DISEASES IN DRINKING CUPS.

Dr. Dixon Sounds Warning—It is An Old Story He Says.

"The danger of the disease-spreading common drinking cup is an old story, but the warning cannot be too frequently repeated in the hope of having it heeded by more and more people."

When making this statement, State Health Commissioner Samuel G. Dix intimated that the thought more and more people realized that they jeopardized their health and lives when they drank from the common cup in railway trains, public fountains and other public places and were refusing to run the risk of contracting consumption or some other infectious disease.

He called attention to the increasing number of people who when traveling carry with them their own cup or had a supply of inexpensive paraffin cups.

"It seems strange," says Mr. Dixon, "that so many people who would not think of wiping their faces on a towel that a stranger had just used will go to a public water cooler or fountain and drink from a tin cup that may have been used just before them by a consumptive."

A vegetable corrective for the stomachs of babies and children, with the name of each ingredient in plain English on every bottle, that is Cascasweet, the ideal medicine for the little ones. Reprint, News Herald: "There is at least one effectual, safe and reliable Cough Cure—Dr. Shoop's—that we regard as suitable, even for the youngest child. For years, Dr. Shoop bitterly opposed the use of opiates or narcotics in medicine, offering $10 per drop to any one finding opium, chloroform, or any other poisonous or narcotic ingredient in Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And the challenge is as yet unanswered. Here is one manufacturing physician, who welcomed with much satisfaction the new Government Pure Food and Drug Law. The public can now protest itself at all times, by insisting on having Dr. Shoop's, when a cough remedy is needed." Sold at Dickson's drug store.

H. M. Sipes, a student in the Pennsylvania Business College in Lancaster, Pa., is spending his holiday vacation with his parents in Dublin township. Mr. Sipes has been at Lancaster since last April and expects to return after the holidays. He has already taken two of their courses, and expects to stay as long as there is anything in sight.

POPE PIUS X GIVES NEW YEARS GREETING.

Handsome Portrait of Pontiff With Blessing to Pennsylvanians.

The thoughtfulness of Pope Pius X for Christians in all parts of the world is beautiful, exemplified in a signed portrait given to the Philadelphia North American as a New Year's greeting to the people of Pennsylvania. The portrait is inscribed in the Pope's own handwriting with the words of the apostolic benediction.

The portrait and inscription have been artistically reproduced in the most expensive photogravure process, and a copy of it, 4 1/2 x 15 inches, will be a part of every copy of the Sunday North American for December 30. No handsomer work of art and no more fitting souvenir of a great and good personage has ever been published.

The publication of the portrait of His Holiness is made with the consent of His Grace, Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia.

Copies of this artistic work are being displayed by all newsdealers.

Education in Business.

In the New Idea Woman's Magazine for January, appears an interesting interview with a clever woman who has worked up a unique business for herself in the publishing world. This woman, Miss May Langdon White, is conversant with the work of publishing from beginning to end, and finds sufficient occupation in giving assistance of various kinds to authors and publishers generally. Miss White predicated tact and education as the essentials to success in the publishing world, and indeed in any line of business. "I am inclined to think," she is quoted as saying, "that this question of education is very closely wrapped around the success of women in business. Possibly the ordinary type of business woman is only a partial success. Possibly we do not know how many of us have been tried and found wanting in the qualities that help men to surpass us. But—the ordinary type of business woman is not well educated. I rather believe the ability to get an education usually carries with it the force of character necessary to success in business. The woman who has sense enough to acquire an education may in the majority of cases be counted upon to use the same sense in learning how to earn her living. The highly educated are frequently said to be too impractical for every day purposes. I think such cases are the exception."

Hard on the Tramp.

The Franklin County Grand Jury has come down on the tramp hard. It has become known that Franklin county authorities were kind and rather lenient to the hobnob and it appeared many of the profession went that way to get their winter quarters, either at almshouse or at the jail. This item was brought before the Grand Jury and the matter was investigated. Thirty six tramps were found in the county jail, some of whom were found to have means of support and were buying provisions, tobacco, etc., and making themselves comfortable. The Grand Jury came down on this and now recommends that they sleep on the floor; that they be prohibited from playing games; that all articles be taken away from them when they are admitted; that they be not permitted to buy or have tobacco in the jail; in other words, that prison life be made as distasteful to them as possible. At the almshouse, where the tramp nuisance has not been so great as was reported, it is recommended that all tramps who are committed for lodging are not to have matches, tobacco or reading matter. Thus the way faring man is being cut off from his luxuries and he perhaps will give Franklin county a wider berth than heretofore.

Fulton county might get a pointer from the action of their neighbor over the mountain.

Mice Eat Christmas Money.

When Frank Kartwright, of Pottsville, went last Saturday to get a package of $500, which he had placed away for Christmas gift buying, he was almost prostrated by the discovery that a neighbor's white mice had eaten the money, which was in bills, almost entirely, only small fragments being left.

So small were the pieces left that the Union Safe Deposit Company refused to redeem them, and it is doubtful if the government will redeem much of it.

Shot Near Broad Top City.

Robert Black, aged 29, was accidentally shot below the heart on Tuesday of last week, by a young man by the name of Dibelliss, on the mountain near Broad Top City. Black lived only a few minutes. The young man was hunting foxes when Black unfortunately got in the way of a winchester rifle which exploded rather quickly. He was a brother of A. J. Black, a popular coal dealer of the Broad Top section.

Following The Trail.

When our soldiers went to Cuba and the Philippines, health was the most important consideration. Willis T. Morgan, retired Commissary Sergeant U. S. A., of Rural Route 1, Concord, N. H., says: "I was two years in Cuba and two years in the Philippines, and being subject to colds, I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which kept me in perfect health. And now, in New Hampshire, we find it the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, bronchial troubles and all lung diseases." Guaranteed at Trout's the druggist. Price 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.
