College Girls' Excuses.
"These are the days when the average college girl finds it hard task to keep constantly at her books," says one of the large staff of women at Wellesley, "and she draws the long bow now and then when she wishes to get a few hours or a day of liberty for a ride, a drive, a football game, an attraction in the theaters or for any of a thousand and one side issues. We had a girl here once who asked permission to go carriage riding one afternoon with a young man who was visiting in town. 'Are you engaged to him?' we asked her in a severe tone. 'Why, no,' she replied very thoughtfully, as if struck for the first time by that aspect of the question. Then she brightened up wonderfully and added: 'But may I if you will allow me to go riding I shall be when I return.'"

Sweet Charity.
"Here, boss," said the poor beggar, "you gave me a plugged nickel." "Did I?" replied McBluff. "Well, keep it for your honesty, my man." —Philadelphia Public Ledger.

If You Read This
It will be to learn that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the schools of practice recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, liver complaint, torpid liver, or bilious affections, in the stomach, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their results, as bronchitis, throat and lung disease (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughing. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Hoodroot, St. John's Wort, Mandrake root and Queen's Root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley, of the Univ. of Mich.; Prof. King, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Little, M. D., of Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago, and scores of other equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

"Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine that can be taken through the stomach for the purpose of curing any such chronic or long standing affections. Open publicity of its formula is the best possible guaranty of its merit. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous, harmful or habit-forming drugs and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is an entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful agent in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. This "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native medicinal roots and is safe and reliable. A booklet of extracts from eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients mailed free on request. Address: Dr. V. F. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Weekly Review of Trade and Latest Market Reports.

New York.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: Colder weather has removed one of the drawbacks to seasonal distribution of merchandise, but there is still much complaint of traffic conditions. Congestion on the railway was increased by the destruction of vessels during the recent Gulf storm and a much heavier tonnage of freight is delayed than usual, although there is always a car famine at this season. Retail trade shows improvement in nearly all sections, and mercantile collections are more prompt. Eastern wool sales have attained record proportions, but the late fall has delayed the demand for wools. Primary receipts of wheat are not in keeping with a maximum crop on account of freight delays.

Recent vigorous activity in the primary markets for cotton goods has been followed by customary quiet conditions which are necessary for assimilation and adjustment.

New England shoe shops receive liberal orders for spring goods from Eastern wholesalers, but it is still too early to expect results from salesmen at the West and South. Jobbers are seeking many specialties, notably patent leather, calf and kid stock.

After much irregularity, the wheat market shows a substantial advance for the week. Flour output increased somewhat, but it is still far behind the production a year ago, and mills find profits curtailed by the firmness of raw material. Coarse grains are less active and fluctuate within narrow margins.

WORTH REMEMBERING
Railroads running within three miles of a county-seat in Oklahoma must build a line through the county-seat and establish a station.

A European river, 40 feet wide and carrying a heavy freight as an ordinary American railroad, while the Rhine carries more business to a block than half the Hudson River. Splendid tugboats, fine barges and handsome, swift steamers do the work with anchored chain boats to pull the big loads up the rapids.

Canada has for years pursued a policy of inducing immigration by extensive advertising and paying bonuses to immigration companies. It is said that each British immigrant costs Canada $13, and agricultural lists and servants from the Continent of Europe costs the government $5 each.

During the 12 months ended June 30, 1906, the value of American commodities exported to Canada was $3,497,016, which is $1,000,000 more than during the previous year. England took the greatest proportion, $194,709, with British North America second, Mexico third and France fourth.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY.

Some of the Things Done Daily in the Metropolis.

"Hold Them Off."
Alderman Max Griffenhagen was reading in his home yesterday when his telephone bell rang vigorously. "Hello, who's this?" he asked. "Dr. Harris," a voice answered. "What is it, Doctor?" the Alderman asked, for he is a member of Temple Israel, of which Rev. Morris H. Harris is rabbi. "Why, your son Benjamin is here with a young woman, and he wants me to marry him," was the answer. "Is it all right?" "Who's the young woman?" Mr. Griffenhagen demanded. "Why, a Miss Kassel, I think she is," the rabbi explained. "Kassel? Oh, yes, oh, yes!" the Alderman said. "But, good gracious! Why, they've only known one another since last Sunday!" "Well, what do you say?" Dr. Harris asked, with some impatience. "You'll have to be quick. I sent them out to look for witnesses. It was a kind of ruse. I felt it my duty to let you know. They'll be back in a few minutes." "Well, you'll have to hold them off. Hold them off at any cost," the Alderman said. "Mr. Kassel may have something to say about this, and my son's mother may have something to say about it, too." "But they were married," the Alderman said later, "and with our consent."

Safe Fall Over, 61 Years Old.
Mrs. Sarah Weinberg, 61 years old, was alone in her apartments when two men grabbed her and dragged her into the kitchen. One man seized Mrs. Weinberg with a handkerchief, while his companion bound her legs and arms. Then they carried her into an adjoining room. A small safe containing money and jewelry stood in a corner of the sitting room. The burglars, who were armed with the floor, took from the valise a safe-blower's outfit, consisting of chisels and jimmies, and were making ready to open it when an accident happened that upset their plans. In getting the safe to a position where they could have light by which to work they toppled it over on the floor with such force that the globe was knocked from a chandelier in the apartments of Mrs. Sadie Muskowitz, on the floor below. Mrs. Muskowitz and Mrs. Sarah Auerbach rushed upstairs to learn the cause of the trouble, and were confronted by the two men who, armed with the racket they had made, lost their nerve and got away.

Five-Minute Auto Chase.
Edward Baylis, who says he is a resident of Florida, led two detectives in a merry chase. Baylis was accused by M. J. Wolfe, a dealer in automobiles, of stealing an automobile valued at $1,000. On Tuesday, accompanied by another man, Baylis bought a machine at Wolfe's garage and tendered in payment a check for $1,000 drawn on the "Park National Bank of Florida," and signed the name of "E. R. Grant." Wolfe learned that no such bank existed and reported the matter to the police. When Baylis appeared at another garage, Wolfe, with two detectives, went after him in an automobile. Baylis jumped into a machine and whizzed away at a mile-a-minute pace to Coney Island, where the police arrested him after an exciting chase and fight.

Boy and Girl Anarchist
It was a youthful band of alleged Anarchists that was lined up in the Yorkville Police Court as a result of a raid made by the police on Tuesday night on Manhattan Lyceum on East Fourth Street. There were five girls and a woman, on whose face were signs of the passage of years. The woman was Emma Goldman. One of the girls was not over 14 years old. The others were under 18. They laughed and chatted as though they were out on a lark. The five boys in the next pen acted as though they liked the experience. The magistrate held the prisoners in $1,000 bail each.

Mrs. Sage Doubles Salaries.
The employees in the office of the late Russell Sage have received, in addition to their regular October salary from the estate, checks from Mrs. Sage for an equal amount. She virtually doubles their salaries. Five men are recipients, one being E. C. Osborne. Mrs. Sage designed the increased pay to be a reward for long and faithful service on the part of her husband's employees.

Fifty Cents A Week And Blackberries
A decree divorcing Mrs. Ida M. Ludlow of Jersey City from George M. Ludlow of Manhattan has been signed by Chancellor William J. Magie. Mrs. Ludlow had urged haste, as she said she wished to marry again. She made a runaway match with Ludlow in 1888, when she was 16 years old. For seven years, she testified, they lived on 50 cents a week and blackberries, which she picked near her mother's home.

Thy Wound Kills Man.
Joseph Marelllo, an Italian clerk who lived at 32 Bayard Street, died on the operating table in Hudson Street Hospital four minutes after he had been brought in by an ambulance from 116 Mulberry Street. The only wound on his body was one which appeared to be a pin prick in his right breast. But the prick was made by a 14-inch blue needle, and the wound reached a vital spot. Marelllo was stabbed in a fight.

Sold Clothes Off His Baby.
It was told of Robert Stokes in the Manhattan Avenue Police Court, where he was arraigned on a charge of abandonment, that he even took his baby's clothes and sold them to get money to buy cigarettes. Stokes' wife offered a handful of pawn tickets representing clothing and bedding in evidence. "He has made us poor," she said, "by his excessive use of cigarettes." Stokes had nothing to say, and was held in $200 bail for a hearing.

A PUBLIC DUTY.

Montpelier, O., Man Feels Compelled to Tell His Experience.

Joseph Wilgus, Montpelier, O., says: "I feel it my duty to tell others about Doan's Kidney Pills. Exposure and driving brought kidney trouble on me, and I suffered much from irregular passages of the kidney secretions. Sometimes there was retention and at other times passages were too frequent, especially at night. There was pain and discoloration. Doan's Kidney Pills brought me relief from the first, and soon infused new life. I give them my endorsement."

Comedy Of A Wedding Gift.
An American couple in London was strolling along Oxford Street looking in the shop windows. The attention of the gentleman was attracted by a handsome set of silver teaspoons, two dozen in number, displayed in an open case. Each spoon of the set was of a different pattern, elaborately hand-carved and of elegant design.

"Those are Tiffany spoons," the gentleman said to his wife. "Why should they have Tiffany spoons for sale over here?" she asked, incredulously. "I don't know, but they are. I know because once bought a set like them myself. Let's go in and look at them."

The salesman admitted readily enough that they were Tiffany spoons, and indeed they bore the well-known hall mark.

"And what is the price of them?" the gentleman asked.

"Three shillings the piece," he replied.

"How can you possibly sell them for that price? I once bought a set for that look much like these and I paid $3 apiece for them," said the American frankly, not being cognizant of the lookout for bargains that day.

"Well, you see, the way of it is this. A customer of ours had this set given to her for a wedding present some time ago and she did not need them, so she prevailed on us to take them in exchange for some of our own goods."

"And you will sell them to me for three shillings each?"

"Yes, sir."

"I will take them."

The purchase was completed, and the wife departed, with the wife delighted with her bargain. When they were well outside the shop the gentleman said:

"Constance, that is the identical set I bought three years ago. I gave them to Cousin Mary for a wedding present and this is what she did with them. I don't like to pay for them twice, but they are a bargain at three shillings, and I shall have more than my money's worth of revenge by inviting Mary up to dinner as soon as we get home."

Wild Duck With Gold In Claw.
Gold in the claw of a wild duck killed on the Klondike flats Friday is the latest sensation. The duck was killed by Jack Lee while on his way from the north fork of the Klondike. Colonel Williams, of the Department of the Interior, bought the duck with a number of others. On opening the claw the Colonel was surprised to find 12 gold colors there.

Where the duck got the gold is a question. It is known there is gold on the Klondike River bottom, but probably not so plentiful in any one known spot as to permit a duck to pan 12 colors with one crop full of sand.

The duck is a wildgoose. It doubtless was on its way south with other birds of passage. Somewhere in the vast North, it appears, that duck must have fed on golden sands which would be a halcyon spot for the paper prospector.—Dawson Daily News.

"Kill Soldiers With Club."
The way in which the Utes plundered and evaded the troops the other lay shows that the red man has not lost his cunning, and recalls an incident of Sherman's career. When his old warrior was on the plains he was one day accosted by a "heap big injun," who begged the gift of some worn-out guns. "What?" said Sherman. "You want me to give you guns for you to shoot my soldiers with?" "Ugh! no!" was the reply. "Injun not hunt soldier with gun. Want gun to kill buffalo. Kill soldier with club!" Yet in the long run Uncle Sam's boys are too much for even the wildest and most enduring of the tribes.—New York Tribune.

IT'S THE FOOD.
The True Way to Correct Nervous Troubles.

Nervous troubles are more often caused by improper food and indigestion than most people imagine. Even doctors sometimes overlook this fact. A man says:

"Until two years ago I was fat and plump with meat and gravy were the main features of my breakfast. Finally dyspepsia came on and I found myself in a bad condition, worse in the morning than at any other time. I would have a full, sick feeling in my stomach, with pains in my heart, sides and head.

"At times I would have no appetite for days, then would feel ravenous, never satisfied when I did eat and so nervous I felt like shrieking at the top of my voice. I lost flesh badly and hardly knew which way to turn until one day I bought a box of Grape-Nuts food to see if I could eat it. I tried it without telling the doctor, and liked it fine; made me feel as if I had something to eat that was satisfying and still I didn't have that heaviness that I had felt after eating any other food.

"I hadn't drunk any coffee then in five weeks. I kept on with the Grape-Nuts and in a month and a half I had gained 15 pounds, could eat almost anything I wanted, didn't feel badly after eating, and my nervousness was all gone. It's a pleasure to be well again."

Wisdom In Tabloid Doses.

A man's conscience tells him that sinners his friends are. In the pursuit of wealth, wealth generally manages to get its second wind. The best way to console a widow is to tell her how well she looks in black. A man tries to live up to his ideals. A woman tries to live up to her photographs.

AWFUL SUFFERING
From Dreadful Pains From Wound on Foot—system All Run Down—Miserable Cure by Cuticura.

"Words cannot speak highly enough for the Cuticura Remedies. I am now seventy-two years of age. My system had been all run down. My blood was so bad that blood poisoning had set in. I had several doctors attending me, so finally I went to the hospital, where I was laid up for two months. My foot and ankle were almost beyond recognition. Dark blood flowed out of wounds in many places and I was so disheartened that I thought surely my last chance was slowly leaving me. As the foot did not improve you can readily imagine how I felt. I was simply disgusted and tired of life. I stood this pain, which was dreadful, for six months, and during this time I was not able to wear a shoe and not able to work. Some one spoke to me about Cuticura. The consequences were I bought a set of the Cuticura Remedies of one of my friends, who was a druggist, and the nurse that I gave after the second application is beyond description; it seemed a miracle, for the Cuticura Remedies took effect immediately. I washed the foot with the Cuticura Soap before applying the Ointment, and I took the Resolvent at the same time. After two weeks' treatment my foot was healed completely. People who had seen my foot during my illness and who have seen it since the cure can hardly believe it their own eyes. Robert Schoenhar, Newburgh, N. Y., Aug. 21, 1905."

It should be kept over the seat of uneasiness for several days—in obstinate cases, for perhaps a fortnight."

"For pain in the back wear an Allcock's Plaster constantly, renewing as it wears off. This is an invaluable support when the weight on the small of the back becomes heavy and the aching incessant."

FROM GIRLHOOD TO WOMANHOOD

Mothers Should Watch the Development of Their Daughters—Interesting Experiences of Misses Borman and Mills.

Every mother possesses information which is of vital interest to her young daughter. Too often this is never imparted or is withheld until serious harm has resulted to the growing girl through her ignorance of nature's mysterious and wonderful laws and penalties.

Girls' over-sensitiveness and modesty often puzzle their mothers and baffle physicians, as they so often withhold their confidence from their mothers and conceal the symptoms which ought to be told to their physician at this critical period.

When a girl's thoughts become sluggish, with headache, dizziness or a disposition to sleep, pains in back or lower limbs, eyes dim, desire for solitude; when she is a mystery to herself and friends, her mother should come to her aid, and realize that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will at this time prepare the system for the coming change, and start this trying period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities.

Hundreds of letters from young girls and from mothers, expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for them, have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., at Lynn, Mass.

Miss Mills has written the following letters to Mrs. Pinkham, which will be read with interest:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—(First Letter.) "I am but fifteen years of age, am depressed, have dizzy spells, chills, headache and backache."
