

Students to Hear Famous German. Dr. Wilhelm Ostwald of Leipzig who under the new management by which Harvard and Germany will exchange professors is to lecture at Cambridge for half the coming academic year, is essentially a leader of men. He has the personal magnetism which attracts and inspires people; he is always a little in advance of the majority and he has the power of expressing himself in such a way as to interest and convince others. His influence is not confined to his pupils. There is probably no man living whose opinions have so much immediate weight in the world of chemists as does that of Ostwald.

Did Not Mind Trifles. Two Englishmen meeting on the Strand, one said to the other:

"Ah, I hear you are to be congratulated! Is it true you are engaged to one of the Musgrave twins?" 'Yes, thanks! I have that pleasure."

"But," said the first, "they are so exactly alike I should think it would be difficult to tell them apart.' "But, my dear boy, I don't try to."

white beds are women and girls who are awaiting or recovering from operations made necessary by neglect.

Every one of these patients had plenty of warning in that bearing down feeling, pain at the left or right of the womb, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back, leucorrhea, dizziness, flatulency, displacements of the womb or irregularities. All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the ovaries or womb, and if not heeded the trouble will make headway until the penalty will make headway until the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous opera-tion, and a lifetime of impaired usefulness at best, while in many cases the The following letter should bring hope to suffering women. Miss Luella Adams of the Colonnade Hotel, Scattle, Wash., writes:

Dear Mrs, Pinkham:—

"About two years ago I was a great sufferer from a severe female trouble, pains and headaches. The doctor prescribed for me and finally told me that I had a tumor on the womb and must undergo an operation if I wanted to get well. I felt that this was my death warrant, but I spent hundreds of dollars for medical help, but the tumor kept growing. Fortunately I corresponded with an aunt in the New England States, and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it was said to cure tumors. I did so and immediately began to improve in health, and I was entirely cured, the tumor disappearing entirely, without an operation. I wish every suffering woman would try this great preparation."

Just as surely as Miss Adams was cured of the troubles enumerated in her letter, just so surely will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure every woman in the land who suffers from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, kidney troubles, nervous excitability and nervous prostration.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all young women who are ill to write her for free advice. Address, Lyan, Mass.

G. Dun & Co.'s "Weekly Review

Lach week brings a stronger business flach week brings a stronger business situation, seasonable weather having re-moved the last drawback, and pressure for shipment of goods is so great in many lines that the partial holiday put deliver-ies still further behind and caused much inconvenience. Reports of wholesome conditions are now practically unanimous and improvement in collections is noted. Retail trade in wearing apparel and foodstuffs is the feature, while interest is beginning to be shown in holiday goods.

Manufacturing lines constantly establish new high water marks of production, the present obtaut of pig fron being at the rate of more than 2,000,000 tons monthly, and this is one of the best own business barometers.

BURNS' HEAL CLAIM TO FAME Dumfries' Tradition Explains Why

Poet is So Well Beloved. Booth Tarkington was talking about Burns, whose poetry he admires. "In a beer hall one night," he said-"in such a beer hall as I describe in the early chapters of 'The Conquest of Canaan'-I saw a bust of Burns. "I turned to a young man and said: " 'Who is that?' "'Burns,' he answered without hesitation. "'And what,' I asked, 'did Burns do to entitle him to a bust?" "'Why, he-he-oh, he died,' said the young man, yawning. "But his companion was a Scot. This Scot, as he filled his whisky glass, sneered and sail: "Burns' death alone wouldn't have sufficed for his commemoration in bronze and marble. Burns was a noet. gentlemen. Furthermore, he was a good fellow. Let me tell you something that should endear him to such minds as yours 'Once, in Dumfries, Burns had the job of gauger. He went about from public house to public house, seeing that a good, pure grade of whisky was served. And he was supposed, too, to keep his eye open for unlicensed houses-to see that no speak-casies, as we called them, flourished in Dumfries. 'And did he do it? Did he, indeed?

There's a fond Dumfries tradition that, sneaking hurriedly into the back door of a prosperous speak-easy one afternoon, Burns whispered excitedly to the owner, a widow:

PASSING OF PORRIDGE. backes Way For the Better Food of Better Day.

"Porridge is no longer used for breakfast in my home," writes a loyal Briton from Huntsville, Out. This was an admission of no small significance to one "brought up" on the time-houored stand-by.

"One month ago," she continues, "I bought a package of Grape-Nuts food for my husband, who had been an in valid for over a year. He had passed through a severe attack of pacumonia and la grippe combined, and was left in a very bad condition when they passed away.

"I tried everything for his benefit, but nothing seemed to do him any good. Month followed month and he still remained as weak as ever. I was almost discouraged about him when I got the Grane-Nuts, but the result has compensated me for my anxiety, "In the one mouth that he has caten Grape-Nuts he has gained 10 pounds in weight, his strength is rapidly returning to him, and he feels like a new man.
