Home from Washington.

After an absence in the state of Washington for a period of five years, Mr. Reed M. Simpson, son of B. F. Simpson, of Thompson, surprised his home folks by dropping in on them Wednesday of last week. Reed had been farming 640 acres and meeting with success in his western home until stricken with inflammatory rheumatism, when he was obliged to go to a hospital. After remaining in the hospital four months, he had so far recovered as to be able to return home, which he did upon the advice of his physician.

Industrial Transition.

For the year 1905 the United States aggregate exportation of all sorts of products (agriculture, manufactures, mines and fisheries) was $1,518,000,000, which is a larger total of shipments than that of England or any other country. While population since 1800 has increased sixteen times and exports of agriculture thirty-two times, exports of manufactures have been multiplied by 218. Agricultural exports are still ahead of those of manufactures but the gap between them is being narrowed rapidly. By 1910 exports of manufactures will probably pass agricultural. Right before our eyes, although we may overlook the fact, the United States is being transformed from an agricultural country into a vast industrial community, and is thus radically changing its relations to the world.

Last Saturday the family of Mr. and Mrs. Obed T. Mellott made a surprise supper for him, the day being his 72nd birthday. Mr. Mellott nor his wife knew anything of it until the visitors began to assemble.

There were present fifty-four in all, namely, Edward Mellott, wife and children Mary, June, Eva, Daisy and Chester; Milton Mellott, wife and children Veronika, Blaine and Blantonia; Robert Mellott and wife; Chas. Points On Etiquette.

There exists a confusion some times in regard to the question of a reply to announcement cards. In fact, no answer at all is required, unless the cards contain a date of reception or days in certain months. Then the calling card of the recipient should be mailed to the address, directed to whoever sent the cards of announcement, writes Hortense Prevost.

A card announcing a marriage is equivalent to a card only; it is not an invitation of any kind, but a statement to the effect that a couple have been married at a certain time and place. If, however, there is added that "Mr. and Mrs. Blank," the newly married couple, will be "at home" with day and date and address, a reply must be made, if not in person, by one's card, inclosed and posted to reach the name on the day of the "at home."

Announcement cards are always sent by the parents or those who stand in that relation, or the bride. The form is simple:

"Mr. and Mrs. Blank announce the marriage of their daughter (or niece), Mary Eliza, to Mr. James Fenner Smith, at such and such a church (or at a home wedding) on such and such a date."

The acknowledgment must be a visiting card in an envelope with the names of Mr. and Mrs. Blank on the outside, they having sent the card of announcement.

Two of the husband's cards must be inclosed, with one of the wife's, of course.

Acknowledgments of the receiving announcement cards are never sent to the bride, as she does not send them at all. A note of congratulation to the bride is always in order, if one is personally acquainted.

Whitewash Superior to Paint.

The season for whitewashing being again at hand, the following whitewash recipe may be of interest (clip it out and keep it until you are ready to begin your brush work):

"The White House got its name originally from the wonderful whiteness of the wash it was coated with. An old newspaper gives the composition of this whitewash as follows: Take half a bushel of unslaked lime, slake it with boiling water, strain through coarse canvass and add a peck of salt dissolved in warm water. Then put in three pounds of ground rice, boiled to a thin paste and pour in hot, half a pound of whiting and one pound of fine glue, dissolved in warm water. This mixture is said to last practically forever and to be superior to white paint.

Wire Fence! Wire Fence!

Much Cheaper Than

Any Style of Wood Fence

Let us figure together. A stick of timber that will square 6 inches and is 104 feet in length, will make 492 feet of lumber, which at $1.50 a hundred, is worth 75 cents. Now, I can sell you a good wire fence for 32c a rod, which is less than half the cost of a board fence.

The style I sell at 32c is a "bunkem" fence. A witness in court was once asked what kind of fence he had, when he made the reply, "I have a 'bunkem' fence." "What kind of fence is that, thundered the court." "A 'bunkem' fence," answered the witness, "is a fence that is horse-high, bull-strong, and pig-tight." That is just the kind of fence I sell. The price ranges from 23c to 40c, a rod depending on the style and height. I also sell the

DEERING HARVESTING MACHINERY

—the best on earth. I have just bought my twine and will guarantee the price now. Machine Oil from 18c. to 40c. a gallon. Lined oil, harness oil, cylinder oil, turpentine, white lead, and ready-mixed paints—all at rock-bottom prices.

I am closing out a lot of good horse blankets at cost. Collars, collar pads, trace chains, halter chains, &c., at very close prices. I have the best assortment of axes to be found anywhere in town. Axe handles, pick handles, sledge handles, Simon cross-cut saws, Diston cross-cut saws, handsaws, a complete line of strap and heavy barndoor hinges. Plumber's supplies—such as pipe, fittings, spigots, &c. I have on hand all the time a stock of Lane's patent barndoor hangers and tracks—the best hanger on the market—can't get off the track. Proved cable chain from 1 to 4 on hand all the time, price ranging from 44 to 7 cents a pound.
