Holds Law Inoperative.

According to County Solicitor J. F. Strieby, of Lycoming county, the new dog tax is inoperative. He holds that the law does not compel the owner to put a tax on his dog after he has paid the tax, and that no one else has the right to tag the dog.

Rising From the Grave.

A prominent manufacturer, Wm. A. Fertwell, of Locama, N. C., relates a most remarkable experience. He says: "After taking less than three bottles of Electric Bitters, I feel like one rising from the grave. My trouble is Bright's disease, in the Diabetes stage. I fully believe Electric Bitters will cure me permanently, for it has already stopped the liver and bladder complications which have troubled me for years."

An unusual card of thanks was left at this office today, says the Atchison Globe. "I did not issue a card of thanks when my husband died, but now that the three months are passed I wish to have one printed. I desire to thank, not those friends who came in when he lay dead in the house, and bustled around arranging the chairs and flowers and answering the door, but those friends who have come in since the parade was over, and who have sat with me in my loneliness when they might be with happier people elsewhere. And I desire to state that few of those busy before the parade have been to see me since it was over. I am no longer in the limelight, and am forgotten."

There have been 17,521 automobiles licensed at the State Highway Department since the first of the year. This is far and away ahead of last year.

Letter to Prof. B. C. Lamberson, McConnellsburg, Pa.

Dear Sir: We should like to set your boys and girls at work on this question in arithmetic and casuistry.

A farmer is fattening three hogs in three small pens; they have equal room and straw and care, and are fed in these three ways: first hog, on a certain proportion of milk and cooked cornmeal, second hog, on the same, half water; third hog, on the same, half water and sawdust. How long will it take, how much will they cost, and what'll the profit be on the three?

And a similar question in pigmentry. That same farmer is going to paint three barns same size, and he says to three painters: "What'll you take to paint that barn?"

First painter scratches his head a few minutes and says: "I'll do it for $50."

Second painter: "$75."

Third painter: "$97.48."

Will they each get a barn to paint, or one get two, or one all three, or nobody any; and what'll they make on the job?

That's about how painting goes sometimes.

But there is a way to reckon: $5 a gallon. The difficulty is in knowing how many gallons to buy. There's a way out of that.

Buy the least gallons paint, Devco. No matter how much one buys; he returns what's left; costs nothing.

Yours truly F. W. DEVCO & Co.

P. S.—F. C. Bare, Fort Littleton, and J. A. Boyd, Mercersburg, sell our paint.

Mica Discovered in Franklin.

While workmen employed on the construction of a State road, were blasting in a quarry on the Stoner farm, near Waynesboro, they discovered a large deposit of mica. One piece alone was fourteen inches long, eight inches wide and an inch thick.

George Woodring, the tenant on the farm, was notified and he ordered a suspension of the quarrying until a thorough investigation can be made. It is hoped that this will lead to the discovery of a large deposit of the mineral. As mica is worth about $80 per pound, such a discovery would mean much to that section of the country.

A VALUABLE LESSON.

"Six years ago I learned a valuable lesson," writes John Pleasant, of Magnolia, Ind. "I then began taking Dr. King's New Life Pills, and the longer I take them the better I find them."

George M. Fulford secured an Indian relic while camping below Shawville, Clearfield county, last week, which is quite valuable as well as unique. It is a large pipe carved out of soapstone with the figure of an animal adorning and supporting the bowl. The stem of the pipe is about eight inches long and the entire pipe will weigh about twenty ounces. The workmanship is quite good, and the pipe is in an excellent state of preservation. A small boy found it in the sand along the river.

A Bedford county editor tells his subscribers how it feels to own a million dollars. "When you have a million $1 bills," he said; "and pile them up on top of one another, and you want to take off the top one, you will have to reach 276 feet. If you had the amount in silver dollars, the pile would be one and one half miles and so on. We know because we tried it the other night but the bed broke down and woke us up."

It may surprise many to learn that naphtha, illuminating oil, gas, oil, and lubricating oil are obtained in considerable quantities from certain varieties of shale rock. "Oil shales" abound in the Scotch Lothians. A recent memoir of the British Geological Survey records the discovery of an important new field of shale near Duddington. In the year 1904 2,332,000 tons of oil shale were mined in Scotland, and yielded 62,932,000 gallons of crude oil. The Scotch oil shales were first made generally known to geologists in 1885.

The American Ethnological Society announces that it is about to begin a series of publications of authentic material collected among native American tribes. It is pointed out that hitherto little has been collected, in their own language, concerning the customs, beliefs and ideas of the natives. Yet authentic records of information given by the Indians are regarded as of prime importance for a thorough study of the ethnology and early history of the American continent. The Indians are believed to possess much valuable knowledge not yet recorded.

The results of recent exploration show more and more clearly that if America has received much from the Old World it has in return given much, says the Youth's Companion. The American origin of early types of the horse, the camel, the rhinoceros and other animals, which eventually attained a circumpolar distribution, says Dr. J. A. Allen, is well established, but that the same fact is true of some form of existing mammalia does not seem to have been hitherto recognized. Doctor Allen thinks that eastern Siberia has derived some of its present mammalian life from boreal America within a comparatively recent period.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Syphilis, the Heart or the Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. We kill Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy ever claims to treat the "inside nerves". Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me to-day for samples and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by Dickson's drug store.

After wearing a heavy beard for forty years, Stephen Mahon, of Clarion, Iowa, sought to play a joke on his family by getting a clean shave. The result was that he was taken for a tramp and landed in the cooler by the city marshal.

Mahon first asked for a hand-out, but was refused. He then sought to embrace his wife, but the screams of the latter resulted in incarceration for two hours before the family could be convinced that it was really "Pa."

Mahon says it is his last joke.

There are people who say that they never enjoy a hot bath because the hot water always makes them faint. This trouble may be remedied by the simple expedient of placing a towel which has been wrung out in cold water on the head and retaining it there until the bath is over.

The Black Bass Law. Misinterpretation of the law in regard to the catching of black bass may cause trouble for careless fishermen. A section of the law provides that it is illegal to catch black bass under nine inches in length in any waters mentioned under the first section of this act. The first section of the act, however, refers only to lakes and bays, and the nine inch limit applies to those waters only. The minimum size for other streams is the same as last year—seven inches. One section of the new law that it will be well for fishermen to keep in mind, is section eleven, which reads as follows: "It shall be unlawful for any person to catch or kill more than ten black or yellow bass in one day. Any person violating the provisions of this section will, on conviction, be subject to a fine of $10 for each fish so captured and killed, over and above the amount therein named, or in default of payment be imprisoned in the county jail for a period of one day for each dollar of fine unpaid."

Riddles. Why did the accession of Victoria throw a greater damp over England than the death of King William? Because the king was missed (mist) while the queen was reigning (raining). What is it a woman wears her husband never sees? Widow's weeds. Why do we buy shoes? Because no one will give them to us. Why is a spider a good correspondent? Because he drops a line at every post. Why is a cigar loving man like a tallow candle? Because he will smoke when he is going out. Why is a tight shoe like a wet summer? Because it makes the corn grow. N. H.
