Mill Opened With Prayer. curious custom was observed when the Forrest mill, Bacup, was restarted last week, after having changed hands.

About forty persons assembled in one of the rooms, and a "consecra-tion" service was held. Hymns were sung by the assembled persons and afterward prayers were offered for the success of the undertaking.

This is the first service of its kind held in Bacup, but prayer meetings in mills are not uncommon. The custom was originated by the late John Bright, who at the commencement of the firm's large concern in Rochdale assembled the workpeople every moraing and engaged in prayer for a few minutes.-London Telegraph.

Car Floor Fell With Passengers. A curious accident happened recently to the Venice-Milan express a few miles from Milan. The axles of two wheels of the last carriage broke and the wheels became detached from the carriage, carrying away a part of the flooring with them. The passengers, feeling the floor give way, clung to the baggage rack and anything else they could catch hold of. Being unable to sound the alarm signal, the express continued its way. When at last the engine driver noticed there was something wrong and pulled up, almost all the passengers in the wrecked car fainted. Some of them were seriously hurt.

MALARIA 777 Generally That is Not the Trouble.

Persons with a susceptibility to malarial influences should beware of coffee which has a tendency to load up the liver with bile.

A lady writes from Denver that she suffered for years from chills and fever which at last she learned were mainly produced by the coffee she drank.

"I was also grievously affileted with headaches and indigestion," she says, "which I became satisfied were likewise largely due to the coffee I drank. Six months ago I quit its use altogether and began to drink Postum Food Coffee, with the gratifying result that my headaches have disappeared, my digestion has been restored id I have not had a recurrence of chills and fever for more than three months. I have no doubt that it was Postum that brought me this relief, for have used no medicine while this rovement has been going on." (It was really relief from congestion of the Novel Steamship Repairs.

Cement and dynamite seem singular materials to use in effecting repairs to a steamship, yet, says Harper's Weekan instance recently is recorded where a British steamer was temporarily repaired after striking a submerged rock by a patch of timber, canvas and Portland cemeut, mixed with ballast rock, which was subsequently removed by explosives. This repairing device was so succosaful that the vessel made the desired port without further difficulty. and was then docked for permanent repairs. So hard was the cement that It was found that some alz days would be required to chip it out with ordinary chisels and drills, and, accordingly, it was decided to use dynamite to break up the mass. Small charges were used, and within three days the at was removed, without damage to the steamer or to the dock in Brauty and Age.

Dr. Cristion, of Paris, who gives beauty culture and facial blemish lecures, says that women at fifty are in the prime of life.

"In this age nothing is more absurd than for a woman to imagine her power to please and attract her husband and hold her own socially has ceased because she has attained middle age," says Dr. Cristion.

"The woman of brain and culture, who has the self control and perse rerance to combat obesity and the men tal and scientific equipment to defy wrinkles should feel no fear of advancing time-should, indeed, regard it as a general triend with added gifts to bestow.

"In every age there have been examples of mature women who have held their sway socially and sentimentally. vival of the scallop as a dress decoration. Many of the handsomest broadcloth street gowns are thus decorated, the effect given being one of graceful fluffluess. In the early seventies gowns were trimmed with dozens and dozens of vards of narrow ruffles or pleatings. We are not cutting up materials in such reckless fashion nowadays, but the narrow pleating have been revived, and no one knows precisely where they will stop.

It must be a sort of annoyance to the fashionable that again the lines of the figure have changed, and the too, too solld flesh has now to be by some means compressed. Hips are very unfashionable. In fact, to be smart, one must have a figure like the traditional bean-pole, very long and quite straight up and down.
