General Kuroki Reports the Result of an En counter With Six Hundred Cossacks Near Simstsi-A Force of 2.000 Russians Pressing Japanese Cavalry Engaged by a Large Japanese Force and Retire to Telishu.

Tokyo, (By Cable) .- The Japanese and Russian forces located north of Pulation, which were in a series of brushes during the early part of last week, had another encounter near Chu-Chia-Tun. On that day the Japanese cavalrymen met the Russians at noon.

The Russians numbered 2,000 men and were composed of infantry, detachments of cavalry and artillery They were pressing the Japanese cavalry when the Japanese assembled their entire force and engaged the enemy. The Russians drew off gradually and at 5.30 o'clock in the after-poon they retired to Telishu. The Japanese suffered four men killed and four men wounded in this fight-

Cossacks Defeated.

A report has been received here from General Kuroki saying that on Friday last a detachment was dispatched from Ai-Yang-Cheng (Ai Yang-Pienmen?), to the east of Feng Yang-Cheng, to make a reconne sance toward Chaimatsi (Simats) thirty-five miles north of Feng-Wang-Cheng). This detachment encounter ed 600 Cossacks, and after a brisk engagement the Russians retreated.

General Kuroki reports that the Russian loss was heavy. The Japan-ese suffered only one man killed and three wounded.

Wireless at Port Arthur.

It is suspected here that the Rus-sians at Port Arthur are communicating with points on the Chinese coast by means of wireless telegraphy. It was reported that a wireless station had been crected secretly at the village of Peh-Wang, on Takin island, one of the Mino-Tao group, situated in Pechili strait, and the Japanese cruiser Chitose visited the island to investigate. Russian Squadrons Said to Have Made a Spectacular Showing as They Rushed Like a Whirlwind Across the Field-Japanese Tried to Advance, But Were Forced by the Russian Batteries to Scatter and Retire.

Liao-Yang, (By Cable) .- The Japanese lost 200 killed and a number of horses in the fight at Vagenfuchu, The Russians opened fire at 8 in the morning, and after two hours and a half long range firing the Japanese, under General Akkiama, prepared to charge and crush the force which had been harassing them for twenty-one davs.

In the meantime General Samsonoff was approaching Vagenfucius with a strong force of cavalry. It was a sight worth seeing, when at the word of command the Russian squadrons formed and rushed like a whirlwind across the terribly cut up country, clearing away all obstacles, the batteries at the same time trotting along the frightful road. Having passed the railroad station the troops came under the fire of the Japanese machine gons, but withdrew without suffering much loss.

Annihilated With Lances,

The fourth and sixth companies of the Eighth Siberian Cossacks furiously charged the Japanese cavalry with Jances, attacking both flanks. In a few minutes they literally cut the whole squadron into pieces. This was the first time lances were used and they struck terror into the enemy. In some cases the lances pierced the rid-ers through and wounded their horses, Some of the lances could not be withdrawn from the bodies into which they had entered. The Japanese infantry, numbering four battalions of 300 men to acompany, and eight squalrons of cavalry attempted to advance, but the Russian batterics opened, and soon the slope up which the enemy was advancing was covered with black spots and the nemy was forced to scatter and retire. Some of the Japanese calvary were wonderfully dashing, charging with shouts upon the Russians, who met and scattered them.
