A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING.

Liquor will improve with age, but the trouble is the average man won't let it.

Praise among women, like gold and precious stones, owes its value chiefly to its scarcity.

You can tell that most artists are bachelors by the "dreams" of women that they paint.

He said her hair was dyed, and when she indignantly exclaimed, "Tis false!" he said he presumed so.

What is that which lives in winter, dies in summer, and always grows with its roots upward?—Icicle.

What is the difference between a spendthrift and a pillow? One is hard up and the other is soft down.

Diseases always attack the weakest spot, which is perhaps why so many people get a cold in the head.

In these days of hair dyes, complexion powders, etc., it is a wise woman who knows her own daughter.

Mr. Richfello—What a perfect complexion Miss Beauty has! Rival Belle—She's a born artist.

Why a fellow feels at sea at his own wedding, when he is standing up with the girl, is because he is a marry'n'er.

"That's what beat's me," as the boy said when he saw his father take the skate strap down from its accustomed nail.

Womankind is like cedar—sweet when first squeezed, but growing more vinegar like after lying around for a few years.

Blobs—"Wigwag paid $100 for those two dogs of his. They come high."

Globbs—"Yes; they are Skye terriers."

In drinking the "good health" of your friend, take care you do not get too much in the habit of swallowing your own.

Indignant Customer—Do you respect the law? Head of Trust—I ought to. I paid $25,000 to have it passed.

"Why do you think she has no intention of marrying him? She permits him to spend all of his money on her."

"I know it; that's why I think so." Miss Eldon—There are so many fast young men nowadays.

Miss Youngly—H'm—yes; you do seem to have difficulty in catching one.

"Does your doll talk when its waist is squeezed?" "And what does it say?" "It hollers 'Mamma!' just like sister."

Globetrot—I say, old man, I've been abroad for eight months and I'm rusty on the styles. Are they wearing the same things this summer that they did last?

Dead broke—I am. "It is a great comfort to have a child about the house," said the man of domestic tastes.

"Yes," answered the unfeeling wretch; "when company comes that you don't care for you can make it recite."

She—Do you remember, when you married me, you said I was "one in a thousand?" He—Yes; and when your mother came to live with us I thought she was the other nine hundred and ninety-nine.

"My daughter," remarked Mrs. Nextdore, "has developed a perfect passion for music."

"Yes," returned Mrs. Pepprey, "I warrant it isn't as strong as the passion your daughter's music arouses in my husband."

Willie—Just one more question,

Pa—I told you, Willie, to go to bed.

Willie—I know, Pa, but I just want to know; am I really made of dust as the Bible—

Pa—No, you're not. If you were you'd dry up.

Cured Hemorrhages of the Lungs. "Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages," writes A. M. Ake, of Wood Ind., "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's Honey and Tar and my lungs are now as sound as a bullet. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble." Sold by all dealers.

The Colonel's Waterloo.

Colonel John M. Fuller, of Honey Grove, Texas, nearly met his Waterloo, from liver and kidney trouble. In a recent letter, he says: "I was nearly dead, of these complaints, and, although I tried my family doctor, he did me no good; so I got a 50c bottle of your great Electric Bitters, which cured me. I consider them the best medicine on earth, and thank God who gave you the knowledge to make them."

Sold and guaranteed to cure dyspepsia, biliousness and kidney disease, by Trout's the druggist, at 50c a bottle.

Kittie—Paul told me last evening that I was the prettiest girl he had ever seen.

Bessie—Oh, that's nothing! he said the same to me last year.

Kittie—I know, dear; but his taste may have improved since then, you know.

Londoner (to newly-arrived Irish laborer)—Now then, my man, why are you standing there all day with your hands in your pockets doing nothing?

Pat—Sure, sor, I haven't been over here long enough to learn how to put me hands in other people's pockets yet.

This remedy clears the phlegm and strengthens the mucous membranes of the throat, chest, lungs and bronchial tubes. The Guest and the Waitress.

A dainty stranger wafted into the dining room of a hotel in Smith Centre the other day and as the chair was held back for him, pulled out his handkerchief and dusted the seat carefully. Pulling up his trousers, he seated himself, wiped the knife, fork and spoon with a napkin, worried a few crumbs off the table and heaved a sigh of relief. Without hesitation the girl who stepped forward to take his order, deftly wiped the stranger's mouth, which had been drawn into a pucker of dissatisfaction at the imaginary untidiness abounding, and planted a kiss thereon that was plainly heard in all parts of the room. The dainty stranger when he recovered ordered meekly, ate hurriedly and left quickly.—Kansas City Journal.

Feet Swollen to Immense Size.

"I had kidney trouble so bad that I could not work," says J. J. Cox, of Valley View, Ky., "my feet were swollen to immense size and I was confined to my bed and physicians were unable to give me any relief. My doctor finally prescribed Foley's Kidney Cure which made a well man of me." Sold by all dealers.

Children Quick and Slow.

"Children of splendid intellectual endowments are sometimes thought to be stupid," says an observing teacher. "The sharp child who learns a lesson in the shortest possible time, who is first with his answers in the mental arithmetic class, who can produce dates and geographical names on demand, is the one the teacher loves, and most commonly he is the one who in after life goes on the safe road to competence, but he is not one of those whose thoughts will be treasured by the world long after he has quitted it. And quite often the so called stupid child is one of the dreamers in whom are the powers of the artist, poet or philosopher struggling for expression."

Doctors Could not Help Her.

"I had kidney trouble for years," writes Mrs. Raymond Conner, of Shelton, Wash., "and the doctors could not help me. I tried Foley's Kidney Cure, and the very first dose gave me relief and I am now cured. I cannot say too much for Foley's Kidney Cure. Sold by all dealers.

The Gentle Orientals.

To rid themselves of an enemy the residents of oriental countries frequently mix with the food of the person of whom they would be rid the tiny black specks from under the sheath leaves at the joints of bamboo. These specks seen under a microscope, are veritable barbed arrows, and once taken internally resist the action of the gastric juices and set up an intestinal inflammation that in variably causes death.

Letter to Frank Mason, McConnellsburg, Pa.

Dear Sir: There are several ways of cheating in milk. An old-fashioned way is to water it. Nobody waters it now. A better way is to take out the cream—rich milk with the cream taken out is as good as poor milk with the cream all in. But we needn't go into particulars. You don't rob your milk and your customers. Paint is as easy as milk to cheat with. Good paint is as rare as good milk; for human nature is much the same in milkmen and paint men. You are just and true with your milk; so are we with our paint. Devote lead and zinc is twice as good as mixed paints: There's twice as much butter in it. Mr. J. T. Ladd, Cheraw, S. C., writes: "When Mr. Evans painted his house with Devote, he figured on how other paints covered and had enough left to paint three large rooms. He was so pleased that he has used Devote on two other houses."

Everything is in the name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. E. C. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago, discovered some years ago how to make a salve from Witch Hazel that is a specific for piles. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin diseases DeWitt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits. Ask for DeWitt's—the genuine. Sold by Stouteagle & Bro.

Their Great Power. JURY LIST.

A writer in Collier's for September 2 asks: "Is there such a thing as Christian citizenship?" He answers in the negative, but qualifies the answer by saying: "It could be created."

Then he says: "If Christians should vote their duty to God at the polls, they would carry every election, and do it with ease."

"They would elect every clean candidate in the United States and defeat every soiled one."

"Their prodigious power would be quickly realized and recognized and afterward there would be no unclean candidates upon any ticket and graft would cease."

"No church organization can be found in the country that would elect men of foul character to be its shepherd, its treasurer, and superintendent of its Sunday school. It would be revolted at the idea; it would consider such an election an insult to God. Yet every Christian congregation in the country elects foul men to public office, while quite aware that this also is an open and deliberate insult to God, who cannot approve and does not approve the placing of the liberties and the well being of His children in the hands of infamous men."

"It is the Christian congregations that are responsible for the filling of our public offices with criminals, for the reason that they could prevent it if they chose to do it. They could prevent it without organizing a league, without framing a platform, without making any speeches or passing any resolutions—in a word, without concert of any kind. They could accomplish it by each individual resolving to vote for God at the polls—that is to say, vote for the candidate whom God would approve."

"Can a man imagine such a thing as God being a Republican or a Democrat, and voting for a criminal or a blackguard merely because party loyalty required it? Then can we imagine that a man can improve upon God's attitude in this matter, and by help of professional politicians invent a better policy?"

"God has no politics but cleanliness and honesty, and it is good enough for men."
