A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING.

Some men's ideas of charity is to contribute to a campaign fund. The average man has a better opinion of himself than the Lord has of him.

The new woman was a failure because there were no new men to match.

It is easier for an orator to make a speech than it is for the speech to make him.

When a man flatters you put on your spectacles and look around for the ax he has to grind.

The Niagara river is 36 miles long, 22 from lake Erie to the falls and 14 from the falls to lake Ontario. Goat island contains 61 acres.

A California physician has proved that the process of digestion is electrical. But perhaps the man experimented on was full of currents.

"Gwandana" said Mollie, looking at the wrinkled forehead of the dear old lady. "I think you ought to go to the laundry and get your head ironed."

Sen. Stewart of Nevada began at 16 to grow the full beard from which time and evolution have brought his present silvery crop of whiskers. He has never been shaved.

An Arabian woman who is in mourning for a near relative abstains from drinking milk for eight days, on the theory that the color of the liquid does not harmonize with her mental form.

DeLong—I understand you are trying to pay your debts.

Shortleigh—Yes, that's right. DeLong—Are you making any progress?

Shortleigh—Sure. Why, only this morning I succeeded in borrowing $5 from Green for the purpose of paying Brown the $5 I owe him.

"I don't know what to make of it," said the lecturer. "I am afraid I am at the end of my rope. I have such fearful fits of sleepiness between seven and ten o'clock at night that I can hardly keep awake through my lectures."

"I should think the snoring of your audiences would keep you awake," said Cynicus.

"Didn't I understand that you threw the hammer at Yale?"

"Yes, I did."

"Well, couldn't you help us out with some of the hard work tonight? I've been dancing with that elephant over there till I'm nearly dead. Try her for the next dance; she isn't engaged."

"I beg your pardon, she is engaged; we're to be married next month."

Every evil and wasteful habit draws upon our strength and resources without making any proper return. On the other hand, every task faithfully done, every responsibility manfully borne in the path of duty, steadies us like well-bestowed ballast. There are loads that help as well as loads that hinder. The first we should cheerfully take up and the latter resolutely cast off.

A Thousand Dollars Thrown Away.

Mr. W. W. Baker, of Plainview, Neb., writes: "My wife had lung trouble for over fifteen years. We tried a number of doctors and spent over a thousand dollars without any relief. She was very low and I lost all hope, when a friend suggested trying Foley's Honey and Tar, which I did; and thanks be to this great remedy, it saved her life. She is stronger and enjoys better health than she has ever known in ten years. We shall never be without Foley's Honey and Tar and would ask those afflicted to try it." Sold by all dealers.

CAPITOL BEAUTIES HIDDEN

Park Should Be Extended to afford Setting For State Building.

A bill will shortly be presented in the state legislature at Harrisburg for the extension of the state capitol park, a project which has been urged for years, and which in the opinion of everyone who has seen the new state capitol, is needed if the magnificent structure is to be given an adequate setting. This measure has been outlined and will receive the hearty support of members of the legislature from all parts of the state.

The plan for park extension has been endorsed by Architect Huston, whose plans have been carried out for the new capitol, and to whom is due the splendor of the building which is rising on historic Capitol Hill. It has been a subject which has received periodical attention for many years, but which never took definite shape before. Now general interest in all parts of the state has been aroused, and since the proportions of the state's new official home can be seen it is realized that unless something is done to provide more room for the structure, on which there has been expended a wealth of idea and millions of state money, will be practically hidden. A building notable for its stately appearance, its handsome decoration and beautiful material, is being built in the midst of a city, so that it will be unappreciated unless one goes almost beside it.

In order to appreciate this condition it is necessary to give some idea of the location of the state house at Harrisburg. The building is being erected on Capitol Hill, an eminence which is from eight to 15 feet above the streets in the heart of Harrisburg, and which is bounded on all sides by paved thoroughfares lined with business and residential buildings, some of which, especially on the side which it is proposed to take, are anything but beautiful. On the west side of the capitol park stretches the chief residence district of the city containing many fine homes, several of the city's largest churches, the new Y. M. C. A. building, one new theatre, the government's stately granite building and for which are projected a Masonic temple and a Roman Catholic cathedral, which will cost far over half a million dollars. In addition to other buildings, to extend on this side would be manifestly impossible because of the expense even though it is bounded two squares from the capitol by the beautiful Susquehanna.

The proposed improvements are to be on the east side. If it had been destined by the founders and builders of the capitol to have it taken into the park some day it could not have been planned better. It has never been developed worth speaking about. It contains some industrial plants, none of them attractively built, a soap factory or two, a market and some small churches, the bulk of the buildings being small and many of them rickety frame buildings, characteristic of the poorest section of a city. Some idea of their character can be gleaned from the photographs presented.

Because of this growth of the city there are just two points from which there can be obtained good views of the new state house. One is on State street, west, where from a distance of a block a view embracing about half of the front of the building, with its flight of steps, can be had. Extension of the park there is considered out of the question because of the expense. On the east side State street gives the other view, equally circumscribed. At no place can there be obtained a view of the state house so that its decoration and graceful outline can be satisfactorily observed. On the side where it is proposed to make the extension of the park the capitol rises from a city street, towering so that even on the opposite side of the highway it is necessary to crane one's neck to see the balustrade on top of the main building. The section which it is proposed to take contains four streets running north and south and an equal number running east and west, there being also several alleys whose removal would be a good thing for all concerned. This project has four been a favorite one with lawmakers and state officials to whom the eastern outlook from the capitol has been an eyesore, and who realize that at comparatively small cost the park can be extended so that the $1,500,000 capitol will not be hidden, but can be given a setting like those of other states, and where the citizen of Pennsylvania may view with pride the unmatched capitol of his state.

Give Your Stomach a Rest.

Your food must be properly digested and assimilated to be of any value to you. If your stomach is weak or diseased take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and gives the stomach a rest, enabling it to recuperate, take on new life and grow strong again. Kodol cures sour stomach, gas bloating and heart palpitation and all digestive disorders. L. A. Soper, of Little Rock, Ky., writes us: "We feel that Kodol Dyspepsia Cure deserves all the commendation that can be given it, as it saved the life of our little girl when she was three years old. She is now six and we have kept it for her constantly, but of course she only takes it now when anything disagrees with her." Sold at Trout's drug store.

GEM.

Nathan Truax and sister, Miss Francie, of Sipes Mill, spent from Friday until Sunday with the family of N. H. Evans.

C. W. Snyder spent Sunday at his home near Gom.

W. H. Peck spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Nancy Peck.

G. J. Mellott has recovered his missing dog, after a long trip in Whips Cove.

The young people are making use of the fine sledding. The Gem items that appeared in the Fulton County News of January 18th, were all true—not a word was exaggerated. The poem "veracity" in the News of January 25th, was not bad for a beginner. With a little practice the author may come forth as a literary star of the first magnitude.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Mellott, of McConnellsburg, were visiting relatives in this vicinity last Sunday.

Public is Aroused.

The public is aroused to a knowledge of the curative merits of that great medicinal tonic, Electric Bitters, for sick stomach, liver and kidneys. Mary H. Walters, of 543 St. Clair Ave., Columbus, Ohio, writes: "For several months I was given up to die. I had fever and ague, my nerves were wrecked; I could not sleep, and my stomach was so weak from useless doctors' drugs, that I could not. Soon after beginning to take Electric Bitters, I obtained relief, and in a short time I was entirely cured." Guaranteed at Trout's drug store; price 50c.

Grocer C. C. Bender has been confined to his home for several days on account of an ugly attack of quinsy. Clarence Seville has charge of the store.

DUBLIN MILLS.

Miss Elsie Laidig of this place, spent last week as guest of her cousin, Miss Pearl, near Hustontown.

Miss Maude Fields of Clear Ridge, was the guest of Miss Lillian Miller Saturday and Sunday. Miss Maud is the teacher of Winegardner school which is progressing nicely under her instructions.

J. D. Knepper and C. E. Stevens attended the institute at Clear Ridge Friday night.

The guests of Howard Barnett at Waterfall last Sunday were David Knepper, wife and son, Wm. Knepper and wife, and Miss Flossie, Fred, Howard, Mary and Little Erman.

That Tickling in the Throat.

One minute after taking One Minute Cough Cure that tickling in the throat is gone. It acts in the throat—not the stomach. Harmless—good for children. A. L. Spofford, postmaster at Chester, Mich., says: "Our little girl was unconscious from strangulation during a sudden and terrible attack of croup. Three doses of One Minute Cough Cure half an hour apart speedily cured her. I cannot praise One Minute Cough Cure too much for what it has done in our family." It always gives relief. Sold at Trout's drug store.
