CONDENSED FOR HURRIED READERS

Rev. R. F. McClain, of Mechanicsburg, preached in the Presbyterian church at this place last Sunday morning and evening.
Rev. McClain was pastor of the Presbyterian congregation here about twenty eight years ago, and his many former friends greatly enjoyed hearing him preach again.

Mr. W. Scott Rinedollar and bride arrived here on last Tuesday evening from their honeymoon, which was spent at the home of the former's parents at Webster Mills, Fulton county, and other points. Mr. Rinedollar has been receiving the congratulations of his many friends since his return.

Two landslides occurred on the Cumberland extension of the W. M. R. R. early Monday morning. The one, 20 miles from Cumberland, is reported to have been 100 feet long and 20 feet deep. The other, at Fairplay, was a small slide. The wrecking crew from Hagerstown was summoned to clear the track.

Robert Bridges, one of the wealthiest citizens of Western Maryland, died last Thursday at his home at Hancock, aged 73 years. He was educated for the Presbyterian ministry, but owing to the death of his father, entered business and made a fortune from coal, timber land and farms. His widow, now ill with pneumonia, and nine children, survive.

Between four and five hundred farmers and their wives took a week's course at State College of the special study, and from the opening lecture on the selection of seeds the interest continued unabated. Fifty out of the sixty-seven counties in the State were represented. A wider dissemination of knowledge respecting the farm and domestic economy is the underlying motive of the assembly.

Because they feared the spread of small pox, persons living in or near Bendersville are supposed to have set fire to the large Gulden Flour Mill and burned it to the ground. Edward Guldeen, a Bendersville man, died in the mill from small pox last February, and the community has regarded the building with dread ever since. A county bridge near by was saved with much difficulty.

Birthday Surprise.
At a surprise birthday party recently held, Mr. D. L. Alexander made the assertion that he could not be surprised in that way. His good wife thought it could be done, so she quietly sent out invitations for Thursday, January 9th.

In the morning he decided to go upon the mountain and see if the pike needed opening. On returning home, he was greeted by a number of friends and neighbors, who had assembled during his absence, and who informed him that it was his 33rd birthday.
He admitted that the joke was on him, and that he was not infallible as to surprise.

At 1 o'clock, the company were invited to partake of the bountiful repast prepared. Mr. Alexander was the recipient of a number of useful presents.

The guests departed, after having spent a very pleasant day, wishing him many more such occasions.

JOHNNY'S DEBUT.

There's Scarcely One That Reads This
Who Has Not Been There.

A 7-year old orator made his debut in front of a large audience at a West Side c'ubhouse the other night, says the Detroit News Tribune. His deluded but loving family, who had urged him on to this sacrifice, were mostly with him in the dressing room; they wanted to be sure that his bangs did not fall over his eyes and obstruct the view of his mother, father, aunts, uncles and cousins in reserved seats, directly in front.

"Now, Johnny," said his mother, "be sure you make a nice bow."

"You bet I will," said Johnny, with a swagger.

"And let your hands fall easily by your side, like this," and his father struck an attitude.

"Of course," said Johnny.

"Are you sure you know your piece?" asked his sister.

"Yup," said Johnny, and recited the first two lines:

I wish I had a little dog,
To pat him on the head.

"That's right, he'll do splendidly," remarked his mother.

"You'll go on in a minute now, and we must get into our seats.
Don't you be scared a bit, Johnny."

"Whoth theared?" asked Johnny, who began to feel a sinking of the knees while his heart began to rise until it was in his mouth, and then somebody was pushing him forward and he saw a lot of faces, not one of which he had ever seen before, and it was lighter than any electric searchlight he had ever seen. "Speak up, now," said the manager.

"Make your bow and say your piece."

Johnny made his bow and the audience applauded, but he had difficulty in finding his tongue.
His hands hung down as his father had suggested, making him look like a little wooden man, and when he forgot and stuffed them into his pockets, the audience applauded again. The manager took that opportunity for a stage whisper:

"Speak up, now," and he began the first line. Then Johnny said in a strange, hoarse voice:

I wish I had a little pat,
To dog him on the head.

(Roars of laughter. Frantic demonstrations on the part of Johnny's family.) He began again:

I wish I had a little pat,
To head him on the dog.

His father arose in his seat; that added to Johnny's confusion.
Again the brave boy essayed:

I wish I had a little dog,
To head him on the pat.

Then a weary family took Johnny by the hand and led him home.
—Exchange.

Power of Imagination.
Illustrating the strange power of the imagination, E. F. Benson, author of "Dodo," tells this incident. A doctor he knew had found it necessary to give a patient for many evenings an injection of morphia to enable him to get some sleep. After a while the doctor thought it advisable to stop the morphia, and for two nights his patient was unable to sleep, owing to great pain. On the third night the doctor, being still unwilling to administer morphia, injected plain water instead.
The man slept perfectly and awoke in the morning with what is known as a morphine mouth.

The Congregation Smiled.
Two country clergymen had agreed to exchange pulpits on a certain date. One of them made the following solemn announcement to his congregation on the Sabbath previous to the event:
"My dear brethren and sisters, I have the pleasure of stating that on next Sunday morning the Rev. Zachariah B. Day will preach for you. Let us now sing two verses of hymn No. 489
"That Awful Day Will Surely Come."

And it took him some time to discover why the congregation smiled.

Seven Years of Proof.
"I have had seven years of proof that Dr. King's New Dis-every diseased condition of throat chest or lungs," says W. V. Henry, of Panama, Mo. The world covery is the best remedy for coughs and colds, lagrippe, asthma, hay fever, bronchitis, hemorrhage of the lungs, and the early stages of consumption. Its timely use always prevents the development of pneumonia. Sold store, 50c. and $1.00. Trial bot-

Hot Water Cure for Grip.
The advantage of hot water taken in wardly is well known, but not every one knows that it has been found valuable in fighting grip. A famous doctor, noted for the speedy cure of his grip patients, says "he attributes his success to the fact that he always puts his patients to bed at the first sign of the disease and makes them drink quantities of hot water. This should be taken at intervals of every two hours, and as hot as can be drunk without burning the tongue and throat.

More wire cloth is manufactured in York county than in any other county in the United States.
There are 5 factories in operation in the county. These factories are located at Glen Rock, New Freedom, Hanover, Mt. Wolf and York. The value of the products of these plants last year was over a million dollars, which is equal to about one-third of the entire output of the United States. The five factories used more than 45 tons of wire in the manufacture of their output last year.
