Attention to bring about the best results must be given unconsciously by the pupil.

Miss Olive Grissinger suggested the placing of interesting objects before the class illustrative of the lesson to be taught, and to remove everything that might have a tendency to distract their interest.

George Lehman thinks the teacher that is skilful in the art of questioning, has a power that will arouse and hold a healthy attention on the part of the class.

Prof. Emery Thomas made the point that the teacher must know the subject himself, before he may reasonably expect to arouse much interest in others. All agreed that where there was no attention, there was no healthy progress.

A song by the institute followed this period, and then came the report of the committee on the Teachers' Reading Course, in which they recommended "Common Sense Dialects," "Seeley's New School Management," "Merchant of Venice," and the Pennsylvania School Journal.

On motion the foregoing report was adopted.

Dr. Eckels occupied the next period. Subject—"The Tendencies of Public Education of the Twentieth Century." Education should be altruistic. It should be more patriotic. It should be more artistic. More morality will be taught and the child will be given more inspiration.

Dr. Bible occupied the next period discussing "The Merchant of Venice." He recited from Evangeline and gave a historical geographical sketch of the scene.

The committee on Resolutions presented the following which were adopted:

It was now high noon, and in a few well chosen remarks from the County Superintendent, the gavel fell and the 38th annual session of the Fulton County Teachers' Institute passed into the annals of history.

The day music this year was the best that we have had for a long time. Rev. J. V. Adams was the conductor, and Miss Gertrude Sipes organist. With his voice, his agreeable manner, and his thorough acquaintance with the subject, Mr. Adams easily takes rank with the foremost musical directors for county institutes in the State.

Whereas through the providence of God, it has been permitted to us to meet in this the 38th Session of the Fulton County Teachers' Institute; and whereas, we wish to show our appreciation to those who have contributed to its success; Therefore be it Resolved—

1. That our cordial thanks are hereby extended to our able County Superintendent for the dignified and impartial manner in which he has presided over the schools of Fulton county, and for his having procured for us the ablest corps of instructors ever presented to a Fulton county Institute—thus making our institute not only one of the best, but unquestionably the best institute ever held in Fulton county.

2. That we appreciate the address of welcome given by Prof. L. H. White, and also the response given by Prof. Horace M. Griffith:

3. That we were delightedly instructed by an address made by J. Nelson Sipes, Esq., contrasting the institute of 50 years ago with that of to-day:

4. That our sincere thanks be tendered to the ministers who took part in the devotional exercises of this institute.

5. That we thank the organist, Miss Gertrude Sipes, for her faithful services during the week.

6. That since Rev. Adams, our music director, has established within us, a higher ideal as to what should constitute the vocal music at our institute, we hereby show our appreciation of the same:

7. That we owe a debt of gratitude to the McConnellsburg Quartet for the rendition of excellent music during the week:

8. That we offer a vote of thanks to the McConnellsburg Orchestra for their excellent music which contributed so much to the evening entertainments.

9. That we extend our thanks to our competent instructors, who have so ably instructed us in those things which, if put into practice, will enable us to lift our schools to a higher plane of efficiency:

10. That we place a high estimation on the bright, humorous, patriotic and instructive addresses delivered by Deputy State Superintendent, Dr. Henry Houck, and hereby express thanks for his excellent service:

11. That we return to our respective schools with renewed zeal and energy, determined to do our best work in the noble calling in which we are engaged.

REPORT FROM THE REFORM SCHOOL.

J. G. Gluck, Superintendent, Pruntytown, W. Va., writes: "After trying all other advertised cough medicines we have decided to use Foley's Honey and Tar exclusively in the West Virginia Reform School. I find it the most effective and absolutely harmless." Sold at Trout's drug store.

THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE.

Agricultural Experiment Station, Nov. 28, 1904.

The October bulletin (No. 68) of the Pennsylvania Experiment Station consists of the annual report of the Director to the President of the college. The report contains a summary of the work of the several divisions of the Station for the year, general consideration regarding the work of the Experiment Station and the need for its expansion, and specific recommendations as to appropriations needed.

The work of the Division of Chemistry has consisted chiefly of analytical work connected with the feeding-stuffs and fertilizer control work and the check work done for other Divisions of the Station, some original investigation, however, having been carried on.

From the Division of Agriculture, work is reported upon the production and feeding of soiling crops, upon field fertilizer experiments, tests of varieties, and steer feeding. The Division of Animal Nutrition has carried on, in cooperation with the Bureau of Animal Industry of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, scientific investigations with the respiration calorimeter upon the relative values of feeding stuffs and has, in addition, made experiments upon the digestibility and feeding value of dried distillers' grains.

In the Division of Horticulture comparatively little work has been done, with the exception of systematic tests with varieties of small fruits. The Division of Dairy Husbandry has remained vacant during the year.

Under the heading of general considerations, the Director points out that, owing to the limited funds at its command, the work of the Station covers but a comparatively small field and that there are many important directions in which little or nothing is being accomplished. His specific recommendations are that appropriations be asked from the State for practical investigations in stock feeding coordinate with the scientific work now being done, for investigating insect and fungus enemies of the horticulturist, for the preparation and publication of more numerous bulletins, and for additional farm equipment. The sums estimated for these several purposes for two years are:

Stock Feeding Investigations $6,000
Horticultural Investigations 5,000
Bulletins 5,000
Farm Equipment 4,000
$20,000

The postoffice department is sending out its winter stamps now. Few know that there is a difference between winter and summer postage stamps. In the cold months the gum on the stamps is a little thinner and softer, while that on those to be used during the summer and in the Southern states is not so easily affected by heat.

DRIVEN TO DESPERATION—Living at an out of the way place, remote from civilization, a family is often driven to desperation in case of accident, resulting in burns, cuts, wounds ulcers, etc. Lay in a supply of Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Its the best on earth, 25c, at Trout's drug store.

Albert Stoner's store is just now a veritable art gallery and is well worth a visit if you don't buy a cent's worth. No such exhibit has ever been displayed in this county. See our goods first; for if you come after you have spent your money somewhere else, your pleasure for the holidays will be all gone.

How to Rid the Farm of Rats.

A farmer says that he rids his farm of rats in the following manner: On a number of pieces of shingles I put out about a teaspoonful of molasses and on that I put a small quantity of concentrated lye and then put the old shingles around under the cribs. The next morning I found some 40 dead rats and the rest left for parts unknown. I have cleaned several farms of the pests in the same way and never knew it fail.

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for sick and nervous headaches. They make pure blood and build up your health. Only 25 cents, money back if not cured. Sold at Trout's drug store.

A Sermon in a Nutshell.

A sermon in a nutshell is contained in the following by a west-horn moralist: "Jails are built out of honest men's earnings. Courts are supported from peaceful men's property. Penitentiaries are built with the toil of the virtuous. Crime never pays its own way. Vice has no hand to work and no head to calculate. 'Its whole faculty is to corrupt and to waste, and good men foot the bill.'"
