COMMERCIAL REVIEW.

R. G. Dun & Co. says:

"Reports of increased trade are received from a few favored points, but the nation as a whole has not improved its commercial position during the past week, insofar as current distribution of merchandise or manufacturing activities are concerned. Prospects for the future have improved somewhat, however, on account of the progress made in agriculture. Unless the crops suffer an unusual setback hereafter it should be a good year for the farms, and all other industries will fee the stimu-lus. Lake traffic is seriously inter-rupted by the strike, but otherwise the labor situation is not darming Leading branches of manufacture are extremely quiet, the recent slight gain in iron and steel having disappeared and transporting interests are not equaling last year's results, railway earnings thus far available (or May showing a decrease of 6.6 per cent. "The only evidence of improvement in the primary market for cotton goods has been furnished by export ers, and the new business was only accomplished by further concessions in prices. Buyers of woolen and worsted men's wear have shown more interest, fairly numerous supplemen-Tary orders being placed. "Failures this week numbered 236 in the United States, against for last year, and 12 in Canada, compared with 14 a year ago." "Bradstreet's" says: "Wheat, in

UTILIZING THE SUN'S RAYS. Cheap Fuel Used by Residents of Southern California. The residents of Southern Califor nia have gone into partnership with the sun. There the sun is more plen tiful than coal, and so they put the former to work, utilizing the heat rays for many purposes, one of which is known as the "solar water heater."

By the plan they have adopted they make the sun heat the water in the kitchens and bathrooms in the houses and for other domestic purposes. California and other states where the sun may be depended on the item of fuel is entirely eliminated, and how ever cheap fuel may be, no fuel is cheaper than the sun.

The domestic arrangement for keeping water hot at all hours of the day or night is effected by inserting in the roof a solar heater, consisting of a number of mirrors reflecting the sun's rays, so that the heat is concentrated upon the water in metallic troughs which absorb the heat rays and soon bring the water to a nearly boiling temperature.

Value of Eggs as Food.

The more thoroughly an egg has been cooked the more severe is the labor demanded of the stomach. 11 we would get from this article of food its utmost value it should be eater either raw or underdone. Hard-boiled eggs are suggestive of picnics and dyspepsia. Raw eggs is a splendid stimulant when one is exhausted from any cause whatever. It is by no means unpalatable when eaten with salt, pepper and a dash of vinegar. For weakly children raw eggs beaten with milk make a first class food. The mix ture may be sweetened with sugar. and it is best to give it in small quantitles at short intervals. The flavor is improved by adding port wine. Ontablespoonful of wine will suffice for one pint of the mixture. The formula would run: Two raw eggs, one tablespoonful of wine and sufficient mill: to make one pint.

FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO YOUNG GIRLS.

All young girls at this period of life are earnestly invited to write Mrs. Pinkham for advice; she has guided in a motherly way hundreds of young women; her advice is freely and chcerfully given, and her address is Lynn, Mass.

Judging from the letters she is receiving from so many young girls Mrs. Pinkham believes that our girls are often pushed altogether, too near the limit of their endurance nowadays in our public schools and seminaries.

Nothing is allowed to interfere with studies, the girl must be pushed to the front and graduated with honor; often physical collapse follows, and it takes years to recover the lost vitality,—often it is neves recovered.

A Young Chicago Girl Saved from Despair.

"DEAR MRS. PINKRAM: - I wish to thank you for the help and benefit I have received through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. When I was about seventeen years old I suddenly seemed to lose my usual good health and vitality. Father said I studied too hard, but the doctor thought different and prescribed tonics, which I took by the quart without relief. Reading one day in the paper of Mrs. Pinkham's great cures, and finding the symptoms described an-swered mine, I decided I would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. I did not say a word to the doctor ; I bought it myself, and took it according to directions regularly for two months, and I found that I gradually for two months, and that all pains left me, and I was my old self once more. -- LILLIE E. SINCLAIR, 17 E. 22d St., Chicago Ill."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one sure rem-ody to be relied upon at this important period in a young girl's life; with it she can go through with courage and safety the work she must accomplish, and fortify her physical well being so that her future life may be insured against sickness and suffering.
