FRANK MENTZER BADLY INJURED.

Mr. Comerer and His Men Were Sawing Shingles When the Collar of the Saw Burst, a Piece of Which Struck Him Causing Death.

Mr. George W. Comerer, a prominent lumberman of Burnt Cabins was struck by a flying piece of metal and fatally injured while working at one of his sawmills near that place about noon yesterday.

At the time of the accident, he was engaged in sawing shingles, when the collar of the swiftly revolving saw burst, one piece, weighing about ten pounds struck Mr. Comerer in the right breast carrying it and the right lung entirely away.

Mr. Comerer lived about an hour after the accident and was conscious to the last breath. He knew that death would come very soon and he calmly bade those about him good by, after giving such directions as he was able to do.

His wife was immediately sent for, but barely reached the scene of the accident as her husband closed his eyes in death.

Up to the hour of going to press, we have no knowledge of the arrangements for the funeral.

Do you want to live where the climate is mild the year round—where labor is never oppressed by stress of weather, and where animal vitality is never lost by mere conflict with cold?

Do you want to live in a region where the resources are more varied than in any other equal area in the world, where the division of great ranches affords a fine opportunity to get a small farm that will assure you a competence?

Do you want to live where, with a minimum of labor, you can grow profitable crops of grapes and small fruit, oranges, lemons, olives, prunes and almonds, alfalfa and grain, where crops are sure, business is good and capital easily finds profitable investment?

Then go to California, where both health and opportunity await your coming.

The Chicago, Union Pacific and North-Western Line is the most direct route to the Pacific Coast, and there are two fast through trains daily via this line, over the famous double-track railway between Chicago and the Missouri River.

Special low round-trip rates are in effect via this line throughout the summer to various Pacific Coast points, and colonist low rate one-way tickets will be on sale during September and October, which give an unusual chance for settlers to make the trip at a minimum of expense.

Daily and personally conducted excursions are operated through to San Francisco, Los Angeles, and Portland without change, on which a double berth in a Pullman tourist sleeping car from Chicago costs only $7.00, via the
