

SEVEN YEARS AGO

A Rochester Chemist Found a Singularly Effective Medicine.

William A. Franklin, of the Franklin & Palmer Chemical Co., Rochester, N. Y., writes:

"Seven years ago I was suffering very much through the failure of the kidneys to eliminate the uric acid from my system. My back was very lame and ached if I over-exerted myself in the least degree. At times I was weighed down with a feeling of languor and depression and suffered continually from annoying irregularities of the kidney secretions. I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. I found prompt relief from the aching and lameness in my back, and by the time I had taken three boxes I was cured of all irregularities."

A Journal of Flances.

A newspaper which is, perhaps, the only one of its kind ever published has made its appearance at Zurich. The title, Journal Suisse des Flances, explains itself.

A leading article says that the object of the paper is to supply a list of engaged couples to tradesmen for business purposes. There appear to be 12,000 engaged couples at present in Switzerland, says our Geneva correspondent. Their names and addresses are given in the first number.

The new journal will appear twice a week, but those who do not take the new venture seriously question whether there will be a sufficient number of engaged couples every week to supply the "copy."

Quaint Wedding Custom.

At Eglingham, Northumberland, Eng., a quaint wedding custom, which has been in existence for hundreds of years, still prevails. At a recent wedding in the parish church after the ceremony the newly-married couple found that a bench had been drawn across the doorway. Over this bench the bride and bridegroom were compelled to jump before they could leave the sacred building.

TRAVEL WITHIN THE REACH OF ALL

Have you longed to know what it would mean to travel in the great places of the earth? Travel, with its possibilities of culture and education, is now practicable for those of modest income as well as the fortunate few, by means of the Underwood Travel System.

This system is a travel of the truest kind, yet it does not utilize either ship or railroad. Such a statement is so extraordinary as to seem at first unbelievable, but many have proved its truth. By experience sensations of pleasure or pain in the presence of famous objects and places which inspire thoughts and produce states of feeling surcharging the mind, adding to happiness is to travel truly. By making use of a simple scientific principle, and spending twenty years in its development, there has been perfected the means of actually securing rights in one's home these very experiences and benefits which actual travel gives.

Dr. James H. Breasted, of Chicago University, says: "By this means the joys of travel are extended to that large class of our people who thirst for an acquaintance with the distant lands of other ages, but are prevented by the expense involved, or by the responsibilities of home, business or profession."

More information about this truly remarkable system, and strong endorsements of it, can be had by addressing

Woman's Realm

A Perfumed Bath.

No woman of fashion fails to perfume her bath in these days. By this method the body becomes saturated with a faint, delicate odor. Tablets (or perfume) the bath come in every recent from plain violet to all sorts of concoctions. One of these dropped into a tub of water will perfume not only the bath and the bather, but the room and the whole house.

Among the winter sports are skating, skiing, coasting and tobogganing. The first two give practice in the delicate balancing of the body. Skating especially will cultivate grace. After skating is once learned it is supposed never to be forgotten. All of these exercises are especially advantageous in that they are taken in the open air when it is crisp and fresh. They all involve vigorous exercise.

We hardly realize in this country what a delight these pastimes are. It is almost like going to another world to read the fascinating descriptions of these sports among the people of the northern climes. In many of these countries the inhabitants virtually live on their skates when out of doors.

Woman's Guide in Athens.

There is in Athens a young American girl, Miss Florence Stone, who makes a good living as a professional guide. Some time ago, while traveling in Europe with her mother, Miss Stone received word that her fortune had suddenly been lost. Happening to be in Athens, she determined to remain there and do what she could toward their support. She tried teaching English for a while, but was not particularly successful in getting pupils. Then at the suggestion of a prominent American woman whom she had accompanied on one or two sightseeing expeditions, she offered her services to parties of tourists as a professional guide and has made a success of it. With education and culture, as well as a perfect knowledge of modern Greek, she is better able to impart interesting historical information than the ordinary foreign guide.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

An Ideal Boudoir.

An ideal boudoir is treated to one of the fabric effects in wall papers. One of the most fascinating selections to be had is in a pale shade of blue and represents a dimly pattern. A border of blue background sprayed with clusters of delicate pink roses accompanies it. Each wall is paneled separately. The border is started along the baseboard to corner, across the room right below ceiling, down the next corner, and the other walls are managed the same. Have the ceiling clear-white, the wood-work white, and the furniture should consist of simple and small pieces of mahogany. A designer who is noted for his original and sensible as well as artistic ideas declares that metal and brass beds are too showy, gaudy and cold for the boudoir and places his seal of approval on a small four poster bed of mahogany. The dresses and dressing table of simple lines are the most adorning, he says.

For the window hangings choose ruffled net for street curtains, ruffled green shades tied back over this and an overhanging in plain blue linen or cotton. Having chosen this, try to find cretonne of striped pattern. Cut out one of these stripes and applique it on the overhanging, forming a little border down the centre and across the bottom. Hang straight to the window sill. If the window is wide add a fresh pleated bounce across the top, extending to the extreme edges of both curtains. Have a little border carried across the border of that. The furniture may hold the same design. Brass or metal fixtures correspond with white round glass globes, which preferably are plain.—Washington Star.

For Five O'Clock Tea.

A dainty tea table of 1905 is a most ingenious and handy piece of furniture, all of the never ones running on castors so that they can be rolled easily to any part of a room. Remarkably convenient is a tea table which is being employed in the drawing room scene of an English actor's play that is at present touring the States.

A carved mahogany box rests on four slender, claw-foot legs. Opening in the centre, the two halves of the cover form spreading shelves on either end of the box. As the covers are lifted the bottom of the box rises to the top, bringing with it all the necessary equipment for serving afternoon tea.

Other tables have glass trays the exact size of the top. These form a splendid protection for a highly polished wood, as well as an easy means of removing cups and saucers from Japan shows a round tea table with upper and lower shelves, built entirely of hammered brass. Gilt tables for the drawing room have many little shelves, and the top is inlaid with enamel.

With an elaborate table of this sort the china matches the enamel. For instance, a table inlaid with olive green enamel has a tea service of olive green decorated with gold bands and a gold filigree edging, which gives the effect of gold lace.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

FRILLS IN FASHION

Usually the soft-toned grays look well with yellow or brown hair.

Browns are becoming to the clear skin crowned with golden or brown hair.

Among the fancy ribbons to win notice are weaves in crosswise hair-stripping of moire finish.

Six inches may be quoted as about the average width of the ribbons seen on the new headwear.

Blue is remarkably becoming to fair skins, but only the darkest shades are favorable to brunettes.

Ribbons in Persian spotted designs are shown as the complement of the limp piece taffetas in Persian effects.

Black is flattering to a blonde, but if she be not fair enough to look well in black, an admixture of her own special color is permissible.

Creamy white is almost universally becoming and the introduction of cream lace makes an otherwise impossible color wearable.

Ribbons of plain edges have the most frequent place in the making and trimming of the new models, but those with picot edges are still employed as trimming to a notable extent.

Paradise-bird plumes appear on not a small number among the most charming hats which have lately come out of the millinery.

These plumes, in some instances, as is the case with the cocks' plumes, being mounted with heads.

An increasing trend toward cocks' plumes is observable, notably those fashioned of the long curving tail feathers of some varieties of the domestic bird; and much use is expected to be made of curled lyre cocks' tails.

The soil of Siberia at the close of the summer is found still frozen for fifty inches beneath the surface.

COMMERCIAL

R. G. Dun's "Weekly Review of Trade" says:

Trade broadens in a healthy manner in response to lower temperature and holiday demand. Staple lines of heavy weight wearing apparel are readily distributed, and the movement of Christmas goods promises to add one more to the many new high records established by 1905. Many manufacturers in these lines are unable to fill orders, notably those producing jewelry, candy, toys and novelties.

Wholesale business is on a scale that promises well for next season, shipping departments are taxed to the utmost, and mercantile collections are satisfactory, with few exceptions, which are confined chiefly to southern districts where cotton has not been marketed promptly. Prices have made further advances. Dun's index number being 105,312, on December 1, against 103,853 a month previous, and the past week has brought a still higher level. There was nothing in the State documents to disturb confidence. Industrial activity is showing greater progress than at any previous time and railway earnings in November were 6.1 per cent. larger than last year's.

Failures this week numbered 432 in the United States, against 239 last year, and 24 in Canada, compared with 26 a year ago.

Bradstreet's says:

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week are 4,244,162 bushels, against 3,700,000 last week, 1,130,000 this week last year, 4,007,610 in 1904, and 3,561,047 in 1903. Corn exports for the week are 9,402,317 bushels, against 1,643,824 last week, 276,080 a year ago, 611,945 in 1903, and 1,301,286 in 1902.

Berries and Bugs.

A man who employed a number of small boys as berry-pickers was much afraid they would be devoured by mosquitoes, and induced them to wear netting over their faces, a contrivance which they adopted with gratitude in their hearts, until they discovered that there were not only no mosquitoes to be seen, but that the netting also prescribed berry-eating.

"I walked into the office of John N. McClintock, editor and publisher of the Granite Monthly, a New Hampshire magazine, and asked for an opportunity to show what I could do. I was asked what I could write about, and with a John L. Sullivan confidence replied: 'Oh, I can write about anything.' Like a shot came the response: 'Well, right about face, then.' That settled me.
