There is only one cotton mill in Egypt, which in this respect, is behind all other cotton-raising countries, where the tendency is for the cotton mills to go to the cotton fields. The anomaly is due to taxes and to the insufficiency of efficient help.

Clad only in her night garments Mrs. George Dallas, of Somerset, holding a child under each arm, heretically leaped from a second story window of her blazing home last Wednesday night, saving the lives of herself and her babies. The stairway was afire, cutting off escape. A snowdrift broke the force of their fall.

We want to apologize to some of our faithful and esteemed correspondents, for being obliged during the last week or two to leave out of the paper the news matter they sent in. No one regrets a thing of that kind more than the editor, but as each year rolls around more and more space is demanded from advertisers, especially during the holiday season. This year, we have been compelled to turn down some very desirable advertising, just for the reason that we did not have the space. For some time to come now, advertisers will not ask for so much space, and we shall be able to handle all the news matter that may come our way.

LOCUST GROVE.

Happy New Year! The recent snow added very materially to the attendance upon the protracted meeting services in the Jerusalem church conducted by Rev. A. R. Garland. William Barrett, of Everett was with the people in the Cave during the meeting. It closed on the 22nd of December.

While spending her Christmas at John A. Garland's, Ora Layton became seriously ill from an attack of pneumonia.

The Christmas entertainment at Jerusalem was well attended, and everybody enjoyed the services.

C. T. Layton, wife, son Marshall, and daughter Rheata; Mrs. S. N. Garland, Miss N. R. Garland, John Eagle and daughter and son Clarence—all spent Sunday with the family of Aaron Layton.

Some of our young folks spent Sunday with the family of Ludwig Fisher Buck Valley and attended the Christmas services in the M. E. church.

Mrs. Aaron Layton is sick. Simon Layton butchered a pig the other day that weighed 380 lbs.

Carey Layton has taken charge of the postoffice at Locust Grove. Isaiah Layton had the misfortune to have one of his horses badly crippled a few days ago.
