

WHEN FALLS THE CURTAIN.

When falls the curtain, he who plays the... And he, the king, are on a common level...

When falls the curtain on the play of life... This play designed to entertain the... The parts assigned to us in this mimic strife...

current, swim in among the cattle. He called to the girl to keep well out from the shore and away from the quicksands...

Antics of Our "Yellow Rich"

By the Editor of The Argonaut.

A well known writer has been traveling on the steamship America, which may be said to be the last word in naval architecture and ocean splendor...

News of Pennsylvania

FIGHT WITH BULL.

Farmer Stantz Ruptured Blood Vessel in His Struggle. Doylestown (Special).—After struggling for nearly half an hour with an enraged bull...

JEALOUS WOMAN SHOOTS MAN.

While He Sits At Supper She Fires From Behind. Norristown (Special).—Shot by the woman for whom he deserted his wife in Philadelphia...

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Altoona Man Gives Up Life To Save His Friend. Altoona (Special).—An act of heroism in which he saved the life of a friend cost John McConnell, aged 20, his own life...

THE PRIDE OF A PRAIRIE GIRL.

By MARY K. MAULE.

The sun beat down fierce and hot upon the Dakota prairie, and imparted the temperature of a baked oven to the endless red road...

With the song frozen on his lips, the cowboy gave one swift backward glance, leaped square in his saddle, and wheeled his pony into the road beside the girl...

She sang as she rode in and out along the wavering, snorting line, cracking her long whip and shouting, "Hi! Ho! Whoop-la!" as she drove a straying steer or a wandering calf back into the ranks...

With blanched face and widely distended eyes the girl gripped her bridle-rein and looked back. "Down the narrow trail behind her thundered a wild, dark, packed mass of crowding bodies and madly tossing horns...

Before the cattle, and upon the other side, rode a cowboy in his wide sombrero and leather "chaps," and behind the bunch a woman rode slowly, her tall, straight figure severely outlined by a black dress, and her face shaded by a broad-leaved Mexican straw hat...

Down the narrow trail behind her thundered a wild, dark, packed mass of crowding bodies and madly tossing horns, as along the road between the bluff and the steep embankment the stampeded cattle, with lowered heads, blind and mad with thirst and fury, came plunging on...

"Ride up a little, Billy," called the girl, in a high, clear voice, "and let's get out of this dust! They'll go quietly enough now, and mother is behind to drive..."

"Aln't there a turn up here in the road somewhere?" shouted the cowboy, as with strained muscles they plunged on, urging the terrified ponies to their utmost. "Aln't there somewhere we could turn out, so's to get a chance to turn 'em or mill 'em? We can't hold out long this-a-way! Hurry, Jess! Faster, faster, girl! Give him the gad! Can't you make that old pony go no faster? They're a-gainin' on us every minute..."

"Hot, isn't it, Billy?" "You bet it is! I'll be glad when we get to some shade, and," looking back at the animals that plodded wearily behind him, "them pore critters will, too. They ain't had no water since yist'day, and I reckon them steers is plumb dry..."

The girl, sitting straight and square in her saddle, with her lips set firm and white, and her quick, keen gray eyes glancing now behind her, now in front along the curving, narrow trail, shook her head. "She had been over this road many times before, and knew there was no turn in the road, no widening of the trail for more than a mile ahead, and before they could reach that—"

They both gazed ahead to where a high bluff loomed up before them, its red sides broken with outcropping rocks, and variegated with green patches of weeds and clumps of stunted timber...

The thunder of hoofs came closer, the snorts and bellows of the maddened beasts were in her ears. With shuddering heart she glanced back. As far as she could see along the trail behind her came the black wave of tossing horns and lunging forms, coming every second nearer and nearer, bringing a death the horrors of which this prairie girl knew all too well...

"I wish this trail went all the way home." The cowboy, who had been looking back over his shoulder uneasily, turned in his saddle, and said, bluntly: "Well, I don't. Not by a jugful..."

At the same moment the leading steers, unable in their mad wild rush to see or heed the turn in the road, plunged after her over the embankment, in a huddled, plunging, struggling mass of horns and hoofs and tumbling carcasses...

"Oh, they're all right, Billy," said the girl, easily. "See, they're coming along as peacefully as can be." Behind them the cattle ambled along, quietly, and through the still, sultry air the voice of the woman came to them in the soothing, crooning, long-drawn "Yo-hee, yo-hee, yo-o-ho-hee!" which the cattle love...

The chances of life were small, anyway, and with something like a prayer on his lips, he shouted to his horse, and went over the embankment into the river in the midst of a struggling heap of horns and hoofs and tumbling carcasses...

"H'm-m, wal, it's pretty enough, I guess, but it ain't any good to drive a bunch of thrifty cattle over, I'll tell you that." Both riders turned in their saddles and looked back. "Oh, they're all right, Billy," said the girl, easily. "See, they're coming along as peacefully as can be..."

Glancing continually behind her as the brave little buckskin breasted the current, she saw Billy Callahan's red head bob up from beneath the waves, and breathed a thanksgiving as she saw his powerful horse strike out for clear water...

"Well, mother's got a first-rate kind of a boy, all right," he said, presently; and then, as if fearing that he had already said too much on a tender subject, he burst into a loud roar of song, and carelessly yodeled as if trying to turn the girl's thoughts into a more cheerful mood...

Concrete For Paving. Concrete is now being employed for paving purposes. This material promises smoothness, cleanliness of surface and durability. A foundation of slabs to the depth of ten inches is first made and permitted to pack well for a week. Then the concrete curbing is made in the usual manner...

PROFITS THROUGH ADVERTISING

It is the Cheapest Form of Salesmanship, Diners Are Told.

Men who help to sell goods for those who make them sit down in the concert hall of Madison Square Garden at the first annual banquet of the New York Advertising League...

The trouble of this sort of thing is that it gives foreigners a false idea of Americans. We are told that on this particular voyage there was a baron, a count and "some minor sprigs of royalty," but they had not a valet between them...

Canada Beats Us.

The foreign trade of Canada, observes a writer in Harper's Weekly, has grown during the last ten years from $239,000,000 to $552,000,000, and is now two and a half times per head that of the great American Republic...

There is certainly room for the moralizations that follow: "There may appear in these notes evidence of a personal grievance and, to a degree, I plead guilty. But the grievance is not specific, and it did not have its origin on the America. Neither is it altogether my grievance, for it is one that is murmured by thousands of other Americans who, annually, on business or pleasure, visit the Old World..."

Primitive Surgery.

Natives in Africa have a great belief in the efficacy of fire as a curative agent. When Livingstone's body was being carried to the coast one of the party received a dangerous gunshot wound in the thigh. His companions made a hole in the ground deep enough to take him, seated, with his legs out in front. Leaves were bound about the injury and earth and thick mud heaped over his legs...

WORDS OF WISDOM.

Poor excuses we have always with us. Anything that is almost right is wrong. Criticize yourself to-day and others to-morrow. The man who looks for trouble is seldom disappointed. Silent watches of the night are those we neglect to wind. An Indian scalps his enemy; a white man skins his friend. It's well to remember that it is a mistake to forget a favor. A confidence man has very little confidence in other people. Savage dogs have caused many a man to travel for his health. And the man who sells parascals is engaged in a shady business. You can't dodge the worst by sitting down and hoping for the best. Kisses that are to be had for the asking are seldom worth taking. A fool can answer questions that a wise man would be ashamed to ask. If a woman is willing to let a man talk it is because she has nothing to talk. A grass widow who has plenty of the long green is seldom left at the post. An artist is no more anxious to secure a model wife than is any other man. A woman ought to be ashamed to brag of her husband's ability to sew on buttons. Good sense is better than good looks, but so few people are afflicted with either. Any man who can get used to drinking poor coffee can get used to being married.

Profits through advertising. It is the cheapest form of salesmanship, diners are told. Men who help to sell goods for those who make them sit down in the concert hall of Madison Square Garden...

Snake Attacks Girl.

Reptile Enters House During The Night. Tamaqua (Special).—Miss Mary Kennedy, aged 16 years, residing in Rush Township, three miles from town, had an experience with a large copperhead snake as a result of which she may not recover...

Minister's Great Pluck.

Towanda (Special).—With the broken bones of his right leg protruding from the flesh and suffering untold agonies, Rev. H. B. Allen, pastor of the North Towanda Methodist Episcopal Church, lay all night on the lonely Mountain Lake Road, unable to decide in which direction to go in the inky darkness...

Pittsburg Claims 600,000.

Pittsburg (Special).—The population of Greater Pittsburg is more than 600,000, based on estimates made from the number of names in the new city directory just issued. The directory includes more than 200,000 names of residents of Pittsburg, Allegheny, Wilkensburg, Swissvale and Edgewood. The population based on these figures, shows a gain in the greater city of over 30,000 last year.

Arsenic In The Feed.

Schwenksville (Special).—Arsenic placed in a large quantity of mixed feed in the granary of Harvey Leisher, a farmer of Skipack Township, killed 250 chickens. The same feed is usually fed to all the live stock, but the presence of the poison was discovered before the horses and cows were fed.

Woman Found Dying In Field.

Allentown (Special).—Stricken with apoplexy while walking through a field on her way home from church, Mrs. Levi Knerr, of Schnecksville, lay in a cornfield all night during a pouring rain. She died Monday.

Doctor Dies Under Knife.

Pottsville (Special).—Following an operation for appendicitis, Dr. Charles K. Cleaver, of Fridansburg, died at the Pottsville Hospital. With a premonition that he could not stand an operation, Dr. Cleaver repeatedly warned off attacks and yielded only to the surgeon's knife when the disease reached an acute stage.

Drinks Acid And Dies.

Sunbury (Special).—Mrs. William Borner drank carbolic acid and died in agony. She had just returned home after a visit with friends, who are at a loss to know what impelled her to take her life.

Meat Inspector Appointed.

Reading (Special).—Dr. Otto Noack, of this city, has been appointed State Meat Inspector for Eastern Pennsylvania. He was no sooner appointed than he visited Reading's slaughter houses and ordered a number of radical changes to be made.

Painted Union Pickets Whiskers. Scranton (Special).—Non-union painters have been at work during the painters' strike and Wednesday John Nowicki interfered with some who were at work on a house in South Scranton. Eugene Melchior, the owner of the building, descended the ladder with a lot of paint and painted the belligerent Nowicki's whiskers a bright pink. They were long whiskers and the enraged Nowicki, race through the streets to an Alderman's office added much to the gaiety of a hot July day.

Furnace Tops To Abate Ore Dust. Pittsburg (Special).—The Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, whose president, B. F. Jones, Jr., was fined $5,000 last week for contempt of court, in not abating ore dust from escaping from the Eliza furnaces, may equip its furnaces with the top invented by Julian Kennedy to comply with the order of Supreme Court. The new top was under consideration some time ago, but was objected to by some of the employees who thought a closed top would increase the danger from explosion.

Boy Burned To Death. Lock Haven (Special).—One life was lost and a number of properties destroyed in a fire at Mackeyville, a little village nine miles west of this city. The blaze started in the barn of Andrew Smith and spread quickly to adjoining buildings, two houses, four barns and numerous smaller buildings being destroyed.

Girl Finds Pearl In Clam. Bangor (Special).—While grinding a quantity of raw clams in a machine, Miss Myrtle Stock, a domestic in a local restaurant, found that some hard substance refused to be crushed. It proved to be a pearl the size of a vast button, valued at least $300. A local jeweler offered $250, but it will be sent to a New York jewelry house for disposal. The pearl is said to be perfect.

Murdered With Baseball Bat. Pittston (Special).—When Mike Caras, of Pittston, returned home from work he found four countrymen entertaining his sweetheart, daughter of boarding house mistress. When the men were leaving Mike picked a quarrel, and in a fight he was struck on the head with a baseball bat. His skull was broken and his brains scattered on the sidewalk. Police arrested the murderers an hour later as they were making their escape across the mountain near West Pittston.

Children Get Hutchins' Estate. Pittsburg (Special).—The will of Thomas Hutchins, late geographer general of the United States, who died in Philadelphia recently, was filed. An estate of unestimated value in local restaurants, found that some hard substance refused to be crushed. It proved to be a pearl the size of a vast button, valued at least $300. A local jeweler offered $250, but it will be sent to a New York jewelry house for disposal. The pearl is said to be perfect.

Murdered With Baseball Bat. Pittston (Special).—When Mike Caras, of Pittston, returned home from work he found four countrymen entertaining his sweetheart, daughter of boarding house mistress. When the men were leaving Mike picked a quarrel, and in a fight he was struck on the head with a baseball bat. His skull was broken and his brains scattered on the sidewalk. Police arrested the murderers an hour later as they were making their escape across the mountain near West Pittston.

Children Get Hutchins' Estate. Pittsburg (Special).—The will of Thomas Hutchins, late geographer general of the United States, who died in Philadelphia recently, was filed. An estate of unestimated value in local restaurants, found that some hard substance refused to be crushed. It proved to be a pearl the size of a vast button, valued at least $300. A local jeweler offered $250, but it will be sent to a New York jewelry house for disposal. The pearl is said to be perfect.

Murdered With Baseball Bat. Pittston (Special).—When Mike Caras, of Pittston, returned home from work he found four countrymen entertaining his sweetheart, daughter of boarding house mistress. When the men were leaving Mike picked a quarrel, and in a fight he was struck on the head with a baseball bat. His skull was broken and his brains scattered on the sidewalk. Police arrested the murderers an hour later as they were making their escape across the mountain near West Pittston.

Children Get Hutchins' Estate. Pittsburg (Special).—The will of Thomas Hutchins, late geographer general of the United States, who died in Philadelphia recently, was filed. An estate of unestimated value in local restaurants, found that some hard substance refused to be crushed. It proved to be a pearl the size of a vast button, valued at least $300. A local jeweler offered $250, but it will be sent to a New York jewelry house for disposal. The pearl is said to be perfect.

Murdered With Baseball Bat. Pittston (Special).—When Mike Caras, of Pittston, returned home from work he found four countrymen entertaining his sweetheart, daughter of boarding house mistress. When the men were leaving Mike picked a quarrel, and in a fight he was struck on the head with a baseball bat. His skull was broken and his brains scattered on the sidewalk. Police arrested the murderers an hour later as they were making their escape across the mountain near West Pittston.

Children Get Hutchins' Estate. Pittsburg (Special).—The will of Thomas Hutchins, late geographer general of the United States, who died in Philadelphia recently, was filed. An estate of unestimated value in local restaurants, found that some hard substance refused to be crushed. It proved to be a pearl the size of a vast button, valued at least $300. A local jeweler offered $250, but it will be sent to a New York jewelry house for disposal. The pearl is said to be perfect.

Murdered With Baseball Bat. Pittston (Special).—When Mike Caras, of Pittston, returned home from work he found four countrymen entertaining his sweetheart, daughter of boarding house mistress. When the men were leaving Mike picked a quarrel, and in a fight he was struck on the head with a baseball bat. His skull was broken and his brains scattered on the sidewalk. Police arrested the murderers an hour later as they were making their escape across the mountain near West Pittston.

Children Get Hutchins' Estate. Pittsburg (Special).—The will of Thomas Hutchins, late geographer general of the United States, who died in Philadelphia recently, was filed. An estate of unestimated value in local restaurants, found that some hard substance refused to be crushed. It proved to be a pearl the size of a vast button, valued at least $300. A local jeweler offered $250, but it will be sent to a New York jewelry house for disposal. The pearl is said to be perfect.

Murdered With Baseball Bat. Pittston (Special).—When Mike Caras, of Pittston, returned home from work he found four countrymen entertaining his sweetheart, daughter of boarding house mistress. When the men were leaving Mike picked a quarrel, and in a fight he was struck on the head with a baseball bat. His skull was broken and his brains scattered on the sidewalk. Police arrested the murderers an hour later as they were making their escape across the mountain near West Pittston.

Children Get Hutchins' Estate. Pittsburg (Special).—The will of Thomas Hutchins, late geographer general of the United States, who died in Philadelphia recently, was filed. An estate of unestimated value in local restaurants, found that some hard substance refused to be crushed. It proved to be a pearl the size of a vast button, valued at least $300. A local jeweler offered $250, but it will be sent to a New York jewelry house for disposal. The pearl is said to be perfect.

Murdered With Baseball Bat. Pittston (Special).—When Mike Caras, of Pittston, returned home from work he found four countrymen entertaining his sweetheart, daughter of boarding house mistress. When the men were leaving Mike picked a quarrel, and in a fight he was struck on the head with a baseball bat. His skull was broken and his brains scattered on the sidewalk. Police arrested the murderers an hour later as they were making their escape across the mountain near West Pittston.

Children Get Hutchins' Estate. Pittsburg (Special).—The will of Thomas Hutchins, late geographer general of the United States, who died in Philadelphia recently, was filed. An estate of unestimated value in local restaurants, found that some hard substance refused to be crushed. It proved to be a pearl the size of a vast button, valued at least $300. A local jeweler offered $250, but it will be sent to a New York jewelry house for disposal. The pearl is said to be perfect.

Murdered With Baseball Bat. Pittston (Special).—When Mike Caras, of Pittston, returned home from work he found four countrymen entertaining his sweetheart, daughter of boarding house mistress. When the men were leaving Mike picked a quarrel, and in a fight he was struck on the head with a baseball bat. His skull was broken and his brains scattered on the sidewalk. Police arrested the murderers an hour later as they were making their escape across the mountain near West Pittston.

Children Get Hutchins' Estate. Pittsburg (Special).—The will of Thomas Hutchins, late geographer general of the United States, who died in Philadelphia recently, was filed. An estate of unestimated value in local restaurants, found that some hard substance refused to be crushed. It proved to be a pearl the size of a vast button, valued at least $300. A local jeweler offered $250, but it will be sent to a New York jewelry house for disposal. The pearl is said to be perfect.

Murdered With Baseball Bat. Pittston (Special).—When Mike Caras, of Pittston, returned home from work he found four countrymen entertaining his sweetheart, daughter of boarding house mistress. When the men were leaving Mike picked a quarrel, and in a fight he was struck on the head with a baseball bat. His skull was broken and his brains scattered on the sidewalk. Police arrested the murderers an hour later as they were making their escape across the mountain near West Pittston.

Children Get Hutchins' Estate. Pittsburg (Special).—The will of Thomas Hutchins, late geographer general of the United States, who died in Philadelphia recently, was filed. An estate of unestimated value in local restaurants, found that some hard substance refused to be crushed. It proved to be a pearl the size of a vast button, valued at least $300. A local jeweler offered $250, but it will be sent to a New York jewelry house for disposal. The pearl is said to be perfect.

Murdered With Baseball Bat. Pittston (Special).—When Mike Caras, of Pittston, returned home from work he found four countrymen entertaining his sweetheart, daughter of boarding house mistress. When the men were leaving Mike picked a quarrel, and in a fight he was struck on the head with a baseball bat. His skull was broken and his brains scattered on the sidewalk. Police arrested the murderers an hour later as they were making their escape across the mountain near West Pittston.

Children Get Hutchins' Estate. Pittsburg (Special).—The will of Thomas Hutchins, late geographer general of the United States, who died in Philadelphia recently, was filed. An estate of unestimated value in local restaurants, found that some hard substance refused to be crushed. It proved to be a pearl the size of a vast button, valued at least $300. A local jeweler offered $250, but it will be sent to a New York jewelry house for disposal. The pearl is said to be perfect.

Murdered With Baseball Bat. Pittston (Special).—When Mike Caras, of Pittston, returned home from work he found four countrymen entertaining his sweetheart, daughter of boarding house mistress. When the men were leaving Mike picked a quarrel, and in a fight he was struck on the head with a baseball bat. His skull was broken and his brains scattered on the sidewalk. Police arrested the murderers an hour later as they were making their escape across the mountain near West Pittston.

Children Get Hutchins' Estate. Pittsburg (Special).—The will of Thomas Hutchins, late geographer general of the United States, who died in Philadelphia recently, was filed. An estate of unestimated value in local restaurants, found that some hard substance refused to be crushed. It proved to be a pearl the size of a vast button, valued at least $300. A local jeweler offered $250, but it will be sent to a New York jewelry house for disposal. The pearl is said to be perfect.

Murdered With Baseball Bat. Pittston (Special).—When Mike Caras, of Pittston, returned home from work he found four countrymen entertaining his sweetheart, daughter of boarding house mistress. When the men were leaving Mike picked a quarrel, and in a fight he was struck on the head with a baseball bat. His skull was broken and his brains scattered on the sidewalk. Police arrested the murderers an hour later as they were making their escape across the mountain near West Pittston.

Children Get Hutchins' Estate. Pittsburg (Special).—The will of Thomas Hutchins, late geographer general of the United States, who died in Philadelphia recently, was filed. An estate of unestimated value in local restaurants, found that some hard substance refused to be crushed. It proved to be a pearl the size of a vast button, valued at least $300. A local jeweler offered $250, but it will be sent to a New York jewelry house for disposal. The pearl is said to be perfect.

Murdered With Baseball Bat. Pittston (Special).—When Mike Caras, of Pittston, returned home from work he found four countrymen entertaining his sweetheart, daughter of boarding house mistress. When the men were leaving Mike picked a quarrel, and in a fight he was struck on the head with a baseball bat. His skull was broken and his brains scattered on the sidewalk. Police arrested the murderers an hour later as they were making their escape across the mountain near West Pittston.

Children Get Hutchins' Estate. Pittsburg (Special).—The will of Thomas Hutchins, late geographer general of the United States, who died in Philadelphia recently, was filed. An estate of unestimated value in local restaurants, found that some hard substance refused to be crushed. It proved to be a pearl the size of a vast button, valued at least $300. A local jeweler offered $250, but it will be sent to a New York jewelry house for disposal. The pearl is said to be perfect.

Murdered With Baseball Bat. Pittston (Special).—When Mike Caras, of Pittston, returned home from work he found four countrymen entertaining his sweetheart, daughter of boarding house mistress. When the men were leaving Mike picked a quarrel, and in a fight he was struck on the head with a baseball bat. His skull was broken and his brains scattered on the sidewalk. Police arrested the murderers an hour later as they were making their escape across the mountain near West Pittston.

Children Get Hutchins' Estate. Pittsburg (Special).—The will of Thomas Hutchins, late geographer general of the United States, who died in Philadelphia recently, was filed. An estate of unestimated value in local restaurants, found that some hard substance refused to be crushed. It proved to be a pearl the size of a vast button, valued at least $300. A local jeweler offered $250, but it will be sent to a New York jewelry house for disposal. The pearl is said to be perfect.

Murdered With Baseball Bat. Pittston (Special).—When Mike Caras, of Pittston, returned home from work he found four countrymen entertaining his sweetheart, daughter of boarding house mistress. When the men were leaving Mike picked a quarrel, and in a fight he was struck on the head with a baseball bat. His skull was broken and his brains scattered on the sidewalk. Police arrested the murderers an hour later as they were making their escape across the mountain near West Pittston.

Children Get Hutchins' Estate. Pittsburg (Special).—The will of Thomas Hutchins, late geographer general of the United States, who died in Philadelphia recently, was filed. An estate of unestimated value in local restaurants, found that some hard substance refused to be crushed. It proved to be a pearl the size of a vast button, valued at least $300. A local jeweler offered $250, but it will be sent to a New York jewelry house for disposal. The pearl is said to be perfect.

Murdered With Baseball Bat. Pittston (Special).—When Mike Caras, of Pittston, returned home from work he found four countrymen entertaining his sweetheart, daughter of boarding house mistress. When the men were leaving Mike picked a quarrel, and in a fight he was struck on the head with a baseball bat. His skull was broken and his brains scattered on the sidewalk. Police arrested the murderers an hour later as they were making their escape across the mountain near West Pittston.

Children Get Hutchins' Estate. Pittsburg (Special).—The will of Thomas Hutchins, late geographer general of the United States, who died in Philadelphia recently, was filed. An estate of unestimated value in local restaurants, found that some hard substance refused to be crushed. It proved to be a pearl the size of a vast button, valued at least $300. A local jeweler offered $250, but it will be sent to a New York jewelry house for disposal. The pearl is said to be perfect.

Crushed Under Wheels Of Train. Mount Carmel (Special).—While attempting to board a moving passenger train at the Lehigh Valley depot here John Augustalis fell under the train and was so badly injured he died at the Miners' Hospital. He resided at Shenandoah and leaves a wife and nine children.

Suicide's Aim Was Poor. Stroudsburg (Special).—Allen Black, of Tobyhanna, came to town and told a party of friends that he was going to commit suicide. Half an hour later he tried to send a bullet through his head, but it glanced off without penetrating the skull.

Painter's Fall Fatal. Shamokin (Special).—William Mowrey and Charles Chaundy, painters, fell forty feet from the roof of a building here through the breaking of a rope. Mowrey will die.

Brief News Items. The Dodge Mine, at Scranton, which for twenty-five years has only been idle during coal strikes, has been closed for two months. Millions of tons of coal have been mined and after the Dunmore vein, the last to be reached, is exhausted, the mine will be abandoned.

The Board of Home Missions of the Reformed Church has elected Rev. Lewis Robb, of Wilkensburg, Allegheny County, successor to the late Rev. Thomas M. Yundt, of Reading, as general superintendent of home missions.

State Health Commissioner Dixon has been notified of an epidemic of typhoid fever at Shillington, Berks County, and a rigid examination is being made of farms and dairies to ascertain the origin of the trouble. Whole families are down with the disease.

Thomas O'Boyle, 14 years old, of Scranton, while returning from work at the Brieha Colliery, Scranton, was struck by a passenger train and instantly killed. In attempting to avoid a freight locomotive he stepped in front of an express.

A secret agency is one who is unable to keep a secret.

Crushed Under Wheels Of Train. Mount Carmel (Special).—While attempting to board a moving passenger train at the Lehigh Valley depot here John Augustalis fell under the train and was so badly injured he died at the Miners' Hospital. He resided at Shenandoah and leaves a wife and nine children.

Suicide's Aim Was Poor. Stroudsburg (Special).—Allen Black, of Tobyhanna, came to town and told a party of friends that he was going to commit suicide. Half an hour later he tried to send a bullet through his head, but it glanced off without penetrating the skull.

Painter's Fall Fatal. Shamokin (Special).—William Mowrey and Charles Chaundy, painters, fell forty feet from the roof of a building here through the breaking of a rope. Mowrey will die.

Brief News Items. The Dodge Mine, at Scranton, which for twenty-five years has only been idle during coal strikes, has been closed for two months. Millions of tons of coal have been mined and after the Dunmore vein, the last to be reached, is exhausted, the mine will be abandoned.

The Board of Home Missions of the Reformed Church has elected Rev. Lewis Robb, of Wilkensburg, Allegheny County, successor to the late Rev. Thomas M. Yundt, of Reading, as general superintendent of home missions.

State Health Commissioner Dixon has been notified of an epidemic of typhoid fever at Shillington, Berks County, and a rigid examination is being made of farms and dairies to ascertain the origin of the trouble. Whole families are down with the disease.

Thomas O'Boyle, 14 years old, of Scranton, while returning from work at the Brieha Colliery, Scranton, was struck by a passenger train and instantly killed. In attempting to avoid a freight locomotive he stepped in front of an express.

A secret agency is one who is unable to keep a secret.

Crushed Under Wheels Of Train. Mount Carmel (Special).—While attempting to board a moving passenger train at the Lehigh Valley depot here John Augustalis fell under the train and was so badly injured he died at the Miners' Hospital. He resided at Shenandoah and leaves a wife and nine children.

Suicide's Aim Was Poor. Stroudsburg (Special).—Allen Black, of Tobyhanna, came to town and told a party of friends that he was going to commit suicide. Half an hour later he tried to send a bullet through his head, but it glanced off without penetrating the skull.

Painter's Fall Fatal. Shamokin (Special).—William Mowrey and Charles Chaundy, painters, fell forty feet from the roof of a building here through the breaking of a rope. Mowrey will die.

Brief News Items. The Dodge Mine, at Scranton, which for twenty-five years has only been idle during coal strikes, has been closed for two months. Millions of tons of coal have been mined and after the Dunmore vein, the last to be reached, is exhausted, the mine will be abandoned.

The Board of Home Missions of the Reformed Church has elected Rev. Lewis Robb, of Wilkensburg, Allegheny County, successor to the late Rev. Thomas M. Yundt, of Reading, as general superintendent of home missions.

State Health Commissioner Dixon has been notified of an epidemic of typhoid fever at Shillington, Berks County, and a rigid examination is being made of farms and dairies to ascertain the origin of the trouble. Whole families are down with the disease.

Thomas O'Boyle, 14 years old, of Scranton, while returning from work at the Brieha Colliery, Scranton, was struck by a passenger train and instantly killed. In attempting to avoid a freight locomotive he stepped in front of an express.

A secret agency is one who is unable to keep a secret.

Crushed Under Wheels Of Train. Mount Carmel (Special).—While attempting to board a moving passenger train at the Lehigh Valley depot here John Augustalis fell under the train and was so badly injured he died at the Miners' Hospital. He resided at Shenandoah and leaves a wife and nine children.

Suicide's Aim Was Poor. Stroudsburg (Special).—Allen Black, of Tobyhanna, came to town and told a party of friends that he was going to commit suicide. Half an hour later he tried to send a bullet through his head, but it glanced off without penetrating the skull.

Painter's Fall Fatal. Shamokin (Special).—William Mowrey and Charles Chaundy, painters, fell forty feet from the roof of a building here through the breaking of a rope. Mowrey will die.

Brief News Items. The Dodge Mine, at Scranton, which for twenty-five years has only been idle during coal strikes, has been closed for two months. Millions of tons of coal have been mined and after the Dunmore vein, the last to be reached, is exhausted, the mine will be abandoned.

The Board of Home Missions of the Reformed Church has elected Rev. Lewis Robb, of Wilkensburg, Allegheny County, successor to the late Rev. Thomas M. Yundt, of Reading, as general superintendent of home missions.

State Health Commissioner Dixon has been notified of an epidemic of typhoid fever at Shillington, Berks County, and a rigid examination is being made of farms and dairies to ascertain the origin of the trouble. Whole families are down with the disease.