It is a rule that ignorance of the law excuses no one, but if the lawmakers do not provide means of informing the public of the new statutes that they pass, it is unreasonable to expect people to comply with them.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of opium, chloroform, or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in Cough remedies.

Business in New Grenada is on the "bum" just now. Clyde Plummer lost a valuable horse a few days ago. This is a heavy loss, and leaves Clyde in a bad shape for putting out his spring crops.

John Thomas bought a fine horse from Daniel Rinehart the other day, and expects to go into the lumbering business in Orbisonia Loop soon.

Wedding bells are ringing in Copenhaver's Loop. Listen, Thomas!

Piles get quick relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Remember it's made alone for Piles—and it works with certainty and satisfaction.

First on the program was singing America by the school. 1st topic, Arithmetic—Primary—Intermediate—Advanced—was opened by James A. Kell, who said, "The four fundamental rules were the bases of Arithmetic, and should be taught and illustrated that it will be thoroughly understood by the pupil."

Miss Beulah Miller then took up the subject. She said Primary Arithmetic is the important class. The foundation of Arithmetic is laid in the primary class. She said much supplementary work should be given.

Nevin Montgomery was the next speaker. He said Arithmetic is a branch of reason. The pupil should be given time to think. More Arithmetic should be taught in our public schools.

Recitation by Irene Kope. 2nd topic, Reading—Its Importance—The Ends to be Attained; and How? was opened by Blanche M. Doran, who said Reading is the most important branch in school. This branch should be a pleasure to the pupil.

Mary Kope then spoke for a short time on the subject. She said, "The teacher should read for the pupil. A good reader should have a clear conception and vivid imagination."

Prof. L. E. Harris, the next speaker, discussed the subject very thoroughly. He said Reading was a branch that took a great deal of drill. A good reader should have good articulation. He also said we should read to get information and give information.

Recitation by Mary Grinnell, entitled, Learning to Sew. 3rd topic, The Greatest Needs of Our Schools, was opened by Prof. E. E. Kell, who said the world is looking for better men and women, and they are expected to come from the public schools. Teachers should know more than they can teach—they should be more thorough. He also said one of the greatest needs of our school is sociability. The schools need more sympathy. Patrons should be encouraged.

Recitations by Blanche Crouse and Clementine Peterson. The president then thanked the audience for good attention, after which the meeting adjourned.

Letters, wonder bags, hot water bags, birthday cards, etc., are among the gifts of the Branch to its Shut-in members. Wheel chairs, bed tables, bed rests, rocking chairs, etc., are loaned to them without cost, except freight. All invalid members of the Shut-in Society are eligible for membership in the Exchange maintained by the Branch for the sale of their work.

Regular monthly meetings of the Branch are held in Philadelphia on the second Friday of each month, from October to May inclusive, when reports of the different departments of the work are received. The Branch desires to know of any invalids in Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia, to whom the Society can bring good cheer; also any who wish to become Associate or Subscribing members of the Society. Copies of The Open Window and further information in regard to the General Society, may be obtained by writing to the President of the Branch, Miss Mary Parker Nicholson, 3610 Chesnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

NEW GRENADA. The devil, the editor, or some other imp, got my items baled up last week and made me say some things I did not say. What I did say was that Mrs. J. G. Cunningham and Mrs. Jacob Corder were sick. By leaving off the "Mrs." you got the wrong people sick. With the exception of an attack of grippe, which he did not have at that time, J. G. is all right, and Jacob is able for three square meals a day, and gets the mail in on time as usual.

Morgan Watkins bought property at Sattill, and removed to his new home last Monday.

Delta Foster, of Eid, visited friends in this place, Saturday evening and Sunday.

Our postmistress, Alice McClain, who had grippe all last week, is now handling the cancelling stamp again.

M. A. Detwiler removed to Three Springs last Wednesday.

Mrs. William S. Gracey and daughter Lillian of Taylor township, visited friends in our town last Saturday.

Mary Tice of Eid, paid our town a business visit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kesselring, of Gracey, were circulating among friends here a few hours last Saturday. Linn, when you order that outfit from Sears & Roebuck, get an extra one for the writer hereof.

King Mellott's sawmill is at Wm. G. Bergstresser's, sawing for William and others.
