Local Institute.

The third educational meeting of Tod township, was held at Summer's school, Friday evening, January 13th. The meeting was called to order by the teacher, C. C. Rotz, who was elected chairman.

The questions for discussion were: 1. What should a child know when he enters school? The main thought of the different teachers was: willing obedience, honesty and industry. 2. The functions of the Public School. The school has two main functions. It owes one to the State, and the other to the children to train them to be good, honest, industrious citizens. 3. How can we keep out of the rut?

Have a definite aim, and keep up with the times by reading and study. Attend the local institutes and associate with other teachers, were the principal thoughts suggested by the speakers. Superintendent Barton was present and took part in the discussion of each question, and the teachers present were: Prof. Thomas, Prof. Lamberson, Amos Peightel, Jessie Gress, Minnie Mock, Beckie Rotz, Blanche Peck and Louise Everts.

The discussions were interspersed by a number of songs and recitations by the pupils, and also by music given by some colored men.

The next meeting will be held at Woodburn, January 27.

Olve Grissinger, Secretary.

There will be a local institute at Clear Ridge school, Friday evening, January 27th. Topics for discussion: 1. How May the Teacher Gain and Retain the Attendance of the class? 2. The school as a Social Factor 3. What is the best course to pursue with persistently idle pupils?

All the teachers from the township were present but one, Miss Letitia Peck from Thompson was present, and Prof. B. N. Palmer brought a sled load of teachers from Belfast.

The school rendered some songs and recitations. The meeting was well attended and excellent order was maintained.

Boys and Cigarettes.

Probate Officer W. C. Johnson of Kansas City, addressing an audience of several hundred boys in that city, said cigarettes caused nearly all the downfalls among youths.

"Out of 40 boys who have been taken into the juvenile court," said Mr. Johnson, 95 per cent were cigarette smokers. I never saw a boy who played hockey from school but did not also smoke cigarettes. This habit is the beginning of crime. I know a little fellow on the West side who lies on the bed for two and three hours at a time smoking cigarettes. He has become addicted to the habit and says he cannot stop it. He will be sent to a reform school where he can't get the poisonous things. Two boys were caught stealing in a store not long ago. Each was a cigarette smoker. In nearly every case where a boy breaks into a store the first thing he steals is tobacco."

The connection between tobacco and toughness in a boy seems to be much the same as that between whiskey and crime in a man. The injury of cigarette smoking to youth is not merely physical. It invariably leads him into bad associations that pervert his ideas of manliness. A gang of boys secretly smoking cigarettes submit to the leadership of the toughest in the gang. There is magic power in the practice to lower all to the level of the lowest.

The boy who thinks it is manly to smoke has a wrong notion of manliness. He is training himself to admire and emulate man's vices instead of his virtues. He is cultivating the qualities that count for failure instead of success. The companionship and moral influence that a boy comes into through cigarettes is like that which a man comes into through drink—the kind that debases.

Bent Her Double.

"I knew no one for four weeks, when I was sick with typhoid and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter, of Pittsburg, Pa. "and when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double, and had to rest my hands on my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." Guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney disorders; at Trout's drug store; price 50c.

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS

The more Magazines there are, the more Indispensable is The Review of Reviews

"Indispensable." "The one magazine I feel I must take." "The world under a field-glass." "An education in public affairs and current literature."—these are some of the phrases one hears from noted people who read the Review of Reviews. The more magazines there are, the more necessary is the Review of Reviews, because it brings together the best that is in all the most important monthlies of the world. Such is the flood of periodical literature that nowadays people say that the only way to keep up with it is to read the Review of Reviews. Entirely over and above this reviewing section, it has more original matter and illustrations than most magazines, and the most timely and important articles printed in any monthly.

Probably the most useful section of all is Dr. Albert Shaw's illustrated "Progress of the World," where public events and issues are authoritatively and lucidly explained in every issue. Many a subscriber writes, "This department alone is worth more than the price of the magazine." The unique cartoon department, depicting current history in caricature, is another favorite. The Review of Reviews covers five continents, and yet is American, first and foremost. Men in public life, the members of Congress, professional men, and the great captains of industry who must keep "up with the times," intelligent men and women all over America, have decided that it is "indispensable."
