R. S. Crawford, an automobile manufacturer of Hagerstown, and T. M. Nelson, prospective candidate for auditor general, and Capt. and Mrs. Skinner, left Chambersburg at 9 o'clock last Sunday morning in one of Crawford's big automobiles and were here in good time to hear Dr. West preach in the Presbyterian church at 10:30. After the sermon they took dinner at the Fulton House, rested until 3 o'clock, and started on their return across the mountain. The Captain says he thinks the chances very good that the big state highway will be made, and that Fulton will at least have one thoroughfare of which to be proud. Senator Alexander in speaking of the highway, expressed it as his opinion that such an enterprise would add $50,000 to the valuation of real estate in Fulton county.

Seven Vacant Pulpits.

Harrisburg, May 15.—The Carlisle Presbytery faces a rather peculiar condition in that seven of its pulpits are vacant, including that of the Middletown Presbyterian church, whose pastor, the Rev. A. L. Groff, leaves next August.

Others which will come up at the next meeting of the Presbytery, and may be filled by this year's graduates, are: Dickinson, Paxtang, Dauphin, Millersburg, Buck Valley, York Springs, and Great Conewago Circuit.

He Got It Fixed.

The following story, illustrative of the red tape that used to prevail in a certain department of the Federal Government at Washington, says Success Magazine, is told by an official who began his service there in the humble capacity of clerk:

"Shortly after entering upon the discharge of my duties," said the official, "I witnessed a scene in the division to which I had been assigned that astonished me to a degree. One day an elderly clerk whose desk was near mine, suddenly rose from his seat, dragged his chair to a fireplace, and, seizing a poker, attacked the offending piece of furniture with what appeared to be maniacal fury. When he had broken a leg off the chair his passion seemed to be exhausted. He hung the damaged chair into a corner of the room, and, getting another chair, calmly resumed his work just as if nothing had occurred."

"When the time came to leave the office that afternoon, I ventured to ask a fellow clerk, who had been a witness of the scene, what it meant. 'Is that clerk,' I inquired, 'subject to attacks of that kind?'"

"The clerk smiled indulgently. 'Oh,' he explained, 'there was nothing the matter with him. You see, one of the castors had come off his chair. This department will not replace castors—it repairs nothing less serious than a broken leg. So Blank broke one of the legs and now he will be able to get the castor put on again.'"

His Prompt Nickname.

It has been said according to the Cleveland Leader, that a boy who goes through school and college without a nickname must have lacked some of the elements of popularity. The Honorable Wilfred Hosford and his wife, however, did not believe in nicknames, nor did they intend their boy to have one if they could prevent it.

"I was never known as 'Will' or 'Willy,'" said Mr. Hosford, with dignity, "and I see no reason why my son, Wilfred Sawtell Hosford, should receive either of those names or the still more objectionable one of 'Bill.'"

Wilfred Sawtell Hosford was delicate for the first ten years of his life, and received his education at the hands of a grave young tutor. He grew stronger as time went on, and at the age of 12 entered the public school.

On his return from the first session he was solemnly questioned by his parents.

"The boys are going to like me, I guess," said Wilfred eagerly. "They've got a nickname for me already."

Mrs. Hosford shuddered and the Honorable Wilfred looked stern.

"Do you mean to say you enjoy being called 'Willy' or 'Bill'?" he asked, in his deepest tones.

"Oh, they've got a better name than those," said the boy, with a broad grin. "The smartest fellow in the class, Sandy Lane, thought it up almost right off as soon as he heard my name. They are going to call me 'Sawhoss.'"

New Time Table.

A new time table will go into effect on the C. V. R. R. on May 27th. There will be very little change over the present schedule except that of train 109 which will be made later in order to give it more connections at Harrisburg from the east and the west and to permit more time to those who desire to attend entertainments in Harrisburg.

AGUARANTEED CURE FOR PILES Itching, blind, bleeding, protruding piles. Druggists are authorized to refund money if Pazo Ointment fails to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

Train Callers to be Abolished.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has decided to abolish the train announcer. Instead, the announcements will be made by a phonograph, which, it is hoped, will enunciate more distinctly and will incidentally save the company several thousand dollars a year in salaries. Phonographs will be worked by an electric switch from the train dispatcher's office and they will also call out the change in running time, changes of schedule, and all other announcements that are necessary. Records are now being made at the Union Depot, Pittsburg, by the best announcer on duty, and the new system will be installed within a month.

The Real Apple Jack.

Adam Weider, a farmer, while hunting ginseng in the mountain near Cleversburg, Cumberland county, found a barrel containing apple jack. The liquor was a deep amber in color and of such strength that a medium sized drink was enough to put an able bodied man to sleep. It is thought it was buried during the summer of 1863 when Lee's Army invaded Pennsylvania.

S. M. Clevenger, of Needmore, called at the News office a few minutes while in town last Thursday. Sam came up as a delegate to the Prohibition convention. Although 65 years of age, Mr. Clevenger did not think it a great trick to furrow out cornground all day Wednesday, and on Thursday morning, take breakfast before the robins were out of bed, and then walk to McConnellsburg, a distance of fourteen miles, in four hours.

HAD A CLOSE CALL.

"A dangerous surgical operation, involving the removal of a malignant ulcer, as large as my hand, from my daughter's hip, was prevented by the application of Bucklen's Arnica Salve," says A. C. Stuekel, of Miletus, W. Va. "Persistent use of the Salve completely cured it." Cures cuts, burns and injuries. 25c at Trout's drug store.

Rev. Bell Resigns.

The Rev. L. Carmon Bell, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Greencastle, for the past fifteen years, at the service last Sunday morning, read his resignation to the congregation. The resignation was a surprise. It is to take effect July 1. The congregation will take action upon the paper next Sunday. It is probable that it will be accepted.

It is the intention of Mr. Bell to go to Dakota, where his activities will be confined to the establishment of new churches under the authority of the home mission board of the Presbyterian church. Mr. Bell's pastorate has been very successful and the people of town and the members of the congregation will be loathe to see Mr. Bell leave.

Wire Fence! Wire Fence!

Much Cheaper Than

Any Style of Wood Fence

Let us figure together. A stick of timber that will square 6 inches and is 16 1/2 feet in length, will make 4 1/2 feet of lumber, which at $1.50 a hundred, is worth 75 cents. Now, I can sell you a good wire fence for 32c a rod, which is less than half the cost of a board fence.

The style I sell at 32c is a "bunkem" fence. A witness in court was once asked what kind of fence he had, when he made the reply, "I have a 'bunkem' fence." "What kind of fence is that, thundered the court." "A 'bunkem' fence," answered the witness, "is a fence that is horse-high, bull-strong, and pig-tight." That is just the kind of fence I sell. The price ranges from 25c to 60c, a rod depending on the style and height. I also sell the

—the best on earth. I have just bought my twine and will guarantee the price now. Machine Oil from 18c. to 40c. a gallon. Linseed oil, harness oil, cylinder oil, turpentine, white lead, and ready-mixed paints—all at rock-bottom prices.

I am closing out a lot of good horse blankets at cost. Collars, collar pads, trace chains, halter chains, &c. at very close prices. I have the best assortment of axes to be found anywhere in town. Axe handles, pick handles, sledge handles, Simon cross-cut saws, Diston cross-cut saws, handsaws, a complete line of strap and heavy barndoor hinges. Plumber's supplies—such as pipe, fittings, spigots, &c. I have on hand all the time a stock of Lane's patent barndoor hangers and tracks—the best hanger on the market—can't get off the track. Proved cable chain from 7 to 1 on hand all the time, price ranging from 4 1/2 to 7 cents a pound.
