As proof of this theory we call attention to the case of Mrs. Maggie Wright, Brooklyn, N. Y., who was completely cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after everything else had falled. She writes:

thing else had failed. She writes:

"For two years I suffered with dyspepsia which so degenerated my entire system that I was unable to attend to my daily duties. I felt weak and nervous, and nothing that I ate tasted good and it caused a disturbance in my stomach. I tried different dyspepsia cures, but nothing seemed to help me. I was advised to give Lydiu E. Pinkinam's Vegetable Compound a trial, and was happily surprised to find that it acted like a fine tonic, and in a few days I began to enjoy and properly direct fewdays i began to enjoy and properly digest my food. My recovery was rapid, and in five weeks I was a well woman. I have rec-ommended it to many suffering women."

COMMERCIAL REVIEW.

New York, (Special).—R. G. Dun & Co.'s "Weekly Review of Trade" says:
Recent gains in the volumes of business are fully maintained, but further improvement is somewhat retarded by unfavorable weather in some sections, Buyers are still arriving at the leading cities, placing additional Spring orders, and most Fall lines that have been opened are meeting with an encouraging re-ception. Manufacturing returns are all that could be desired, building operations expand as the season advances, and agricultural prospects are better han

For Systematic Scientific Research

Prof. Pearson, the English scientist, has been considering the suggestion of Prof. Simon Newcomb looking to the systematization of scientific research by organizing investigators into what might be termed battalions: Dr. Pearson says that what science needs at present is to get rid of most of its data and investigators with brains enough to interpret what is left. "At least 50 per cent of the observat made and the data collected," says Prof. Pearson, "is worthless, and no man, however able, could deduce any result from them at all. In engineer's language, we need to 'scrap-heap' about 50 per cent of the products of nineteenth century science."

Does His Duty Without Fear.

Francis I. Henry, the special United States district attorney who brought Senator Mitchell and others to indictment in Oregon, fears nothing and has a record for absolute integrity. In his early days he practiced law in Arirona. A woman came to him for help in securing a divorce on account of her husband's cruckty, but assured him that her busband threatened to kill any lawyer who would take up his wife's case. "Oh, that is a matter that will come up later," said Henry calmly. He got the woman her divorce and sext day met the former husband in the street. The latter took a revolver out of his pocket, whereupon Henry, being quicker "on the draw," shot the

HONEST CONFESSION. A Doctor's Talk on Food.

There are no fairer set of men on earth than the doctors, and when they find they have been in error they are usually apt to make honest and maniy confession of the fact. A case in point is that of an eminent practitioner, one of the good old school, who lives in Texas. His plain, unvarnished tale needs no dressing up: "I had always had an intense prejudice, which I can now see was unwarrantable and unreasonable, against all muchly advertised foods. Hence, I never read a line of the many 'ads.' of Grape-Nuts, nor tested the food "While in Corpus Christi for my health, and visiting my youngest son, who has four of the ruddlest, health-lest little boys I ever saw, I ate my first dish of Grape-Nuts food for supper with my little grandsons. I became exceedingly fond of it and have eaten a package of it every week since, and find it a delicious, refreshing and strengthening food, leaving no ill effects whatever, causing no eructations (with which I swas formerly much troubled), no sense of fullness, nausen, nor distress of stomach in any way. "There is no other food that agrees with me so well, or sits as lightly or pleasantly upon my stomach as this does. I am stronger and more active since I began the use of Grape-Nuts than I have been for ten years, and am no longer troubled with ne uses and in-digestion." Breaking away from the astonished provost the president rushed up to the professor with the exclamation: "Hello, old boy. #### Settling the War on Grutches.

In an acticle in the World's Work on the betterment work of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co. is a funny story of the hatred between the Japanese and the Russians in the company's hearital at Minnequa. The writer says: The Russians and Japanese are as hostile individually in Colorado as in Manchuria. Even on the hospital lawn, convalescent Russian and Japanese patients have hurled crutches and canes at one another; and on the chool rounds, children have fought with fists and stones. The management had to make the wards in the hospital small, so that subjects of the Mikado and of the Czar could not glare at one another from beds on opposite sides of the same room, and to arrange the camps so that each race or nationality could live by itself.
