Why Iron Rusts.

Ask almost any intelligent man why iron rusts, and he will probably explain at tedious length that it is all due to the oxygen of the air. Ever since chemistry became a more or less exact science, which was over a century ago, that theory has been generally accepted. Now an American physicist, Dr. Cushman, comes along and announces that rusting is really due to electricity.

Dr. Cushman started his researches with the object of discovering some method of preventing the corrosion of wire fences—a subject of vital interest to farmers. He achieved more than he anticipated. He found that the first attack on the iron is made by hydrogen in the form of exceedingly small particles, but not as the text-books have taught us, by oxygen. This is in agreement with the modern theory that many substances, when they are dissolved in water, are dissociated into ions, or minute particles smaller even than atoms, all carrying electrical charges. Even pure water contains a certain number of these. Acid impurities multiply the hydrogen ions and strengthen their in their corrosive effect upon iron. The action is purely electric, and involves an exchange of the electric relations between the hydrogen and the iron. Dr. Cushman discovered that active oxidizing agents, such as chromate and dichromate of potash, prevent rusting by safeguarding it against attack by the hydrogen ion. By immersing the iron in a concentrated solution of bichromate acid, and then washing and wiping it, the metal is rendered passive, so that it becomes capable of resisting electro-chemical attack.

The discovery of the real cause of rusting and of its prevention, has great industrial significance. It means that a method has at last been found for protecting structural ironwork and machinery.—From the Science Circle of "The Circle" for December.

The Magic No. 3.

Number three is a wonderful mascot for Geo. H. Parris, of Cedar Grove, Me., according to a letter which reads: "After suffering much with liver and kidney trouble, and becoming greatly discouraged by the failure to find relief, I tried Electric Bitters, and as a result I am a well man to day. The first bottle relieved and three bottles completed the cure." Guaranteed best remedy for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by Trout's drug store. 50c.

The New York World says: Grover Cleveland, seemingly a good hundred pounds lighter in weight than a few years ago, but not looking his seventy years, faced an audience of life insurance officers in the Hotel Belmont yesterday and addressed them for nearly half an hour. Men who had not seen Mr. Cleveland for several years almost failed to recognize him. His tremendous bulk of former times is gone and he is now a man of trim figure. He even seems to have lost in height as well as girth and weight.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Mr. D. Kaubel, of Nevada, O., says: "I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me."
