Winged Snake Appears.

Persons living three miles below the reservoir, says the Hagerstown Mail, are excited over the appearance several days ago of a strange water monster in the form of a serpent with wings. Miss Rachel Talbot, daughter of W. A. Talbot, president of a tonic company, who has a summer villa opposite the overflow, was first to see the creature as it came swimming up the middle of the stream, its head protruding several feet above the surface. She called to Hank Jackson who ran for his rifle and opened fire. Immediately the reptile reared its head ten feet in the air, Jackson says and charged for the shore, its eyes as big as bear waiters, fixed on him Jackson steadied himself, and taking careful aim, fired, the bullet hitting one of the wings and disabling it. Jackson says the snake finally flew as high as the reservoir bank, forty feet.

Luckiest Man in Arkansas.

My wife improved with first bottle and twelve bottles completed the cure." Cures the worst coughs and colds or money refunded. At Trout's, the druggist, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Pastor Vindicated.

In the issue of the News of August 9th, we published a dispatch from Middleburg, in which it was stated that Rev. W. K. Diehl, of the Lutheran church at that place, had been asked to resign, and that Mr. Diehl refused to do it. In the issue of the Lutheran Observer of the 24th inst., the Council of Mr. Diehl's church openly deny that there was any legal meeting of the congregation called, and that Mr. Diehl is held in high esteem by them, as an honorable Christian, scholarly, gentleman, whose character cannot be besmirched by an evil minded reporter whose uses the public press to vent his spleen. We are glad to make this correction, as publishers are often at the mercy of their correspondents, who take advantage of the publisher, to carry out their own evil personalities.

Reunion at Ellmaker's Camp.

Through the courtesy of Hon. Joseph E. Thropp, of Everett, Pa., who cheerfully granted Benjamin Hanks the privilege of the grounds, the 11th annual Reunion Picnic, was held at Ellmaker's Camp, near McIlvanes last Thursday. J. Watson Ellmaker, of Lancaster, in whose honor the picnic has been held from year to year, had been for ten days previous, a guest at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gilmore Stanley near Breezewood, Pa.

Mr. Ellmaker takes great delight in meeting, greeting, and honoring each one of his hosts, hostess, and their families, and all others, who have in any way rendered their service, during his sojourns among the mountains from year to year, and for whom he always claims the highest respect and fondest remembrances.

The ladies had made ample preparations in abundance, to meet the taste and wants of the most fastidious, both for dinner and supper. Mr. Ellmaker excused himself, and repaired to his "rustic kitchen" where he made coffee so delicious and exhilarating that even the ladies had to acknowledge his skill.

Mrs. J. G. Stanley presented each one with a beautiful dahlia, which she calls "Thropp's Dahlia," being propagated from seed which Hon. Jos. E. Thropp, ex-Congressman, sent from Washington, D. C.

The day being extremely warm the mountain breezes were delightfully refreshing and invigorating to all present.

The time was spent in cheerful greetings, social chats, and kind inquiries as to the welfare of absent ones, who had been participants at former picnics, who on account of distance, inability, or other hindrances could not be present, namely, Lottie McIlvane of Everett; James McDonald and wife, Desher, O.; Jhos. H. Weverling, Ransburg, Pa.; J. R. Jackson and wife, Akersville; Wm. H. Thomas and wife, Breezewood, and their several families. During the day the vocal band interspersed the social chats with music. "The Fulton County Local" (McDaniels' lumber train), "The Greenhill Limited," (Stetler's lumber train), "The Hollenshead Show," "Heckerman's man," (Mr. Ressler), and two "auto" crews gave salutes. Besides the guest of honor, there were present, Benjamin Hanks and wife, Everett; J. Gilman Stanley and wife, Breezewood; Thos. F. Sloan, of McConnellsburg; J. A. Stewart, wife and daughter Virginia, of Greenhill.

There is nothing so pleasant as that bright, cheerful, at-peace-with-the-world feeling when you sit down to your breakfast. There is nothing so conducive to good work and good results. The healthy man with a healthy mind and body is a better fellow, a better workman, a better citizen than the man or woman who is handicapped by some disability, however slight. A slight disorder of the stomach will derange your body, your thoughts and your disposition. Get away from the morbidity and the blues. Keep your stomach in tune and both your brain and body will respond. Little indiscretion of overeating can be easily corrected and you will be surprised to see how much better man you are. Fry a little Kodol for Dyspepsia after your meals. Sold by Trout's Drug Store.

Lucas Paint. The economy of using Lucas Paint is: It has such a high gloss and covers so thoroughly it protects the wood better. Lasts so long that it saves the big cost of frequent paint-bills and the bigger cost of putting paint on. Ask your dealer. John Lucas & Co. Sixty years of paint-making. LICKING CREEK.

The M. E. Sunday school at Greenhill, will have a picnic, Saturday, Sept. 8th.

J. Watson Ellmaker, of Lancaster, Pa., is a guest at the Greenhill House this week.

The public sale last Saturday of Mrs. May S. Lake, administratrix of the estate of Martin W. Lake, was largely attended and good prices were realized.

Mrs. J. Wesley Hoop a great sufferer, for years past, from paralysis, is fast growing worse, owing to the extreme hot, sultry, oppressive weather.

The heaviest rain of the season fell here Monday afternoon. The streams were greatly swollen, and much damage resulted.

Mrs. Henry Betz is seriously ill.

Sheridan Haun, of Everett, is visiting friends in this community.

Joseph Strait, near Needmore, was a guest of Scott Kegarise last Saturday.

197 automobiles and 1 motor-cycle have passed over the Chambersburg and Bedford Turnpike this season, since May 8th up to this writing, and still two months yet of auto-traveling. Last year there were 188.

The large and increasing auto-travel is bound to bring better turnpikes and road. President Strite of C. & B. T. road Co., has already ordered the filling up and regrading of all badly constructed crossings, and the complete repair of the mountain division of the turnpike, and it will not be long until all the "breakers" or crossings will be eliminated.

The Soldiers' Reunion on the 31st inst., is the next gathering on the slate. Why not let the old soldiers and their families, and friends, have their meetings same as other organizations.

The Lutherans have their reunions, so do the Presbyterians, German Baptists, and other churches; so do Sunday schools, and other organizations, by and of themselves.

Revs. J. D. Benedict, of Chambersburg, H. A. Good, of Quincy, Pa., and E. M. Senseny, of Union Bridge, Md., were guests at the Greenhill House on Sunday night.

M. H. Hollenshead, the efficient postmaster at Harrisonville, is having his residence improved—new siding, new roof, gable front, new porch, new windows, doors, &c.

Edgar and Chester Haun, and Charley Mann, Jr., came home last Friday night. They had been in the employ of the W. U. T. Co.'s, repair corps in N. J. and eastern Pennsylvania for the past three months.

R. R. Sipes, as noted in last week's issue, as being quite ill, has so far recovered as to be able to supervise men erecting and burning a lime kiln.

The "Truax house" at Breezewood, and "Greenhill House" at Greenhill, are having a larger trade than ever since the closing of the "Mountain House" at McIlvanes.
