Rev. Powers Badly Pounded.

About seven o'clock last Saturday evening, as Rev. A. G. B. Powers was sitting in the quiet of his own home at Needmore, reading a letter from an old friend, he was disturbed by a vigorous rapping at the front door. Thinking that some one wanted to get married in time to catch a train at Hancock before the moon went down, he at once went to the door, and upon opening it, was surprised to see a large number of persons assembled, and more coming.

A. M. Bivens, of Pigeon Cove, usually a peaceable citizen, seemed to be the ringleader, for he stepped forward, and with an air of austerity said, "Mr. Powers, this crowd has gathered here this evening to give you a good pounding, and I advise you to take your medicine like a man."

At once David Harum's maxim, "Do unto others as they would do unto you, but do it to them first," came into his mind, but just as he was about to "do up" the crowd, the thought of their constantly increasing number, and his own helplessness—no one but himself and his faithful wife, and she busy with her own work—came into his mind and deciding to surrender, he replied to Mr. Bivens—

"I'll take it. Walk in."

And they walked in—they crowded in, until by actual count eighty-nine persons had gained entrance, and after each had given the good pastor a hearty hand-shake, his arm felt like it was just beginning to recover from a last year's attack of rheumatism; but the kindly greeting and pleasant countenances of his visitors, led him to suspect that there was something "going on," and if a game protector had been present, every one of the crowd would have been "pulled" for practicing deception.

A number of the ladies took possession of the dining room and kitchen, and other members of the party assembled around the organ, where many splendid pieces of music were sung, and a very enjoyable time was being had when the older folks were invited to the oyster supper that had been prepared. Table after table was served until everyone there had enjoyed the delicious bivalves.

After having spent the evening very pleasantly, and the good minister had expressed his appreciation of this mark of good will and kindness on the part of his friends, for there were representatives of the Oakley Methodist church, the Needmore Baptist church, the Cedar Grove, the Siding Hill, the Antioch and the Whips Cove Christian churches—the visitors bade Mr. and Mrs. Powers, good night, and returned to their homes.

Now, here is where the pounding came in! After the friends had gone home, Mr. Powers found stored in an upper room, pounds of coffee, pounds of tea, sugar, rice, flour, and pounds of many other things that come handy in housekeeping, to say nothing of a well filled purse of cold cash.

Mr. and Mrs. Powers are very much delighted.

The attention of our readers is directed to the new advertisement of Thomas B. Stevens & Son. They have a new building and a new store room just full of the best things in new furniture. If you need anything in their line it will pay you to see what they have, as they are determined to have trade, if short profits, and good furniture will do the work. Store on Water street east of the City Hotel.

Do Your Eyes Need Attention?

If so, you will make no mistake in consulting Dr. Jenkins, who is now at Dr. Dalbey's office, and who will be there until Saturday. Dr. Jenkins has been doing work here at intervals for several months and has given excellent satisfaction. He has fitted glasses for many of the leading people of McConnellsburg, and we have not heard a single complaint. His prices are scarcely half what are usually charged by eye men.

A DAREDEVIL RIDE

often ends in a sad accident. To heal accidental injuries, use Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "A deep wound in my foot, from an accident," writes Theodore Schuele, of Columbus, O., "caused me great pain. Physicians were helpless, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly healed it." 25c at Trout's drug store.

Nat Rotz, of Tod township, left at the News office last Saturday morning, two specimens of garden vegetables, which looked very much like large pumpkins; but which proved on closer examination to be two beets. They were hard to beat; one of them weighed 7 1/2 pounds, and the other 8 1/2, the latter measuring 20 1/2 inches around.

Letter to W. H. Gresham, McConnellsburg, Pa.

Dear Sir: You are interested in the prosperity of your town. You can contribute to it materially, and give it a far more prosperous look at the same time.

Perhaps the public property needs a good coat of paint. Devoe will supply that coat with two-thirds of the number of gallons required of any other. Devoe will last twice as long as any other. Devoe is all paint and full measure. Devoe is the strongest paint known. Devoe will take care of the property, in the long run, for half the money required by any other.

The reason is stated above: Devoe is all paint and full measure; the strongest paint known.

E. D. Jewell, Corry, Pa., painted his house 5 years ago with a mixed paint; took 14 gallons. Last spring he repainted with Devoe; bought 14 gallons and had 4 left. Saved $15 to $20, for painting costs two or three times as much as the paint.

Yours truly
F. W. DEVOE & CO.,
New York.

P. S.—E. C. Bare, Fort Littleton, sells our paint.

WOODEN BRIDGE.

As the trapping season is here, I have located myself at the Blue hole again. Having had my traps set for several nights, and without meeting with any success, I found that my traps had become rusty, and that they needed a little oil. So I started myself for the little town of Clear Ridge, to buy some of the lubricator. On my way up the Creek, I came to the saw mill shanty, and it seemed there, as if some one were preparing for a Christmas dinner or a wedding feast. I did not like to enter, so I just peeped in at the window and saw Brady Fleming inside with an old hen. Then I knew everything was all right, and I walked right in. I found that the boys were just going to have chicken swallow. They invited me to stay, but I told them my business and hurried on. The first vehicle I saw on foot was S. M. Shore with two women in a hand cart, going to attend Grandmother Fields' birthday party. I went on my way, called in at L. H. Grove's barber shop, and the boys were having a little game as usual. I went on down to Winegardner's to get my oil, and all the loafers had gone but Cleve Fields. Bert got my oil and I wended my way down to the Fields Hotel. There was one man stopping with him—Harvey Stevens, traveling lumber inspector, of McKinleyville, Pa. I just then thought I could get home in time to set my traps, so I did, and had mighty good luck. You will hear from me again, when "the frost is on the pumpkin, and the foder's in the barn."

Miss Kathleen Rossi, of Chambersburg, was in Harrisburg during Old Home Week, and while toiling at a parand. felt some one tug gently by her hair in her hand. She turned, put her eye to see a little girl with the big hair escort the lady, who made a plea for mercy, and they left him go.

We are informed that our reporter did not do justice to Joseph Fisher's big pumpkins in last week's News. The story as we get it now is, that in Mr. Fisher's cornfield grew a pumpkin vine right among the weeds, without any milk or any other special attention, that bore thirteen pumpkins, and the vine measured 8 1/2 inches in circumference, three inches from the ground. The pumpkins weighed, respectively, 8 1/2, 8, 7.7, 7 1/4, 6.3, 6.04, 5 1/2, 4.9, 4.6, 4 1/2, 4.4, 3 1/2 and 1 1/2, making a total of 833 pounds.

Then in addition to their making-to-order department, A. U. NACE & SON carries a large stock of Ready-made Men's and Boys' Clothing—the best that the city markets afford and at prices as low as good goods can be sold.
