LONG TENNESSEE FIGHT.

For twenty years W. L. Rawls, of Bells, Tenn., fought nasal catarrh. He writes: "The swelling and soreness inside my nose was fearful, till I began applying Bucklen's Arnica Salve to the sore surface; this caused the soreness and swelling to disappear, never to return." In Memoriam.

The largest number of people ever gathered to pay the last tribute of respect to a departed friend, met in the M. E. church at Hustontown, last Thursday, June 7th, to show their regard for Mrs. Mary E. Davis, wife of Dr. A. K. Davis, of that place.

Mrs. Davis was born July 1, 1852, on a farm near Hustontown and her whole life was spent in that neighborhood, with the exception of one year. She was the daughter of William and Alice Chesnut, and was the second of four children.

At the early age of twelve years, she was converted and joined the M. E. church. Her whole life was one of kindness and ministrations to the neighborhood. There was no sick bed where she was unwilling to be found; no kind act that was too much trouble for her to perform.

September 15, 1879, she was joined in holy wedlock to Dr. A. K. Davis. It was a happy union. Their lives flowed as peacefully as a river. No children blessed their lives.

Mrs. Davis died June 4, 1906, aged 53 years, 11 months, and 3 days. So high was the esteem in which she was held that visitors from Cumberland, Md., Spruce, W. Va., Bedford, Everett, and McConnellsburg, attended her funeral.

Services were held in the Methodist Episcopal church of Hustontown, conducted by her pastor, Rev. Harry Daniels.

Guaranteed cure for torpid liver, kidney disease, biliousness, jaundice, chills and fever, general debility, nervousness and blood poisoning. Best tonic made. Price 50c at Trout's drug store. FRANKLIN MILLS.

George Martin, near here, received a number of bruises from a refractory mule a few days ago, necessitating the calling in of a physician to allay the pain and to reduce the fractures. The mule, like many more of his kind, was well up in the science of dealing a solar plexus blow with his hind feet. He is so adept in the "mule" art, that he can hit you whether you are in front or three paces behind him. In this particular case, my informant states that George was on the mule's back, but that was all the same to the mule. I have always had an aversion to the mule, for the reason that one cannot "always some times" tell when he has evil designs on you. We expect that there will be a mule for sale or exchange just as soon as George is able to get around.
