

Stumped the Judge.

One of the most peculiar defenses at the same time one of the worst I ever heard of was when I ascended the bench," said Judge Meade. "A man was up before me, his wife and, as usual, I bid him what he had to say before passing sentence upon him. He said: 'Say, judge, you're a married man, aren't you? Well, suppose you were engaged to your dinner and feelin' pretty and suddenly your wife came up, after telling you of all the fellers she could have instead of you, started cooking the dishes at you and ended telling you that she should make a better man than you out of a piece of coal and an old hat and not half try—say, judge, what would you do?' 'I couldn't very well tell him,' concluded the judge, 'so I simply had to discharge him with a warning.'—San Francisco Chronicle.

A TRAINED NURSE

After Years of Experience, Advises Women in Regard to Their Health.

Mrs. Martha Pohlman of 55 Chester Avenue, Newark, N. J., who is a graduate nurse from the Brooklyn Training School, Philadelphia, and for six years Chief Clinician Nurse at the Philadelphia Hospital, writes the letter printed below. She has the advantage of personal experience, besides her professional education, and what she has to say may be absolutely relied upon.

Many other women are afflicted as she was. They can regain health in the same way. It is prudent to heed such advice from such a source.

Mrs. Pohlman writes: "I am firmly persuaded, after eight years of experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that it is the safest and best medicine for any suffering woman to use."

"Immediately after my marriage I found that my health began to fail me. I became weak and pale, with severe bearing-down pains, fearful backaches and frequent dizzy spells. The doctors prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I would about before eating, and frequently vomited through my limbs so I could hardly walk. It was as bad as a case of female trouble as I have ever known. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, however, within four months. Since that time I have had occasion to recommend it to a number of patients suffering from all forms of female difficulties, and I find that while it is considered unprofessional to recommend a patent medicine, I can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I have found that it cures female ills, where all other medicine fails. It is a grand medicine for sick women."

Money cannot buy such testimony as this—merit alone can produce such results, and the ablest specialists now agree that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most universally successful remedy for all female diseases known to medicine.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of the female organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitement, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that at once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

The needless suffering of women from diseases peculiar to their sex is terrible to see. The money which they pay to doctors who do not help them is an enormous waste. The pain is cured and the money is saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It is well for women who are ill to write Mrs. Pohlman, at Lynn, Mass. The present Mrs. Pohlman is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant for many years before her death, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women. In her great experience, which covers many years, she has probably had to deal with dozens of cases just like yours. Her advice is strictly confidential.

How a Chicago Woman Found Help When Hope Was Fast Fading Away.

Mrs. E. T. Gould, 514 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are all that saved me from death by Bright's Disease, that I know. I had eye trouble, backache, catches when lying abed or when bending over, was languid and often dizzy and had sick headaches and bearing down pains. The kidney secretions were too copious and frequent, and very bad in appearance. It was in 1902 that Doan's Kidney Pills helped me so quickly and cured me of these troubles and I've been well ever since."

Cat Stays Home Only in Winter.
The cat has come back to Isaac Page's house and all the neighborhood is ready to agree that winter has come in earnest.

The return of the feline has been an annual event since 1903. As a weather prophet he can't be beaten. About the first day of May the cat takes to the woods. But he knows when to come home.—Golfston Correspondence Boston Record.

BABY COVERED WITH SORES.

Would Scratch and Tear the Flesh Unless Hands Were Tied—"Would Have Died But For Cuticura."

"My little son, when about a year and a half old, began to have sores come out on his face. I had a physician treat him, but the sores grew worse. Then they began to come on his arms, then on other parts of his body, and then one evening his chest, worse than the others. Then I called another physician. Still he grew worse. At the end of about a year and a half of suffering he grew so bad I had to tie his hands in cloths at night to keep him from scratching the sores and tearing the flesh. He got to be a most excruciating case and was hardly able to walk. My aunt advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I sent to the drug store and got a cake of the Soap and a box of the Ointment, and at the end of about two months the sores were all well. He has never had any more of them since. He is a strong and healthy, and I can sincerely say that only for your most wonderful remedies my precious child would have died from those terrible sores. Mrs. E. B. Sheldon, R. F. D. WILLING TO SHARE WITH GOD

Simple Faith and Gratitude of a Little Child.

The simple faith of a little child, whether applied to parents, friends or to God, found an illustration in a story recently told by Dr. Levi G. Broughton of Atlanta, Ga., when he was in Boston. It was related to him by a friend in the railroad service as follows:

"My little girl came to me a little while before Christmas and said: 'Papa, I want you to pray to God and ask him to have Santa Claus bring me a dolly for Christmas.' I promised, and on Christmas morning she found her dolly, and called me to see it. As she looked it over, examining the face, the eyes, the hair, and the clothes, she said, 'Papa, ain't God good?' He's gooder than I thought he was. Do you think he sent little brother anything?'"

"I told her she might go over to her grandpa's, where brother was visiting, and find out. Presently she returned, with her face all covered with happy smiles, and exclaimed, 'O, papa! God sent brother a beautiful great big hobby-horse.'"

"Breakfast came soon after and as we sat down at the table she climbed upon my knee and putting her arms around my neck she said again, 'Hain't God good?' and he was gooder to brother than he was to me, wasn't he?'"

"I replied, 'Yes, he is good, and now what are you going to do for God, dear?'"

"O, I'm going to let God play with my dolly all he wants to; and I'm going to ask brother to let God ride his hobby-horse, too.'—Boston Post.

A BOY'S BREAKFAST

There's a Natural Food That Makes It's Own Way.

There's a boy up in Hoosick Falls, N. Y., who is growing into sturdy manhood on Grape-Nuts breakfasts. It might have been different with him, as his mother explains:

"My eleven-year-old boy is large, well developed and active, and has been made so by his fondness for Grape-Nuts food. At five years he was a very nervous child and was subject to frequent attacks of indigestion, which used to rob him of his strength and were very troublesome to deal with. He never seemed to care for anything for his breakfast until I tried Grape-Nuts, and I have never had to change from that. He makes his entire breakfast of Grape-Nuts food. It is always relished by him and he says that it satisfies him better than the ordinary kind of a meal."

"Better than all he is no longer troubled with indigestion or nervousness, and has got to be a splendidly developed fellow since he began to use Grape-Nuts food." Name given by Postum Co., Seattle Creek, Mich.

COMMERCIAL

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Trade Review says:

"Business with wholesale merchants and manufacturers continues large, and the outlook for spring seems very encouraging. Monetary conditions are satisfactory, with rates of interest 4 1/4 to 5 per cent. on time."

"In clothing there is a substantial gain in the volume of orders as compared with the same period last year, though manufacturers are unable to get as satisfactory profit, owing to the greater cost of material. In the dry goods jobbing market business is becoming more active and salesmen are sending in good orders. Millinery jobbers reports says to date the largest for several years past and anticipate a prosperous season. Boot and shoe manufacturers are advancing prices from 10 to 25 per cent., owing to the sharp advance in leather."

"Retail trade has been somewhat unsatisfactory, owing to the unexpected mildness of the winter season, but this apparently has had no effect upon the early buying for summer goods. There is a large trade in hosiery, underwear and notions and straw hat factories are well supplied with orders. The week in furniture has been unsatisfactory, some concerns receiving but light orders, while others are moderately busy."

"Trade in manufactured tobacco is quite good and collections are prompt, though values are unsettled. In the leaf tobacco market buyers are holding off in expectation of a drop in prices, which, however, has not yet materialized. Lumber trade continues large in volume and collections are unusually good."

EX-MAYOR CRUMBO RECOMMENDS PE-RU-NA.

"My endorsement of Pe-ru-na is based on its merits."

E. D. CRUMBO, ex-Mayor of New Albany, Ind., writes from 311 E. Oak Street:

"My endorsement of Peruna is based on its merits.
"If a man is sick he looks anxiously for something which will cure him, and Peruna will do the work."
"I know that it will cure catarrh of the head or stomach, indigestion, headache and any weary or sick feeling."
"It is bound to help anyone, if used according to directions."
"I also know dozens of men who speak in the highest terms of Peruna and have yet to hear of any one being disappointed in it."
Mr. Crumbo, in a later letter, dated Aug. 25, 1904, says:
"My health is good, at present, but if I should have to take any more medicine I will fall back on Peruna."

FINANCIAL.

The growth, possibility of a soft coal strike depressed the security market.

Lehigh Valley has been sold recently by persons who have inside knowledge of the company.

Philadelphia bankers say that money is pouring back from the West and interior points in large volume.

The big increase in the price of Fidelity Trust shares foreshadows an increase in the company's dividend, which is now 30 per cent.

George A. Kessler, who took such a dramatic "dive" in Reading, Tennessee Coal and other specialties, was elected a director of Tennessee.

Commercial failures in January in the United States numbered 1112, with $11,952,000 liabilities, against 1222 in January 1905, when the liabilities were $10,417,000.

Norfolk and Western's report for the half year 1905 has been issued. In December net earnings increased $187,202. For six months the net gain was $812,155. The company's cost of operation is 50 per cent. of the gross earnings.

Shareholders of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company will get a 15 per cent stock allotment, the subscription price being $100 a share. That accounted partly for Tennessee's large advance yesterday.

The great strength of Northern Pacific and Great Northern caused lots of comment. One report was that J. J. Hill before leaving New York had arranged with a syndicate of bankers headed by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. to buy all the Union Pacific holdings in those two companies. W. L. Bull said he was inclined to think this report was correct.

TRACED TO EMPEROR TIBERIUS.

Originator of Remark About "Forty, Fool and Physician."

It would appear that the Emperor Tiberius was the originator of that well-known saying: "Every man at forty is either a fool or a physician." But Tiberius said thirty, not forty, so Bacon informs us in his "History of Life and Death":

"Tiberius, though a drunkard and luxurious in his diet, was yet very careful of his diet and used to say that every one after thirty was either a fool or a physician."

Probably Bacon's authority was Tacitus ("Annals," book VI, chapter 49), who says of Tiberius that "He was wont to make sport of the physicians, and of people who after thirty needed others to tell them what was good or bad for them." In Tacitus, of course, the epigrammatic flavor is lost.

But why has popular usage altered the age from thirty to forty? Simply on account of the alliteration, so careless to the popular ear. De Quincey, who quotes the modern phrase in his "Optimist-Eater," dwells upon its alliterative value, and conjectures that our forefathers emphasized that alliteration by spelling physician with an F. Likely some of them did. The strange thing is that De Quincey seems to have been ignorant of the fact that the craze for alliteration had gone so far as to change the age in the proverb—Penn Steele in The Sunday Magazine.

Put His Feet in It.
J. Notch McGill, ex-register of wills for the District of Columbia, and now professor of patent law at Georgetown university, lost a hat, a point to a joke, and a goodly amount of temper yesterday. This is how it came to pass:

Mr. McGill was walking from the patent office up G. Street to his own office, when he came face to face with a nor'wester.

Mr. McGill is not of the excitable kind, but when that nor'wester struck him he lost his head—or rather his hat.

"Hey, there," cried the ex-register, "stop that brand new hat of mine! Won't some one stop it?"

There was something in the professor's voice that appealed to a dapper looking stranger, who made a lunge at the head gear, but could do it better than put his feet through it. Consequently the brim was the only part recognizable after the fatality.

"Well, you certainly have put your foot in it," shouted Mr. McGill.

"Beg pardon, what did you say?" asked the dude.

"I say you've put your foot in it." "By Jove, say not so, old chap."

"Say not yourself," growled the professor, "you surely have fixed my hat up all right."

"I am awfully sorry—wheely," confessed the dude. "Let me 'ave it mended."

"Oh, no," said the ex-register with sarcasm. "The brim is not worth a crown now."

"A crown? I should say it is! Why the bloomin' thing is worth a sovereign at least!"—Washington Post.
