In any medical compound as much depends upon the manner in which compounded as upon the ingredients used. First, there must be a due proportion of the ingredients. Each drug in the pharmacopela has its special action. To combine any drug with other drugs that have slightly different action, the combination must be made with strict reference to the use for which the compound is intended. The drugs may be well selected as to their efficacy, but the compound ENTIRELY SPOILED BY THE PROPORTION in which they are combined.

It takes years and years of experience to discover this proportion. There is no law of chemistry, of pharmacy, by which the exact balance of proportion can be determined. EXPERIENCE IS THE ONLY GUIDE.

In compounding a catarrh remedy Dr. Hartman has had many years' experience. In the use of the various ingredients which composed the catarrh remedy, Peruna, he has leasned, little by little, how to harmonize the action of each ingredient, how to combine them into a stable compound, how to arrange them into such nice proportions as to blend the taste, the opera-ation and the chemical peculiarities of each several ingredient in order to produce a pharmaceutical product beyond the criticism of doctors, pharma-

WE REPEAT, THAT AS MUCH DEPENDS ON THE WAY IN WHICH THE DRUGS ARE COMBINED AS DEPENDS UPON THE DRUGS THEM-

The compound must present a stability which is not affected by changes of temperature, not affected by exposure to the air, not affected by age. It must be so combined that it will remain just the same whether used in the logging or mining camps of the northwest or the coffee plantations of the

A complete list of the ingredients of Peruna would not enable any druggist or physician to reproduce Peruna. It is the skill and sagacity by which these ingredients are brought together that give Peruna much of its peculiar claims as an efficacious catarrh remedy.

However much virtue each ingredient of Peruna may possess, the value of the compound depends largely upon the manner and proportion in which they are combined. The right ingredients, put together rightly, is the only way a medical compound can be made of real value.

Silver Tips On Pocketknives.

German silver tips on pocketknives are cast separately, but such is the case," said Clayton Davis. "Just why they cannot be cut from one large sheet of metal I do not know, but every one of these tiny pieces of metal is poured separately, thou-sands of little molds being required for the purpose in a large establish-ment. Scrap German silver is melted down and a little aluminum added, the effect of which is to release the oxides in the silver and make it run more easily. The molds are poured 'standing up,' and when the metal hardens the casting is pared off to give it the rounded shape in which is used. The American boy of the present day is not the whittler his Yankee ancestors are said to have been, but there is plenty of saie for pocket-knives, those of good quality being bought extensively. The English and Germans are ahead of us in

Wearing a calico wrapper and a bag with armholes cut in it, stocking-less and with the soles of both shoes gone so that her bare feet left bleeding tracks in the snow, Mary Schemera, 16 years old, who declars she fled from the home of her step-parents, on Remsen Street, Astoria, last Christmas, on account of ill treatment, was taken in custody by the Astoria police late Wednesday night. Magistrate Smith, in the Long Island

City Court, turned the girl over to the care of the Gerry Society.

Ever since leaving her step-par-ents, the girl told the police, she had been sleeping in boxes and hallways and subsisting on what food she could pick up. Recently the only home she had was in the hallway at 498 Eleventh Avenue, in the Steinway section of Long Island City.

From that retreat she was driven tate on Wednesday night by a homeless dog, which, like herself, was looking for shelter from the cold and rain.

"The Real Trouble." According to testimony in the West Side Court, 72-year-old "Dan" Noble became so flustered while popping the question to a pretty widow that afterward he didn't know whether he had offered her an en-gagement ring or a black-and-tan pup. Thursday he had Mrs. Laura Thayor before Magistrate Breen on charge of withholding his blood-He gave it to me when he ed dog. was wooing," pouted the widow. "O-ho, so you made love to her?" chipped in the magistrate. "I did," confessed Mr. Noble, bashfully. "Don't blush, sir." ordered the court. "Did you present this lady with the dog while in the threes of a proposal?" "I think I just gave it to her to mind." "Did you think I ran a dog's boarding-house?" stormed the widow, with asperity Noble said he gave Mrs. Thayor many things while Cupid held him transfixed. He enumerated: "Flowers, theatre tickets, victuals"— "He 'em half himself," broke in the widow. Mr. Noble took a new tack at that. "The real trouble," he said, "was her teeth." "Cut the teeth out," admonished the Court, "Cut the slanglly. But Mr. Noble would not be put off. "I ordered her teeth fixed," he pursued. "That was when I loved her. Afterward I countermand ed the order and she got mad and kept the dog." "Case adjourned," said the magistrate. "We'll try it

It may mean another Lexow investigation of On last Monday night there was introduced by Senator Page a bill that probably escaped the at-tention of the inspectors. The reason of that probably was because the bill was only in the interest of charter revision, but if the inspectors read that bill they will find that it is of such a nature that the inspectors can be placed on the stand and catechised. This bill has the endorsement of Governor Hughes. The bill provides that the commission, which is to be appointed by the Gov-ernor and be composed of nine members, shall have all the powers of a legislative committee. Died In A Tunnel Air Pump.

Evan Collister, foreman of a gang in shaft No. 2 of the Belmont tunnel. ventured too close to the intake of a big suction pump near the tunnel entrance at Forty-second Street and the East River. The pump was pounding away at its job of keeping an air pressure of 35 pounds to the square inch on the submarine workers, and Collister, losing his balance, was sucked in. The pump was stop-ped for a moment and Collister was pulled out, dead. Dr. McCourt, the unnel physician, found that the air had been sucked from the lungs and the lungs had collapsed, admitting a rush of blood.

R. G. Dun & Co/s Weekly Review of Trade says:

Spring trade is making a most satisfactory comparison with the volume at this time last year, except in a few sections where the weather is still unfavorable, and mercantile collections improve steadily, despite the high money market. Leading industries have orders covering pro-duction well in to the future, especially cotton factories and steel mills, while the output of pig iron when the month opened was close to the largest on record. High prices in the footwear industry have check-ed placing contracts for fall shoes placing contracts for fall shoes at New England factories, some de-cline in prices of hides and leather encouraging buyers to delay order-ing the finished product, but most mills are still busy on spring goods. Prices are well maintained in all sections of the iron and steel in-dustry, premiums being frequently offered for prompt delivery, but or-ders are seldom accepted on these terms, because of the oversold condition of mills and furnaces. iron is notably active at Birmingham, large contracts having been placed this month covering deliveries up to the last quarter. There is a nominal difference of about $4 per ton between spot and third-quarter ousiness, but scarcely any sales are made at the higher figure, because little Iron is available for prompt shipment.

The great medicine man of the Creek Indians was asked by a United States commission (of eminent physiclans); "Can you cure cancer? We have a patient who has been dying for seventeen years, and we are unable to do anything for him." The aged redman called for a hot iron, and with it burned a big hole in the leg of the man where the cancer was gnawing. The physicians were astounded. He explained briefly: "Indian no cure cancer; Indian easy cure burn!" Therefore—burn, burn, burn when a dog or snake bites you -N. Y. Press.

Poor Paint is Expensive

If one is rich enough to repaint his buildings every year for the pleasure of having a change of color scheme, the quality of the paint used may cut little figure. But if it is desirable to cut the painting bills down to the least amount possible-per year, it is of the utmost importance that the paint be made of Pure White Lead and the best of Linseed Oil. There are imitations in the form of alleged White Lead, and there are substitutes in the form of ready-prepared paints.

We guarantee our White Lead to be absolutely pure, and the Dutch Boy on the side of every keg is your safe. SEND FOR
