Local Institute. The first local institute of Ayr township, was held at Laurel Ridge school, Friday evening, September 22, 1905.

The meeting was called to order by the teacher, Miss Olive Kendall, after which Elmer Clouser was elected president.

The following questions were taken up and thoroughly discussed by the seven teachers present from Ayr, and two from Thompson, namely, Olive Kendall, Hattie Kendall, Maye Mellott, Carrie Humbert, Russell Nelson, David Thomas, Samuel Simpson, Nellie Simpson and Gilbert B. Mellott.

1. Daily Program. 2. Seat Work. 3. How Do You Teach Elementary Language Work?

A number of recitations were ably delivered, which deserves much praise to pupil and teacher. A recitation was delivered by Russell Nelson and an oration by Martha Kendall, both of which were a treat.

Music was furnished by Himmell Harris and Frank Smith.

A large crowd was present, which was very orderly, and an interest in educational work manifested itself during the entire program. We congratulate the teacher on the success of the Institute.

The next institute will be held at Back Run, Oct. 13.

SUMMER DAYS ARE OVER.

Autumn Season Made Its Official Entrance Thursday Morning.

Thursday was the first day of autumn, according to the almanac. Before long will come the season known as Indian summer, when warm, dry weather may be expected to prevail under a hazy sky, with hardly colored leaves.

The name, Indian summer, originated with the early settlers of Central and Northern Mississippi Valley, who first observed the phenomena accompanying the equinox. Thinking that these phenomena applied only to the section which they were settling, and which was populated by Indians, these pioneers originated the term, which is now in general use.

The warm weather, light winds and the hazy sky, are due to a peculiar meteorological state, depending upon the atmospheric pressure. Whenever, as is usual with Indian summer, there is an absence of barometric depression, or when the lowest barometric reading is slightly above the average, the air becomes stagnant, dust and smoke remaining practically stationary in the air.

The popular fallacy that this season is always attended with an undue number of storms, known as the equinoctial storms, is absurd. Careful investigation has shown that such a belief is without foundation. Theoretically, at least, the fact that the nights and days are of equal length would indicate less rain than usual, owing to less frequent changes in atmospheric conditions.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Be a gentleman, and some people will not appreciate you.

Defeat is often a good thing, as it shows a man how little he amounts to.

If you want to enjoy the society of people never become intimate with them.

Rich men are hated and this is the reason: We poor people are in the majority.

The house is too noisy for comfort with a child in it and too lone some for comfort when the child leaves. And there you are.

Every house owner should ask himself this question to-morrow, "Is my house a nuisance in the neighborhood?" Look yourself over.

As a man gets older he finds that the path from the cradle to the grave is not near so long as it was from soup to dessert when he was a child.—Atchison Globe.

INCREDIBLE BRUTALITY.

It would have been incredible brutality if Chas. F. Lemberger, of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. "My boy," he said "cut a fearful gash over his eye, so I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which quickly healed it and saved his eye." Good for burns and ulcers too. Only 25c at Trout's drug store.

HUSTONTOWN.

One day last week one of the boys from town was going out the Ridge road, and saw just ahead of him a strange object moving up the trunk of a tree. At first sight, and with his hair on end, he concluded it was Pete Morgan's circus bear; but after closer examination, he discovered it was the Landlord crawling over the timber trying to read what proved to be a trespass notice, that had been placed so far from the road that it could not be read without trespassing. Your writer does not object to reading a trespass, then taking the back trail, if the farmer honestly thinks he has been damaged every time a man passes through his woods. But notices should be placed in more convenient places.

Flannery, of 14 Custom House Place, Chicago, says: "They have no equal for constipation and biliousness."—25c at Trout's, the druggist.

We now have all of our winter Underwear in and was fortunate in getting the same one that we handled last year at the same price. Our men's underwear weighs 16 ounces to the shirt, and costs you 43 cents each or 85 cents per suit. These are goods that are sold every year at 50c. The reason we can sell it at this price is that we buy by the case. Last year we bought a 36 dozen case and then we had to order again and we had 4 dozen to carry over. If you haven't tried this try it this winter, and the ladies that we mentioned we have showed it to a great many people and they say they have never seen as good one for anything like that price. Don't get it into your head that this is a 25c one selling for 24c, it is not.

Clothing! Clothing!

We have made a special effort this year on Clothing. Our sales have been increasing in this line and this certainly will cause any person to work the harder. All that we have space to say is that we can knock them all out, for where we sell once we can sell again. If you want an overcoat we have them. Oh, yes, we forgot to say anything about our boys underwear. It is heavier than ever and only costs the same as before. 24c. Felt window shades 8c; brass rods complete, 8c.

Respectfully,
