CONDENSED FOR HURRIED READERS

Harry R. Lamberson of Taylor township, has been appointed Mercantile Appraiser for the county for the ensuing year.

The firm of Clippinger & Allen, Chambersburg, made and sold over seven tons of clear toys for their Christmas trade.

It depends upon the pill you take. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the best pills known for constipation and sick headache. Sold by Trout's drug store.

The County Auditors are busy with the finances of the County, this week. Jobe L. Garland, esq., is acting as their clerk.

When you want the best, get DeWitt's Carbolyzed Witch Hazel Salve. It is good for little or big cuts, boils or bruises, and is especially recommended for piles. Sold by Trout's drug store.

Rev. Geo. Fulton, for the past seven years pastor of the Presbyterian church, Waynesboro, has been elected pastor of the Olivet Presbyterian church at Reading.

Rev. J. F. Harnis has been elected pastor of the Lutheran congregation at Mercersburg. He is a native of South Carolina and is at present a student at Gettysburg seminary.

Dr. W. F. Teeter will be at the Washington House, Jan. 14th to 17th. Crow and Bridge work. Fillings that save your teeth. Artificial teeth that look natural and fit to perfection. Painless extraction.

New York alone consumes each year over a million and a quarter cords of wood in the manufacture of pulp from which paper is made, or more than twice as much as Maine, which ranks next. Wisconsin, New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, and Michigan follow in the order given.

If a merchant finds advertising profitable at the Christmas season he will find it so at any other time. Many of them advertise only when business is good and brisk, failing to recognize that they could have brisk business all the time by judicious advertising. It is "keeping everlastingly at it" that pays. A merchant should keep his name and name before the public all the time and whether the season be busy or dull he will then get his share of business. The public expects a merchant to advertise at one time as well as at another.

This is Worth Remembering.
Whenever you have a cough or cold, just remember that Foley's Honey and Tar will cure it. Do not risk your health by taking any but the genuine. It is in a yellow package. Trout's drug store.

MORE WEATHER PROPHECY.

The Coming Winter Not Likely To Be As Mild As Some Have Predicted.

According to the markings of the goose bone as read by pupils of the late Elias Hartz, the rest of this winter will not be as mild as some people have predicted. Those markings indicate the rapid approach of winter and frosts. Rain and snow are probable, although severe cold weather is not due until after the New Year.

Between January 10 and 15 eastern Pennsylvania is likely to have a touch of real winter. There will be a sudden drop in the temperature and winter will be ushered in with an old-fashioned snow storm or very severe cold weather. These conditions, with but very slight variations will continue until about February 21, when milder weather will prevail until the beginning of March, when once more severe weather is predicted.

The probabilities are that a good ice crop will be gathered the latter part of January and the beginning of February. Plenty of sleighing is expected. Spring will be very late and March will be cold and stormy. Remember these predictions and see how near right they will prove to be.

THE NEW YORK WORLD

THRICE A WEEK EDITION.

Read Wherever the English Language is Spoken

The Thrice a Week World expects to be a better paper in 1908 than ever before. In the course of the year the issues for the next great Presidential campaign will be foreshadowed, and everybody will wish to keep informed. The Thrice a Week World, coming to you every other day, serves all the purposes of a daily, and is far cheaper.

The news service of this paper is constantly being increased, and it reports fully, accurately and promptly every event of importance anywhere in the world. Moreover, its political news is impartial, giving you facts, not opinions and wishes. It has full markets, splendid cartoons and interesting fiction by standard authors.

THE THRICE-A WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and THE FULTON COUNTY NEWS together for one year for $1.75. The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00.

WELLS TANNERY.

V. D. Schenck is housed with a severe case of gripe. He is under the care of Dr. R. B. Campbell.

Jacob Clippinger and Thomas Hulinger, of Jeromeville, Ohio, spent last week with friends here.

Rev. W. S. Peters, of Buchanan University, W. Va., was a guest in A. F. Baker's family a part of last week.

Miss Clemma Stunkard went to Pittsburg, Saturday, to stay—she says, a whole year.

Paul Baumgardner returned to State College, Monday.

A. S. Edwards was the recipient of one ninety birthday greetings one day recently, and five the previous day. Nice to be remembered by loving ones scattered in distant lands.

Rev. Kennedy will begin a week's meetings in the Presbyterian church, Monday evening, the 13th.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Foreman last Sunday.

Mary Patterson, niece of Mrs. Albert Helsel and Mrs. Daniel War sing, was brought to the Valley last Thursday, and laid to rest in the cemetery at Shermans Valley church. Last September, Mary went to South Fork, Pa., where she had relatives. Saturday night previous to her death, she, with several young friends, were returning from a theatre, and while attempting to cross a railroad track, they were run down by a train, and Mary was seriously injured—that she was immediately taken to a hospital at Johnstown, where everything possible was done to save her life, but all to no avail. She was aged 10 years, and was a member of the Pine Grove M. E. church. Rev. E. L. Kennedy, of Everett, conducted the funeral services, and preached a very appropriate sermon.

A serious accident happened to our young friend Roy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Foreman, of the Valley, on Saturday evening last. Roy was in the haymow throwing down hay, when he slipped and fell a distance of about twenty feet. When he was picked up, he was unconscious, and remained so for about an hour. Fortunately no bones were broken, and he is now recovering nicely.

Col. R. H. Thomas, originator of the annual Granger's picnic, one of Pennsylvania's foremost editors and a famous veteran of the Civil War, died Friday morning at 1 o'clock at his residence in Mechanicsburg. His health had been slowly declining for a year but not until a week ago was his condition considered as such to occasion alarm.

Getting Along With Children.

Children need the "soft answer that turneth away wrath" in most cases, much more than the time honored rod. We make due allowance for the nerves of grown-ups, but few people make sufficient allowance for the nerves of children, or indeed seem to think that they have any. When children seem irritable, and we can see no apparent cause, it is much better to leave them alone for a short while, not pressing any questions upon them, and above all we should not allow our own irritation to get into our tones when talking to them. I know of one little six-year old who is all amability and animation at school yet when he gets home, he cannot bear to be asked many questions without showing extreme nervousness and annoyance. He has simply kept up to the demands at school and his nervous force is not equal to further strain. His mother has wisely found that what he needs is to play out doors awhile, until he relaxes, and then he is amiable and sweet tempered again. Such temperaments are hard to deal with, and require study and much patience, with little if any physical punishment. Right guidance, and holding the right ideal, is the only safe course.—"Family Problems," in The Ladies' World for January.

Pastor and People.

The United Presbyterian congregation of this place evidently believe in the doctrine taught in I Cor. 9:14—"The Lord hath ordained that they which preach the gospel should live of the gospel." And that their pastor shall live without carefulness about carnal things. This faith took practical form and found a part of its expression on the evening of the first day of 1908, when they adjourned from the evening prayer-meeting to the pastor's home, en masse, and engaged in a general replenishing of garners and kitchen storages, with almost everything you could mention; and then put into the hands of the pastor a lot of envelopes enriched with gold and currency sufficient to renew this replenishing for a good while to come. They thus make their pastor feel, that while he reaps of their carnal things, he desires more abundantly to sow unto them spiritual things; and he rejoices in these evidences of their appreciation of his labors. But for fuller reward he commends them to the Great Giver who has said "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."
