Surprise Party.

A beautiful surprise party took place at the home of Mrs. Martha Smith in Whips Cove in honor of her son Ira and her son-in-law, Mr. William Spade. On Wednesday, Dec. 14th, the boys arose early to take a rabbit hunt, accompanied by W. H. Decker, and returned home about 10 o'clock and went to their usual work—digging a well, having no idea of what was going on in the kitchen until called to dinner. When the boys came up out of the well they were surprised to find a number of men and boys at the top, and on coming to the house found it well crowded with friends, and the table drooping with its load of turkey, chicken, cake and everything that heart could wish. After dinner many useful presents were given the boys; and as four o'clock came, the good people began to return to their homes, thinking it was a day well spent and long to be remembered.

One Who Was There.

Coughs, Colds and Constipation.

Few people realize when taking cough medicines other than Foley's Honey and Tar, that they contain opiates which are constipating besides being unsafe, particularly for children. Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates, is safe and sure and will not constipate. Sold by all dealers.

LOCAL INSTITUTE.

The third educational meeting in Belfast township was held at Pleasant Grove, Friday night, Dec. 16th.

The meeting was called to order by the teacher, Gilbert C. Mellott, and Howard Mellott was elected chairman.

The questions were ably discussed by the seven teachers present. Prof. B. N. Palmer was present and gave some valuable advice to the teachers.

A number of fine recitations were rendered by the pupils, reflecting much credit on the ability of the teacher.

Chas. Fegley, secretary.

Worst of all Experiences.

Can anything be worse than to feel that every minute will be your last? Such was the experience of Mrs. S. H. Newson, Deatur, Ala. "For three years," she writes, "I endured insufferable pain from indigestion, stomach and bowel trouble. Death seemed inevitable when doctors and all remedies failed. At length I was induced to try Electric Bitters and the result was miraculous. I improved at once and now I'm completely recovered. For liver, kidney, stomach and bowel troubles Electric Bitters is the only medicine. Only 50c. It's guaranteed at Trout's drug store.

He Wouldn't Scare

A Maine medical student who has been visiting in Auburn tells this gruesome, but not uninteresting story about miracles.

"I have been at work," said he, "in one of the largest city hospitals recently, and there were a large number of students who, like myself, were trying to get practical experience in surgery and other branches of the medical profession. Among the younger fellows was a student apparently without any nerves. He could stand up before the most trying operation from the very first without the quiver of a muscle. We all decided that he was destined for greatness by the short road. In the meantime one of the leaders among the students (there is always a leader, you know) got a crowd of us together and held a council of war.

"Now, you say young S. hasn't any nerves," said he. "What do you say about making a test?"

"It was agreed in a few minutes, and the arrangements were made on the spot. Our young nerveless friend was to take his turn at a difficult operation that very evening. Accordingly, just before the appointed time one of the bravest of our set started for the operating room. All was dark and still as he crept under the operating table upon which the dead body lay. It should be explained that a wire had been connected with the right arm of the dead body and led down under the table within easy reach of the concealed man. Pretty soon, after what must have been an interminable wait for the man under the table, our nerveless young master surgeon came into the room and began his work. All at once our leader pulled the wire and the arm shot up straight into the air about two feet. Our friend glanced up a moment, put it down and continued his work as if nothing had happened. After another half minute our leader pulled the wire again. Again the arm shot up as before, and again our student friend put it down in place with the same air of perfect unconcern, while he resumed his work as before. Now, we who were watching behind the door began to get impatient, and so did our leader under the table. Next time he gave the wire a tug that nearly parted it from its fastenings, and this time the arm shot straight over the bent head of the young operator and stayed there like an avenging spirit. Our friend looked up from his work, took hold of the hand, put the arm back in its place and, with the air of one completely absorbed in his work, murmured:

"There! Stay there, will you? None of your miracles here!"—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

James King, Dead.

James King, a native of McConnellsburg, and brother of Mrs. Sue Austin, of Salvia, and of George King, of Saxton, died suddenly Monday morning at Johnstown, Pa., aged 68 years.

Mr. King went to Johnstown before the war, grew up with the town, and became one of its prominent citizens, serving a term as burgess and frequently a member of the council.

He was married to Miss Barrd of Westmoreland county; and at the time of the Johnstown flood, they had a delightful home and two interesting children. After that dreadful calamity had passed the father was all that was left of his family.

Mr. King was prominent in Oddfellow circles, he being an active member for more than fifty years, and generally represented his lodge (Conemaugh), at the annual session of Grand Lodge.

In politics he was a Democrat and in religion a Presbyterian.

Startling Evidence.

Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland, Bentonsville, Va., serves as example. He writes: "I had bronchitis for three years and doctor-ed all the time without being benefited. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all lung and throat troubles, consumption, pneumonia and grip. Guaranteed at Trout's drug store. Trial bottles free, regular sizes 50c, and $1.00.
