The Most Marvelous Clock in Existence.

Life just now has few attractions for a certain German watchmaker, for he has just completed a colossal task which has occupied every moment of his time, excepting those spent in eating and sleeping, during the past nineteen years, and now that his work is ended it is of little monetary value to him, for he is unable to find a purchaser for the result of his years of toil.

The task he set himself was that of constructing the most marvelous clock in the world, an idea which suggested itself to him as he was one day gazing upon the world famous timepiece at Strasburg Cathedral. Being a Sold at Trout's drug store. watchmaker by trade, he knew what an attempt to surpass that marvel of his art meant, but, nothing daunted, he set to work vancing rapidly in the way of prowith a will.
