

Sees Evils in Overstudy.

Henry R. Edmunds, president of the Philadelphia board of education, says half the public school pupils of that city are suffering from ill brought on by overstudy. The principal evils resulting, he says, are nervous affections and defective eyesight, both largely traceable to excessive home study and the crowding of too many branches into the elementary grades. He champions the abolition of afternoon classes and the wiping out of all home study.

Had the Client Safe.

A leading London lawyer says that when he was a brilliant barrister he went one afternoon to read in the Inner Temple library. He had not been there long when his small errand boy appeared, greatly excited and breathless from running. "If you please, sir," the boy gasped, "a gentleman is waiting for you at the chambers with a brief. He can't get out, sir. I've locked him in." Together the barrister and the boy hurried back to the chambers and the gentleman with a brief, who was amused at his capture, afterward became a most valuable client.

Investment Aided Church.

Two of the prominent and influential members of the Fort Fairfield, Maine, Congregational church last fall invested quite a sum of money in potatoes, privately believing that, if they made a profit, that profit should be given to their church. The amount made was over $900, and the pastor made the cheering announcement that that amount had been received from the transaction by the church.

Vicar and Workman.

The vicar of a colliery district in Leicestershire, England, has just accomplished the remarkable feat of restoring, mainly by his own manual labor, his dilapidated church. Since February, 1901, the vicar has labored as a workman all the week and preached to his people on the Sundays. He has worked at the church almost alone, the only assistance being a few days by one man.

Line's Statement.

It is nearly years since Maine has changed its Representatives in Congress, except when Speaker Reed resigned or death has intervened. All four of the present delegation have just been nominated for re-election by the Republicans of their districts.

Piso's Cure cannot be too highly spoken of as a cough cure.—J. W. O'BRIEN, 522 Third Avenue, N., Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 6, 1900.

A parrot in Stockton, Cal., is so bright that it enjoys a blunder or a joke.

Miss Alice M. Smith, of Minneapolis, Minn., tells how woman's monthly suffering may be permanently relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have never before given my endorsement for any medicine, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has added so much to my life and happiness that I feel like making an exception in this case. For two years every month I would have two days of severe pain, and could find no relief, but one day when visiting a friend I ran across Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,—she had used it with the best results and advised me to try it. I found that it worked wonders with me; I now experience no pain, and only had to use a few bottles to bring about this wonderful change. I use it occasionally now when I am exceptionally tired or worn out.—Miss Alice M. Smith, 264 Third Ave., South Minneapolis, Minn., Chairman Executive Committee, Minneapolis Study Club.—$5000 full if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be obtained.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound carries women safely through the various natural crises and is the safe-guard of woman's health.
The truth about this great medicine is told in the booklet from women being published in this paper constantly.

Woman's Realm

An Original Subject.
One of the subjects taken up the other day by the Progressive Health Club, a feminine organization of Chicago, was how to make husbands eat what they dislike.

The Modish Nightgown.
The modish nightgown is of the chemise order. It is made with low neck and short flowing sleeves and slips over the head. The neck is drawn up with ribbon threaded through hand-made buttonholes.

Woman's Trump Card.
A woman's winning card is cheerfulness. She may be capable of countless self-sacrifices, infinite tenderness and endless resources of wisdom, but if she cloaks these very excellent possessions under a garb of melancholy she may almost as well not have them, so as the ordinary world is concerned.

Where Woman is Heroic.
The determination to do her duty at all costs inspires the society woman of to-day as much as it did the defenders of the British flag at Trafalgar. She goes into action with a grim resolve to dance and dine as all her friends expect. Though her back is aching, her head splitting, and she knows she is grossly bored, she will heroically go through her day's program, fortified by the consciousness of having done her duty.—Ladies' Field.

Gorgeous Pillow Top.
Given a square of art canvas and some green, yellow, black and red braid one may have a gorgeous pillow top. The canvas should bear a design of some kind in the center, which can be embroidered in outline or cable stitch, and strips of the braid, which should be about half an inch wide, make a gay border. They may be applied with machine stitching. Where the strips cross at the corners they should be interlaced, basket-work fashion, ends three or four inches long being left to form a fringe effect.

Lingerie Hats.
The lingerie hats of exquisite batiste or fine Swiss embroideries and Valenciennes lace are lovelier than ever this season, and innumerable changes are rung upon combinations of lace and flowers. Nets plain or dotted with large chenille wafers are shirred and pleated into airy, broad-rimmed shapes and trimmed with flowers and soft silk scarfs.
Shaded straws and straws of countless new weaves are shown. Linen hats inset with lace and picturesque in shape are among the new offerings as well as more severe linen models for outing and mourning wear.

Garden bunches and flower wreaths divide the honors, and there are many flowers and bud fringes which are used profusely. Cockades, choux, rosettes, mercury wings, cupid wings and quills are called into service for the sailor hats.
The Modern Trouseau.
No one thinks of getting a trousseau nowadays to last for years, and if they contemplated such a thing it would be a dead failure. A modern bride gets an outfit for immediate wear. In dress we live from hand to mouth, and the gowns of three months ago are like the "snows of yester year." Women of to-day reset their jewels almost as often as they order fresh garments. There is no saving in anything. They spend the money in quality, and not quantity. No bride nowadays has an immense number of dresses; she is content with her wedding gown, the more gossamer the more fashionable; a traveling costume for going away, with a stoic and muff to match; four evening frocks, one black, one satin, one lace and one a tulle or thin braid gown; three smarter day gowns and a tailor-made or so would suffice a dozen of each article of underwear, and half a dozen petticoats of various sorts will pretty well complete the outfit.

Is Woman the Equal of Man?
Dr. Lyman Abbott, in the World's Work, says that doubtless the enlargement of woman's educational and industrial opportunities has been accompanied by some intellectual errors and some practical evils. The most serious of these errors is the opinion that equality of character involves identity of function; that because woman is the equal of man, therefore she is to do the same things which he does. Those of us who have been interested in claiming and pressing for women's larger life do not deny there are distinctive feminine and masculine spheres of activity, and that each sex renders the best service to society within its appropriate sphere. What we object to is the endeavor of the male philosopher to evolve woman's sphere out of his own consciousness, and shut her up within it; what we insist on is that both sexes shall have equal liberty and equal largeness of life, and that each shall find its appropriate sphere for itself.

The English Wife.
"If you are thinking of marrying an Englishman and making his country your country," says an American girl who has done this, "do begin immediately to take an interest in politics. All the upper-class people being in politics in England, the woman who is not posted shows herself a horrible ignoramus, and it is difficult to cultivate a taste for public affairs when you have never before given them a thought."

Miss Rose Kingsley, daughter of Charles Kingsley, when she was in this country a few years ago lecturing upon art, said that the least educated of the English girls would be ashamed to show the ignorance of politics of which an American girl boasts. All English girls of to-day are expected to be well informed in many lines, and politics is one of them. A bright English girl, Miss Lyon, who recently married Lord Acton, was noted for her compliments—among them a knowl-

Timely Fashion Hints

New York City.—Young girls are always charming when wearing full waists made of soft material. This one is peculiarly attractive and in-

MISSES' BLOUSE WAIST.
Ladies an oddly shaped yoke which is eminently becoming and which gives the drooping shoulder line. As shown the material is embroidered batiste, with yoke and cuffs of Valenciennes lace finished with little ruffles of plain muslin, and is unlined, but there are numerous fabrics which are equally appropriate. Many simple silks of the season are quite sufficiently youthful and such light weight wools as challie and veiling will be worn the season through in addition to the large number of cotton and linen fabrics offered.
The waist consists of the fitted lining, front and back with the yoke and closed invisibly at the back.

A LATE DESIGN BY MAY MANTON.

When lined the yoke can be left free at the lower edge if preferred, but when the lining is omitted it is attached permanently at its lower edge on indicated lines. The sleeves are the favorite ones of the season and the waist is worn a soft crushed belt.

The quantity of material required for the medium size (14 years) is four and one-eighth yards twenty-one inches wide, three and one-eighth yards twenty-seven inches wide or one and seven-eighths yards forty-four inches wide, with three-quarter yards of all-over lace and three-eighths yards of silk for belt.

Belts Made of Cowhide.
A distinct feature of the up-to-date masculine costume for the summer of 1904 is the cowhide belt. It is narrow, not more than one and a half inches wide, and is made of cowhide with the hair on. The irregular brown and white colorings are odd and striking. Also a fad of the season is the handkerchief in colored effects to match the shirt worn, whatever that may be. These come both in linen and silk. The self-color shades included are light blue, heliotrope, pale green, very deep pink and champagne. Equally expensive, though perhaps in better taste, are fine white handkerchiefs, hemstitched and having a border of fine cords forming plaids.

A New Feature of Dress.
Quite a feature of walking, visiting, and outdoor toilets generally is the scarf of silk which is tied or knotted and is then drawn through sundry slits and straps, reappearing at intervals in its progress down the front of a jacket or bodice or blouse. It may be knotted at the throat after passing around the neck, and before beginning its descent, or it may come down half or all the way before the opposite lengths are tied together. Free ends are always permitted to fall loose in any case. They may or may not be tasseled. This is the latest touch of Frenchness. It is copied on linen and flannel yachting gowns with good effect.

Dr. Hartman, Columbus, O.
Dear Sir:
"I took Peruna last summer when I was all run down, and had a headache and backache, and no ambition for anything. I now feel as well as I ever did in all my life, and all thanks is due to your excellent Peruna."—Bess F. Healy.
The symptoms of summer catarrh are quite unlike in different cases, but the most common ones are general lassitude, played-out, tired-out, used-up, run-down feelings, combined with more or less heavy, stupid, listless, mental condition. Relish for food and the ability to digest food seems to be lost.
Skin eruptions, swollen complexion, biliousness, coated tongue, fitful, irregular sleep, helps to complete the picture which is so common at this season.
Peruna so exactly meets all these conditions that the demand is so great for this remedy at this season of the year that it is nearly impossible to supply it.
Peruna Contains No Narcotics.
One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotics of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring the drug habit.

Thousands of women suffer from pelvic catarrh and catarrhal nervousness and don't know it. If you feel fagged out, begin at once taking Dr. Hartman's Peruna. It will relieve your catarrhal affliction and all your organs will be restored to health. By a bottle to-day, as it will immediately alleviate your case.

Caught Alligator With a Fishline.
While deer, duck and quail shooting have been better this season in the neighborhood of Titusville than in several years, Rockledge, Stuart and a few other places seem to have the expert fishermen. But it takes a Merritt fisherman to catch alligators. We are told that a few days ago a seven foot alligator was caught with a fishline. The line was set and baited with a mullet, for trout. The alligator took the bait and the hook fastened itself in his throat. Had the line been a rope or chain it would have been twisted apart or the hook torn out. The alligator tried himself out and was easily taken by slipping a rope over his nose, securing his flippers and towing him ashore, where he was killed with an axe.—East Coast Advocate (Titusville, Fla.).
