Weekly Review of Trade and Latest Market Reports.

New York.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Trade responds to seasonable weather, distribution of spring mer-chandise fully equaling sanguine ex-pectations, and country merchants purchase liberally from wholesalers at eading centers. Reports from principal eitles are uniformly favor-able, active business being accom-panied by further improvements in collections. Leading industries are collections. Leading industries are fully occupied, and no strikes of more than local significance have materialized thus far. Manufacturers are busy on goods for early ship-ment, and sample business for later seaon promises continued activity. Improved traffic conditions make deliveries more prompt. Primary markets for textiles are more quiet, but there is no diminu-tion in the output of mills except where labor cannot be secured. cotton goods producers have orders covering output so far into the future that the lightened pressure is help-ful. Jobbers are still selling goods purchased below the present level, and the future of the market cannot be determined until unfilled orders are placed at the highest prices. ROMANTIC DEVONSHIRE The Land Made Famous by Philpotts' Novels.

Philpotts has made us familiar with romantic Devonshire, in his fascinating novels, "The River," "Children of the Mist," etc. The characters are very human; the people there drink coffee with the same results as elsewhere. A writer at Rock House, Orchard Hill, Bideford, North Dovon, states: "For 30 years I drank coffee for breakfast and divner but some years ago I found that it was producing indigestion and heart-burn, and was making mo restless at night. These symptoms were followed by brain fag and a sluggish mental condition.

When I realized this, I made up my mind that to quit drinking coffee and having read of Postum, 1 con-cluded to try it. 1 had it carefully made, according to directions, and found to my agreeable surprise at the end of a week, that I no longer suftered from either indigestion, heart-burn, or brain fag, and that I could drink it at night and secure restful and refreshing sleep.

"Since that time we have entirely discontinued the use of the old kind of coffee, growing funder and fonder of Postum as time goes on. My digestive organs certainly do their work much better now than before, a re-sult due to Postum Food Coffee, I am satisfied.
