Birthday Anniversary.

The following lines were written by Rev. A. G. B. Powers, of Needmore, and read at the sixtieth anniversary of his wife's birthday, February 12, 1906.

To-day we meet to sing the song
Of fellowship and love,
To Him who guides us all along
From earth to heaven above.
His mercy is to us so great,
That we'll His name adore,
For giving man a helping mate,
Back in the days of yore.
And thus while ages multiplied,
And years have come and gone,
Mankind has never been denied
The fellowship of one.

To walk with him thro' busy life,
And talk of joys so grand;
While in this world of care and strife,
We march with hand in hand.
And now, dear friends, I welcome you
This beautiful bright morn,
To celebrate with hearts so true,
The day my wife was born
On February twelfth, they say,
In eighteen forty-six,
Was born the one whose love each day,
Was never out of fix.

But always firm and pious, too,
As every one doth know,
Her Christian walk and love so true,
To others always show.
For you I pen these lines, dear wife,
To cheer you on the way,
That you may have a happy life,
While on this earth you stay.
And as you look adown life's road,
To childhood days so sweet;
O'er you the Providence of God
Has ever been complete.

But now you've reached your three-score years,
Thro' God's abounding grace,
Repeat your joy and wipe the tears,
From off your furrowed face.
And as the years may come and go—
Be patient, wife, and look
To him who will his help bestow,
As promised in the Book.
O do not fret o'er troubles past,
For they may do you harm;
But all your care and sorrows cast
On His almighty arm.

That will uphold you all the way,
'Till life on earth is o'er;
Then we'll go home to endless day,
Where parting is no more.
There we shall praise him who hath said,
Man should not be alone;
But by his sweat should eat his bread,
With her who is his own.

And, now, dear friends, I close my song,
And make my bow, and show
How cheerfully I march along,
Here in this world below.

Letter to B. C. Lamberson, McConnellsburg, Pa.
Dear Sir: You are a teacher; here's one for your boys:
If the painting costs two or three times as much as the paint, and one paint goes twice as far as another, how much are those two paints worth?
If Devoe is worth $1.50 or $1.75 a gallon, how much is the other one worth?
How much is a gallon of paint worth anyhow?
The answer is: Depends on the paint.
The reason is: paint isn't always paint. There are true and false paint and short measure.
How much is a short measure gallon worth? How much is false paint worth? How much is Devoe worth?
There are millions a year in the answer to this last one.

Yours truly
F. W. DEVOE & Co.,
New York.
P. S.—F. C. Bare, Fort Littleton, sells our paint.
