BRIDGE BROKE DOWN.

Drivers, Horses, and Wagon Precipitated into Sidelong Hill Creek, and All Badly Used Up.

Howard Barnett and Isaac Baker, two Taylor township citizens, made a trip to Broadtop last Monday in a two horse wagon. As they were returning in the evening, and crossing the old wooden bridge across Sidelong Hill Creek at Will Bergstresser's near Waterfall, the old structure began to crack, and before the drivers could clear themselves of the danger, the bridge went down, carrying wagon, horses, and drivers into the cold flood ten feet below. To add to their misfortune, the night was as dark as a pile of black cats, and it takes no stretch of the imagination to conclude just what was going on about that time, as the horses were struggling, the men separated, neither knowing just at the time whether the other was alive or not. Mr. Barnett found Mr. Baker in a few minutes, but to his dismay, Mr. Baker was so badly injured as to be unconscious. Mr. Barnett at once ran to Waterfall, and soon had the necessary assistance to get the horses and Mr. Baker out of the Creek. Both horses were badly hurt, and Mr. Baker's nose was broken besides having a number of other ugly bruises. In fact, it is little less than miraculous that horses and men were not all killed.

NEEDMORE.

Grant Mellott, our photographer, spent Sunday at Pleasant Ridge.

Corder Snider and wife, of Hagerstown, who had been visiting a few days among their Fulton county friends, returned home last week.

Judson Runyan, of Mountain Lake Park, spent a week or ten days among his friends here. His father, P. N. Runyan, went home with him on Tuesday.

Willie Powers, of Lanesville, W. Va., moved here with his family last week, and he proposes to engage in the blacksmithing business here. We extend to him a hearty welcome, for Needmore surely did need a blacksmith.

H. L. Garland and wife, of Front Royal, Va., are spending a few days at their old home.

John McClellan has very greatly improved the appearance of his property by a new coat of paint artistically applied by painter Schrieber.

J. D. Mellott has his new wagon and blacksmithing shop about ready for business. We hope the new venture will prove a financial success.

Last Monday evening, as Mrs. Benj Bedford, in company with her daughter Eva, were on their way to Needmore, coming down a hill a little north of Dr. Palmer's their buggy came uncoupled, throwing the occupants out. The horse dashed away a short distance, and ran clear through a page wire fence. The ladies escaped with slight injuries. The dashboard was broken from the buggy, the horse badly scared, and the fence broken and twisted in bad shape.

John G. Mellott and family spent Sunday with friends at Cove Gap.

Many of our farmers have already begun their annual job of hauling lime stone.

S. D. Stevens, a native of Taylor township this county and brother-in-law of Prothonotary Harris of this county, but now a resident of Chambersburg, is a candidate for the nomination on the Republican ticket for Clerk of the Courts in Franklin county. The primary election next year will be held on the 11th of April.

If one may judge from the number of men in Franklin county in the race for the nomination at the primaries in that county next April, there is more than ordinary fascination in political life, and a deep growing hunger for public office. From the list in the Chambersburg papers, there are already in the field, 5 candidates for State Senator; 4 for County Treasurer; 15 for the Legislature; 16 for County Commissioner; 6 for Register and Recorder; 2 for Prothonotary, and 8 for Clerk of the Courts.

Advertisement for Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy: I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn lumpy growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangings of this deplorable disease. In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredients with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a powerful, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it finally cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those and like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend
