AMERICAN WOMEN FIND RELIEF

in Case of Miss Irene Crosby in One of Thousands of Cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women realize that it is not the pain of nature that women would suffer so severely.

Thousands of American women, however, have found relief from all monthly suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it is the most thorough female regulator known to medical science. It cures the condition which causes so much discomfort and pain these periods of their term.

Miss Irene Crosby, of 313 Charlton Street, East Savannah, Ga., writes:

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a true friend to woman. It has brought me great benefit in curing me of irregular and painful periods when everything else had failed, and I gladly recommend it to other suffering women."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bloating (or flatulence), displacement of organs, inflammation or ulceration, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for further free advice. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising women free of charge. Thousands have been cured by so doing.

If you are the right sort of man the world will bear of you—after your demise.

R. G. Dun & Co's Weekly Trade Review

"Manufacturers and jobbers report wholesale trade seasonally active and collections in most lines are good, though there are some exceptions. Dry goods and millinery jobbers are doing a good business, a number of buyers from the far South having arrived in the city, and collections are unusually good.

"Leading clothing manufacturers report sales for the season thus far about up to last year's, though there is an apparent increase in the number of failures, many of which are attributed to the unusually mild winter. The outlook for summer trade, however, is considered bright. Manufacturers of shirts, shirts, blouses, etc., are well supplied with orders, and business in fancy goods and notions is improving. Shipments of boots and shoes continue very satisfactory, and conditions in this industry are more favorable than for some years past.

"The better grades of leaf tobacco continue scarce and trading is of light volume, with values tending to advance. There is a brisk demand for harness in all grades, and prices are higher in sympathy with the rise in leather and other material."

NEW YORK AS SEEN DAY BY DAY.

NEW YORK CITY, N. Y.

Five valentines, worth $1,000 each at caped and boarded a train for Ripley, any bank in the country—$500 in love tokens—were sent through the mail last Wednesday by Peter Wyckoff, a Brooklyn millionaire farmer. That is the way "Uncle Peter" does things, romantically and unexpectedly. The recipients of the checks are the Eastern District Young Men's Christian Association, the Homeopathic Dispensary and Hospital, the Eastern District Hospital and Dispensary, the Industrial Home and the Graham Home for the Aged, all located in the Eastern or Williamsburg district of Brooklyn.

Mr. Wyckoff said that he had not been asked by any of the institutions for money, and he sent the $1,000 checks simply because he knew the money would be well spent in the interest of humanity.

A young salesman of the firm of Heathcote & Co. was taking $10,000 worth of jewelry, consisting of several dozen articles ranging from diamond rings and stick pins to diamond-studded brooches and watches, to Brooklyn purchasers.

It was 6 o'clock—the rush hour. The young man was fortunate enough to get a seat on a Brooklyn Bridge train. The box, about 18 inches square, he put under his feet to protect it. Suddenly some one struck him a blow which knocked off his hat. He clutched for the hat and at the same time jumped up to defend himself. Then he saw that the blow was not aimed at him especially, but was apparently the accidental result of jostling between two good-sized men. The next minute the train stopped on the other side of the bridge and the young salesman was swept out of the door by the crowd before he had time to secure his precious package. When he got back his box was gone.

Sitting alone in a little room on the top floor of 409 Sixth Avenue, a white-haired and feeble woman, who said she was Mrs. Mary Fay, 705 years of age, was found last night by the police, huddled up before a small stove. The floor was covered to a depth of a foot with newspapers which the woman had accumulated in an endeavor to keep the cold from coming through the cracks in the planking.

In one corner was a bushel-basketful of bread crusts, evidently weeks old. Mrs. Fay said that this had been given to her by the bakers in the neighborhood. When she became hungry she said she went to the apartment of another tenant and got some hot water. In this she soaked the bread and ate it. "For two weeks," said the aged woman, "I have had nothing to eat but this."

An old man with tattered garments fell to the sidewalk on East Tenth Street, apparently overcome by exhaustion. When an ambulance arrived the old man was dead. Police searched the pockets for some identification. At last they came upon an old cloth bag, strapped about the body at the waist. It was a plump bag. The cord was cut, and out tumbled a stock of bank books. There were 29. An inspection of the contents showed that the old man had on deposit in the Bowery, Dry Dock, Emigrants' Savings, East River and other savings banks $40,300. It was ascertained from the books that the old man was Thomas McNally, a recluse, who had lived for years in two small rooms of a tenement. He was a rag-picker.

In a manner so mysterious that no clue has yet been obtained as to the identity of the thief or thieves, $5,000 was stolen from the Fourteenth Street Bank, or from its branch, at Second Street and Avenue A. Two bank messengers started from the branch to the main institution with $18,000 in a satchel protected by three padlocks, according to the officers of the branch, but when the satchel was opened only $13,000 was found, but there was no evidence that the locks had been tampered with.

Rather than give an alarm that might seriously affect scores of patients in the private rooms at Mount Sinai Hospital, Hans Delrus, a porter, covertly directed the removal of an elevator from his crushed legs. He had been oiling machinery at the bottom of the shaft. His coolness cost another man his life, for Nathan Serber, an elevator boy, intent on helping the porter, was himself killed. Forgetting that his head was in the way, he told another boy to start the car, and he was instantly killed.

Alexander Legler, Jr., aged 22, was arrested at his boarding house, 403 Washington Avenue, Hoboken, by order of Police Chief Murphy of Jersey City, who accuses Legler of having burned to death his brother, Carl Legler, aged 23, to obtain $3,000 for which Carl was insured for Alexander's benefit. According to the police, Alexander poured kerosene on his brother's bed and set fire to it.

In the New York school boys becoming what President Roosevelt would call a weakling? The committee on athletic fields of the Board of Education reported that out of 750 boys examined they found only three who could raise themselves up by their arms on a horizontal bar until their chin rested on the bar.

IN THE FIELD OF LABOR.

During last year fifty-two German trade unions spent $1,500,000 in strikes. Of 17,000 men now employed on the Panama Canal, about 150 are Americans.

It is claimed that there are more than 200 Japanese cobbling shops in San Francisco.

The total resources of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners amounts to $1,301,929.12.

A branch of the Industrial Workers of the World is said to have been started in Boston, Pa.

Grimm workers of Detroit, Mich., have recently received an increase of wages of 10 per cent.

Piano and organ workers of Fort Wayne, Ind., have recently organized and procured a charter.

According to statistics, 17,700 men have been killed or maimed in the Allegheny (Pa.) mills during the last year.

There is a movement on foot in the state of New York to abolish the state board of harbor examiners.

United Cloth Hat and Cap Makers of North America will hold its convention on May 1 in New York city.

In the year 1866 the first national convention of workmen was held at Baltimore, Md., and the first demand for a national bureau of labor was made upon Congress.

FINANCIAL.

The Gates firm of brokers has again been reorganized with twelve partners. In eight years Standard Oil has paid $332,000,000 in dividends or more than three times the capital stock.

United Gas Improvement earned last year 70 per cent on the amount of capital as it will stand after the new issue of stock.

"Aren't we prosperous? What more can I say?" was J. P. Morgan's alleged reply when asked for a parting word before going abroad.

The Bell Telephone Company of Philadelphia makes a very favorable report for the year 1906. Gross revenue amounted to $4,434,397, an increase of $68,337. Expenses rose $345,032, leaving a gain in net revenue of $333,305. The company paid out in dividends last year $860,008 and had remaining a surplus of $109,493, compared with a surplus of $109,246 in 1904. On January 1 the company had in operation 124,790 stations, a gain of 42,293 in one year. During the year the Bell spent on its plant in this city $2,784,025, half of which went for underground conduits.

HIS ONE WEAK SPOT.

Prominent Minnesota Merchant Cured to Stay Cared by Doan's Kidney Pills.

O. C. Hayden, of O. C. Hayden & Co., dry goods merchants, of Albert Lea, Minn., says: "I was so lame that I could hardly walk. There was an unaccountable weakness of the back, and constant pain and aching. I could find no rest and was very uncomfortable at night. As my health was good in every other way I could not understand this trouble. It was just as if all the strength had gone from my back. After suffering for some time I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. The remedy acted at once upon the kidneys, and when normal action was restored, the trouble with my back disappeared. I have had no return of it."

Collins Imported, Duty Free.

Some time between 1888 and 1892, during the tariff campaigns that were then waged, the democrats hired Faneuil hall the day preceding election for the purpose of holding a noon rally. The late Mayor Collins of Boston was called on to preside. On taking the chair he made the following short speech:

"Fellow Democrats, I have been chosen moderator of this Boston town meeting. I am an imported article, duty free, and there are a great many of you who are just the same," referring to the crowd which occupied the main body of the hall. Then a mighty cheer rent the air.

There is more labor in the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable, because the system was not a constitutional disease and therefore required constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They feel one hundred dollars for any cure that fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Captured a Neighbor's Cat.

This last summer members of the United States fish commission were stationed at Lake Maubogog, Me., for the purpose of gathering statistics in regard to the finny tribes which inhabit that region. The guests of the small hotel where they made their headquarters were very much annoyed by the too frequent appearance of a skunk, and steps were taken to capture the offender.

A box trap was constructed, duly baited and set. Through small holes in the box the guests were highly elated to learn the following morning that their efforts had not been in vain.

The fish commission men, thinking it an unusually fine specimen, decided to preserve its pelt, minus the objectionable odor, if possible, and, gently handling the box, they proceeded to the lake, carefully lowered it into the water, removing it when all life was extinct.

This capture will probably not appear in their next report, as the animal proved to be a black cat belonging to the next farmhouse.

What Webster Wanted.

Daniel Webster once dined with an old Boston merchant, and when they came to the wine a dusty old bottle was carefully opened by the servant and passed to the host. Taking the bottle, he filled Webster's glass and handed it to him. Then, pouring out another for himself he held it to the light and said:

"How do you like it, Mr. Webster?"

"I think it is a fine specimen of old port."

"Now, can you guess what it cost me?" asked the host.

"Surely not," said Webster. "I only know that it is excellent."

"Well, now, I can tell you, for I made a careful estimate the other day. When I add the interest to the sum of price, I find that it costs me the first just $1.25 per glass."

"Good gracious! You don't say so?" cried Webster. And then, draining his glass, says a biographer, he presented it again, with the remark:

"Fill it up again as quick as you can, for I want to stop that confounded interest!"

FOOD AND STUDY

A College Man's Experience.

"All through my high school course and first year in college," writes an ambitious young man, "I struggled with my studies, especially fond of rakes and fried things. My system got into a state of general disorder and it was difficult for me to apply myself to school work with any degree of satisfaction. I tried different medicines and food preparations but did not seem able to correct the difficulty.

"Then my attention was called to Grape-Nuts food and I sampled it. I had to do something, so I just buckled down to a rigid observance of the directions on the package, and in less than no time began to feel better. In a few weeks my strength was restored, my weight had increased, I had a clearer head and felt better in every particular. My work was simply sport to what it was formerly.

"My sister's health was badly run down and she had become so nervous that she could not attend to her music. She went on Grape-Nuts and had the same remarkable experience that I had. Then my brother, Frank, who is in the Postoffice Department at Washington city and had been trying to do brain work on greasy foods, cakes and all that, joined the Grape-Nuts army. I showed him what it was and could do and from a broken-down condition he has developed into a healthy and efficient man.

"Besides these I could give account of numbers of my fellow-students who have made visible improvement mentally and physically by the use of this food." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in package.

Congressman Meekison Gives Praise to Pe-ru-na For His Recovery.

"We know well now that the mosquito brings us yellow fever and malaria. We know well that the rat brings us the bubonic plague. Flies carry scarlet fever about with them. Cats spread diphtheria and smallpox. Continually we learn new evils that the lower orders bring to man. Roaches sometimes bring him consumption. Water bugs bring him typhus.

"For some hundreds of years to come man's hardest task will be the extermination of the mosquito, the fly and a score of other harmful little creatures. This task will be difficult, and it will be rendered more difficult by misguided persons who will claim that it is impious and unwise to exterminate any species—that each species was put upon the earth to serve some good purpose.

"But man, ultimately, will succeed in this task of extermination. Some twenty or thirty years will then be added to his life, and he will be surrounded only by such lower living forms as are agreeable and useful to him."

The Tramp.

The curse of the man who will not work has always been with us. In Henry VIII's reign he was not allowed to beg the bread that belonged to honest folk, for a statute was made by which the old and impotent were granted licenses to beg, and anyone found begging without one was soundly flogged and sent home to his own parish. In this way as many as a hundred in one day, in Elizabeth's time, were sent "back to the land."

The begging license seems to work well enough abroad, where the row of authorized beggars is a familiar sight outside every church, and where the halt and maimed are seldom seen anywhere else. The rise of the vagrant in this country no doubt took place after the destruction of the monasteries, and before any other relieving body took their place. Yet, after the queen's magnificent gift we can still say with the monk of medieval times, "The friendship of the poor makes us the friends of kings."—London Chronicle.

High Class Druggists AND OTHERS.

The better class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest medicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and scientific formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always under original or official names and they never sell false brands, or imitation medicines. They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of toilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which arises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward for long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pleasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and headaches arising from biliousness and constipation and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indigestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as Syrup of Figs, and they are glad to sell it because it gives universal satisfaction.

Owing to the excellence of Syrup of Figs, the universal satisfaction which it gives and the immense demand for it, imitations have been made, tried and condemned, but there are individual druggists to be found, here and there, who do not maintain the dignity and principles of the profession and whose greed gets the better of their judgment, and who do not hesitate to recoumence and try to sell the imitations in order to make a larger profit. Such preparations sometimes have the name—"Syrup of Figs"—or "Fig Syrup"—and of some piratical concern, or fictitious fig syrup company, printed on the package, but they never have the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of the package. The imitations should be rejected because they are injurious to the system. In order to sell the imitations they find it necessary to resort to misrepresentation or deception, and whenever a dealer passes off on a customer a preparation under the name of "Syrup of Figs" or "Fig Syrup," which does not bear the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of the package, he is attempting to deceive and mislead the patron who has been so unfortunate as to enter his establishment, whether it be large or small, for if the dealer resorts to misrepresentation and deception in one case he will do so with other medicinal agents, and in the filing of physicians' prescriptions, and should be avoided by every one who values health and happiness. Knowing that the great majority of druggists are reliable, we supply the immense demand for our excellent remedy entirely through the druggists, of whom it may be purchased everywhere, in original packages only, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, but as exceptions exist it is necessary to inform the public of the facts, in order that all may decline or return any imitation which may be sold to them. If it does not bear the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, do not hesitate to return the article and to demand the return of your money, and in future go to one of the better class of druggists who will sell you what you wish and the best of everything in his line at reasonable prices.
