but the handle is curved backward and welded to the end of the bowl, forming a loop like the loop in the handle of a ring. The looped handle is just big enough for five small fingers to grasp, and a little fellow making first attempts to feed himself can get along much better with a spoon of this sort than one of ordinary pattern. Then there is a new model mustache spoon, a special ice cream spoon and an egg spoon for lifting ponched or fried eggs from the dish. They fill the manifest need, showing the possibilities for additions to the spoon family, notwithstanding the enormous varicty of styles and shapes already in USC.

The Broom Means Beauty.

If she only knew it, that little woman who grumbles so at having her own housework to do, has an opportunity for which her wealthy neighbor, who drives under the window in a victoria, is paying a fortune. Nothing but pure unadulterated mismanagement has brought her to the gingham apron and the tired back. Any woman who owns a sunny apartment and a broom can be as healthy, as lithe of figure and ruddy of cheek, as gay of heart and light of step as the woman who pays the health curist and the beauty doctor $5 a treatment. There is no tonic like a dust cloth and no stimulant like a broom. There is no air better than the early morning is eightle there is nothing more invigorating. nothing which will produce curves and a good complexion so rapidly. Every housewife who wishes to be charming should begin her day with good, cold sponge bath and a careful tollette. They are more necessary to her than to the ballroom beauty. A cold sponge bath is better than a cold plunge. It is the standby of the athlete and the constant subject of preaching on the part of the health teachers. Take it quickly and vigorously, rubbing afterward with a hard. coarse towel until every part of the face and body is glowing. You will rub away the cobwebs and the horrible dread of entering the kitchen that rests upon most women like the raven on the bust of Pallas. New vitality will seem to have entered into your ording to a leading modiste, again to Embs. You will have the energy to be first favorite, the habit back that finish your tollette carefully, - Pitts-

New York City,-Deep yoke collars with softly bloused walsts are exceed ingly charming and 're to be noted among the best designs of the seasor.

smart May Manton model Luis is graceful and attractive and is well suited to all the fashionable coft and pliable materials, but is shown in champagne colored veiling with the roke of cream Venise lace, and the ruchings and crush belt of soft taffeta in the same shade as the gown. The ruches are the new ones that are pinked at their edges, and with the broad shouldered yoke, give just the vogue. When desired the sleeves can be made long by the addition of deep uffs.

The lining for the waist is smoothly

The Season's Hats. Hats are being made of materials used in street gowns. These are usually faced with velvet of the same color. Zibelines and all kinds of shaggy and fuzzy materials are used.

Green Stones.

Green stones are a fancy of the monent. Emeralds are at a prohibitive price, but olivines and peridots make a pleasing and certainly cheap substitute.

EL

sp

9rf

f tl

, mi

del hi Dal

its.

) of 1 in

'ed og id

e, is ir

f , la

The Kilted Skirt.

Skirts for very stylish walking cos tumes are kilted all around, except the centre front gore, in rather broad kilts about two inches wide

The "Tailor-Made."

A great effort is being made to bring into popularity the perfectly plain, tight-fitting tailor-fnade, worn so much several years ago.

Swiss Satin Belts.

Pretty Swiss shaped satin belts, nar-row at the sides and forming a deep point back and front, are the fashion of the moment

House Jacket.

House jackets that combine tastefuiness with utility are among the essentials of the satisfactory wardrobe. quaint old-time effect so much in This May Manton one is eminently, simple at the same time that it conforms to these requirements and is sulted to a variety of materials. As shown it is made of rose-colored eiitted and makes the foundation for der-down flannel with the bands of silk, but all flannels and such lighter weight fabrics as cashmere, albatross shaped yoke is separate and is ar- and the like are appropriate for the ranged over the waist, drooping well warmer jackets, all pretty cottons for bean planted there by Providence for and dying of destair. the express purpose of knocking the bottoms out of ships, we sights a brig. thirst is. Me, who boarded that Porjust nor ard of our course.

A Late Design by May Manton.

Well, sirs, I reckon we wuz about five degrees north of the equator, and Every water cask aboard her was dry, making the whole ship like a fryin' he could cover all the shadder he'd got ture from what had once been wet. wind stirrin', and not a ripple on the or the sharks got 'em. water; but a swell, which seemed like heavy in its sleep.

"Brigs with all sails set and flappin'. in the doldrums, but there was some- but there was no sextant, no chronomfor an ill mannered tramp, and if the o' decided that the brig must 'a' been than what they was in, and Lord aboard, knows that wuz hot enough.

miles astern, when the skipper called | ing for it but to scuttle her. We took me on to the bridge and says: 'Mr. her stores, sails and cordage, her pa-Padler,' he says, 'take a squint at that pers and all else necessary, to turn brig through my glass. Blame me if I over to the Portuguese Consul at don't think there's sutthing wrong Singapore, and he advertised her; but with her.'

says I, 'an' there ain't a soul stirring ghastly crew, we laid all the bodies aboard, as I can see,

"Well,' he says, 'that settles it. I'm going to take a stretch off our course and see what's her little game.'

"Half an hour after we ran as close alongside as the swell would allow. The rats went with her. and we hails her; but all was as silent as the grave. Give yer my word, I felt sort o' creepy all over when the as solemnly as if it were really a part captain orders me to get the crew of of the burial service, he says, 'And the cutter together and board her. As may the good Lord save us an from the we made for her starboard gangway we hollered for all we wuz worth, but our cries did nothing but scare a school o' sharks which were cruising round and round the big, like caged lions at loodin' time.

""Try her port side!" yelled the capso we pulled under her stern, and enough we found the port gangway open. There, a sitting on the deck, his legs danglin' over the side, wus a man. His back was restin' at a barrel, and from his right and, which lay upon the deck, reamed a long while sheet or table-oth, or sutthing like that. "'Aboy there!' I hollered, but he at stir an inch, and one o' the cut-s crew he takes a slap at him with car. A swarm o' files bused into the , and every man in our boat seemed signal of distress, fallin' back "Thirst! It takes me to tell yez what tuguese brig, the Santa Maria, in the short. Indian Ocean, nearly thirty years ago. the sun teaming straight down on us. Every butt had been upset and drained to the last drop. Some of the staves pan, and it was no use wishin' a man's had been gnawed by human teeth in shadder might never grow no less, for the hope of extracting a little moiswith the soles of his feet. It was a They knowed what thirst was, they scorcher. There was not a ca, ful o' did, on the Santa Maria. Then the rats "Well, sirs, we never knew for sure as if the sea waz breathin' hard and how the Portuguese craft came to be in such a plight. We examined her papers and found she had cleared rockin' broadside on, and aimlessly on from Goa some months before for a Dispatch, the swell, ain't such uncommon sights trading trip along the coast of India, thing uncanny about that ere craft as eter, and no signal flags aboard. There kept all eyes bent on her as we passed was no log neither; but besides the her about four miles off on our port ship's papers, in the dispatch box, was how. To begin with she didn't show seventeen pebbles, and we took these no colors, and when we got no answer to mean one for each day of watching ing is a sign of weakness. It indicates to our signals the captain swore at her and waiting and thirsting. We sort that the person who has it has not mastered herself and that she knows code had had cuss words in it he might blown off the coast in a hurricane and not how to rule others. have run up flags telling her and all lost its bearings. Blown out o' sight The scolding parent is usually an aboard of her to go to a warmer place o' land, while waiting to take water unreasonable being, irritable, impulsive, quick-tempered, hot-headed. She "The law says as you mayn't leave a Judges first and calls for the evidence "Well, sirs, we'd left her maybe two vessel adrift, and so there wuz nothafterward. She acts as if her little sons and daughters should, even be fore she instructs them, distinguish right from wrong, and should, even before they have seen anything of life, have the knowledge than can come nothing ever came of it so far as I only from experience. 'She ain't shipshape, for sartain.' heard. As for the brig herself and her Her first care in the correction of in the cabin with the Portuguese flag her give no order that she does not over 'em. The captain read the burial intend to enforce. Let her tell her children to do a thing only once, and service, then the carpenter bored the vessel's bottom full of holes. As we sailed away she slowly settled down. dianapolis News,

"And, gentlemen, afore we locked the cabin door, the captain, he says, just nally supplanted by shopping bags which are assuming larger proportions. The latter come in walrus and horrors of thirst,' he says. English morocco in all colors, but at present black and red are the favorite

"And so say L"-New York Times.

A Mountain of Alum.

In China, about twelve miles from the village of Lion Chek, there is r mountain of alum, which, in addition to being a natural curiosity, is a source of wealth for the inhabitants of the of wealth for the inhabitants of the country, who dig from it yearly tons of alum. The mountain is not less than ten miles in circumference at its base, and has a beight of nearly 2000 feet. The alum is obtained by quarrying large blocks of stone, which are first heated in great furnaces and then in vats filled with bolling water. The slum crystillizes and forms a lay-cr about six inches in thickness. This layer is subsequently brokes up into blocks weighing about ten pounds ters sewed into the base of the front. favor. In this way they will serve as a sup-

Fancy waistconts are among the new port for the skirts. The skirts themfashions this season, made of dark or selves should be light and neat and bright colors and just on the lines of The bodice should be grace a man's walstcoat. fully and comfortably low at the White undersleeves made of rows of throat, thus giving the neck an opportunity to develop. But the most impleated crepe lisse is one of the smartest sleeve finishes of the season, but portant item of your morning tollette is very perishable. is the care and arrangement of the hair. Nothing so fascinates or disgusts Indian bead belts with an ornamental enameled sash pin in the back and ofa man as a woman's hair. Curl paten an enameled buckle in front to pers will drive the most faithful Amermatch are one of fashion's latest fauican husband to the club, while curls will lure him wherever they may go. cles. Give the hair at least twenty strokes

A pocketbook puff box, just the right with a stiff brush every morning to size for carrying in a purse, and with make it silky and pliant, then arrange a mirror in the lid, is new and would it neatly and becomingly .- Pittsburg fill a vacant spot in the Christmas stocking.

The inverted pleat skirt back is, ac-The mother who has acquired the babit of scolding her children thereby has had precedence all summer being Lurg Dispatch, shows that she is not competent to on the wane. train them in obedience. For scold-

Besides a black walking costume of cloth or some of the new black dress goods, one must have a black gown for evening wear. This may be of lace, chiffon, mousselline de sole or of rich black satin of the Duchesse kind, which may be worn plain or "cloud ed" with black spangled net or billows of a "dewdrop" tulle.

Great Possibilities of the Future Egypt is not as large as New Mexico, only river, the Nile, 5,000 000 acres are under cultivation, and this area is bethis habit is to control herself. Let tion of the great dam at Assonan, built cover with rice and steam one hour; by the British Government. Along the serve with err sauce Rio Grande, the Nile of New Mexico, only 250,000 acres are under cultiva tion, counting in the irrigated land along the tributary to the Rio Grande, or only one-twenty-fifth of the area under caltivation along the Nile. This will give an idea of the magnitude of the possible development of New Mexico by the building of storage reservoirs. There is no reason in the world why New Mexico should not eventually support a population of 10,000,000 people .- Santa Fe New Mexican, of them having as many as ten compartments. The shape known as "The Flatiron" is the latest and most popu-Near the Prussian town of Magdeburg lies the little village of Strobeck which has earned for itself an inter lar. It takes its name from its resen blance to the useful laundry article esting celebrity. The village contain 1200 inhabitants, who are one and all Instead of a snap catch, it folds like chess players. They may be said to a pocket case. Some of the newest bags have braided leather handles. learn the game in their cradles, for ng the first lessons taught to a child by its parents are the moves in chess, and the first playthings its regram, in either silver or gold, on the face of the bag.-New York Press.

A Chess Town.

ceives are chessmen. The smallest children are to be seen in their play-Revival of Creeheting Art. The thrifty woman who enjoys cro-cheting may improve her time during the winter evenings by making lace time sitting quietly together with a chessboard before them gravely con ag the moves, and in the evening the old p ing for her next opla wet to play their fa-

C. . RECIPES . .

Tripe with Bacon-Cut slices of hacon in shreds lengthwise and toss in a hot blazer until crisp; remove bacon; wipe pickled trips and cut in unlform pleces; sprinkle with salt and pepper, roll in corn meal, and saute in bacon fat until a rich brown; serve with the crisp bacon.

Salmon Loaf-Butter a bread pan: line it with warm steamed rice sea-It is even more arid, and yet, along its soned with salt; fill the centre with cold cooked salmon, flaked, and seasoned with salt and pepper, a little ing greatly augmented by the comple- | femon juice and a grating of nutmeg; serve with egg sauce.

Tartar Sauce-One teaspoon vinegar, oue teaspoon lemon juice, three-quarter tablespoon Worcestershire sauce. one-third cup butter. Mix vinegar. lemon julce, salt and Worcestershire sauce in a small bowl and heat over hot water. Brown the butter in an emelet pail and strain into first mixture.

Spiced Gems-Beat the whites of four eggs to a stiff froth, then sift over gradually half a cup of grannlated sugar; mix and sift over half a cup of flour, half a teaspoonful of cream of tartar, one teaspoonful of cinnamon; fill small greased gem paus. bake in a quick oven fifteen minutes, when cold ice the top.

Bearnaise Sauce-Beat yolks of three eggs until thick; add three tablespoon fuls of oil, three tablespoonfuls of hot water, and a pinch of salt; put the bowl in a pan of bolling water and stir over the fire until the eggs thickon; remove; add one tenspoonful of terragon vinegar and a dash of pepper: stand aside until cold, and serve with brolled meats and chops.

The Pope is the head of over 250,000, 600 human beings, or nearly one-set such of the population of the global full and can be made with the puffs backs and under-arm gores and is only or finished with cuffs that are shapely without being tight. The neck shaped to extend over the hands. The is finished with a flat band and the iraped belt, or girdle, is shaped to fit right front laps over the left to close the figure and is closed at the back, in double-breasted style. The sleeves are wide, in bell shape, with only us is the waist.

The quantity of material required slight fullness at the shoulders. for the medium size is four yards The quantity of material required for the medium size is three and onetwenty-one inches wide, three and onefourth yards twenty-seven inches wide, quarter yards twenty-seven inches or two yards forty-four inches wide wide, or one and three-quarter yards with one and three-eighth yards of all

The Tippet.

It is evident that the short tippet. tied or rather folded over at the throat is to be a favorite form of the fur zeck-piece this winter. In broadtail, squirrel, ermine, and all flat furs these 'ippets are very good.

over lace for yoke collar and cuffs.

A Styllah Glove.

The smart street glove of the seaso s a stylish lightweight cape, chevette or lambskin, with two pearl dasps or buttons, without seams on werseams, and with fine embrordered 5. ints.

Conduror Walsta. A fancy white corduror with the pile out out in an effective block design is smoong the noveliles in wash walsta.

wide, with one yard of

