A WONDERFUL HAPPENING.
Port Byron, N. Y., has witnessed one of the most remarkable cases of healing ever recorded. Amos F. King, of that place says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured a sore on my leg with which I had suffered over 80 years. I am now eighty-five." Guaranteed to cure all sores, by Trout's, the druggist 25c.

County Superintendent Barton has been confined to his home almost three weeks from a prolonged attack of grip and threatened pneumonia, the result of a day spent in Tod township, during that miserable "wet spell."

When the cold winds dry and crack the skin, a box of salve can save much discomfort. In buying salve look for the name on the box to avoid any imitations, and be sure you get the original DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold at Trout's drug store.

Peace in The Coal Trade.

The new year in the anthracite trade opens with unchanged conditions. The demand is extremely large and the supply curtailed by a scarcity of cars. The holidays also restricted production somewhat, but it afforded facilities for car movement which were taken advantage of. Stocks are still being depleted and this will go on until the spring opens. The calendar year promises to be very favorable. The consumption of coal is at the highest point known, and the supply, if the using up of stocks continues, will be far less at the opening of the coal year than in 1905. Every indication points to the absorption of the coal above ground, so that the trade will have to take care of the output of the mines only later in the year.

Last year on April 1st there were 9,000,000 tons of coal in stock within a radius of 150 miles of the mines. If there is no falling off in consumption it will be necessary to produce 5,000,000 tons per month this year to supply the trade. This will test the capacity of the mines every month in the year. The experience in the last quarter of 1906 it is thought will influence buyers to lay in more coal from May to July than they have done in former years.

The relations between the miners and their employers are more favorable than at any time in the history of the trade. Not only are there very few serious open questions, but it is almost literally true that the occupation of the board of conciliation is gone at this time. The wages of the miners are larger than at any time since the award of the strike commission and the work at the mines is only interrupted when the men voluntarily take a holiday. The price of coal is entirely satisfactory to the producer and it is rare that even odd lots are sold at a concession.

Considered from all points of view there is no large industry, in this period of world wide prosperity, which is on a more satisfactory basis for all interests concerned, than the anthracite trade. Unless something entirely unforeseen occurs there will be no disturbance of these conditions for more than two years.—Wall Street Journal, January 12.
