Avon Saxon, an actor whose name was familiar to theatre-goers of a generation ago, was committed to the workhouse at his own request. Policeman Gorevan found Saxon acting strangely and arrested him on a charge of disorderly conduct.

"You don't look like a man who is disorderly on the street," said Magistrate Breen to the prisoner, who was well dressed and carried himself with disnity.

"I am not," said Saxon, "but I wish you'd treat me as though I were, Your Honor, I am not myself lately and would appreciate it if send me away to the workhouse for a month, with an option of staying another month if I like

As Saxon was being led to the prison he started to sing in a clear, strong voice the opening words of "The Heart Bowed Down by Weight of Woe." He seemed very willing to talk about himself. "I was for-merly baritone with the Boston ideals, who later became the Bos-lonians." said he. "I played the part of Escamillo opposite Zelle de Lussan the first time she ever sang in the title roll of 'Carmen,' and took part in all the best operas put on by the Boston Ideals in their early days. Recently I have been with the Royal English Opera Company of London, and the last year have tried vaudeville. I am divorced from my wife, Virginia Cheron, formerly of the Opera Comique. Our 20-year-old son lives in my old home, Nova Scotia."

Kissing In Public Not A Crime. Magistrate Whitman was called apon to pass on the question whether klasing in public amounts to disprderly conduct. The Court decided that it didn't if the girl was willing.

James F. Higgins, a clerk, was the unwilling victim of this test case. He was standing in a Second Avenue doorway on Monday night with three girls, one of whom he was embracing and kissing, when Policeman Stapleton came along and told Higgins to "beat" it. Higgins didn't like the idea and refused, whereupon he was locked up on a charge of disprderly conduct.

When Higgins was arraigned the Court asked:

The Treasury Department has a great system of accounts. It goes into details with an inspiring industry of research resulting in a perfect. 117-08. labyrinth of averages and percent-The Treasury Department is one huge ant-hill of "figgers," and succeeding generations of burrowing accountants have wrought some wondrous things with the maze of mathematical records. As might be expected, there are some interesting conclusions and comparisons, and not the least is the series of books-they constitute a veritable library every year-in which is kept the tally of the receipts of this great and growing government through its 158 custom-houses. The aggregate of the receipts last year was nearly $205,-000,000, while the cost of collection amounted to within $2400 of being an even $9,000,000. This means that it costs the United States two and nine-tenths cents to collect one dollar of customs revenue.

A dissection of the returns from the various customs districts and ports shows how this is accomplished with a widely varying result, and the comparison of cost cannot fail to be enlightening as well as entertaining to people who do not have to be students of arid governmental statistics to appreciate it.

The port of New York, which, of course, yields the most in the way of customs revenue, cost the Government one and eight-tenths cents for every dollar taken in last year, a rate which was beaten by the record of Springfield, Massachusetts, where the expense was one and four-tenths cents, which was the most favorable rate in the whole list.

The star record in the opposite direction was made by Little Egg Harbor (Tuckerton), New Jersey, where the sole business of the single employe of the institution in the course of a year was the issue of some forty documents to vessels, the aggregate receipts for this service amounting to the munificent sum of forty cents. while the outlay was $505.31; so the cost of collecting one dollar, if such a revenue had been possible at Tuckerton, is reported in the painfully accurate decimals of $1263.275. That is an achievement which stands practically by itself, for the next best record is that of Paducah, Kentucky, where two employes issued fifty documents to vessels and took in a dollar and seventy cents, the cost to collect one dollar being $278.735. Then comes Elizabeth City, North Carolina, with its three employes and its annual revenue of ten dollars, requiring the expenditure of $246.645 to collect one dollar. The one other notable case of cost is Annapolis, Maryland, $203.964 being the rate of maintaining two employes who took in $4.50 in twelve months. Places where the cost to collect a single dollar is greater than that amount are Alexandria, Virginia, $1.015; Barnstable, Massachusetts, $4.55; Beaufort, South Carolina, $2.553; Bridgeton, New Jersey, $2.505; Burlington, New Jersey, $16.979; Castine, Maine, $1.956; Crisfield, Maryland, $42.115; Ellsworth, Maine, $8.588; Great Egg Harbor, Now Jersey, $1.663; La Crosse, Wisconain, $2.722; Grand Haven, Michigan, $1.472; Newbern, North Carolina, $1.979; Rock Island. > WENT TO TEA And It Wound Her Bobbin.

Tea drinking frequently affects people as badly as coffee. A lady in Salisbury, Md., says that she was compelled to abandon the use of cof fee a good many years ago, because it threatened to ruin her health and that she went over to tea drinking. but finally she had dyspepsia so had that she had lost twenty-five pounds and no food seemed to agree with her.

She further gays; "At this time . was induced to take up the famous food drink, Postum, and was so much pleased with the results that I have never been without it since. I commenced to improve at once, egained my twenty-five pounds of fiesh and went some beyond my usual weight. "I know Postum to be good, pure and healthful, and there never was an article, and never will be. I believe, that does so surely take the place of coffee as Postum Food Cof-The beauty of it all is that it is Sec. satisfying and wonderfully nourishing. I feel as if I could not sing its praises too loud." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason.
