The army of school children in Pennsylvania now number 1,223,338; the teachers number 33,440, and the amount of money expended in 1906 was $16,000,000. This is a work of which the State should be proud, and it argues well for the future citizens of our county.

It is a cough once gets into your system it acts on every muscle and fibre of the body and makes you ache all over. It especially affects the intestines and makes you constipated, so in order to get rid of a cold thoroughly and without delay you should not take anything that will tend to constipate. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts upon the bowels and thereby drives the cold out of the system. It contains no opiates—it is pleasant to take and is highly recommended for children. Sold by Trout's drug store.

S. M. Shore, of Tennessee, Ill., in remitting a dollar to renew his subscription for another year, says: "The Fulton County News comes along each week like a letter from home, and we would not think of getting along without it." He wishes to be remembered kindly to his Fulton county friends.

FENCE POSTS MADE DURABLE.

Woods Given Sixteen Years' Additional Service by Preservative Treatment.

Fence posts of many kinds of cheap woods which ordinarily would soon decay if set in the ground, can be made to last for twenty years by a simple treatment with creosote. Most of the so-called "inferior" woods are well adapted to the treatment, and this is especially true of cottonwood, aspen, willow, sycamore, low grade pines, and some of the gums. When properly treated, these woods outlast untreated cedar and oak, which are becoming too scarce and too much in demand for other uses to allow of their meeting the demand for fence posts.

Impregnation with creosote has been greatly cheapened by the introduction of the "open tank," which can be installed at a cost of from $30 to $45, or much less if an old boiler is used. A tank with a bottom 12 square feet in area will suffice for treating 40 or 50 6 inch posts a day, or double this number when two runs per day can be made. The absorption of creosote per post is about as follows: Eucalyptus, one-tenth gallon; willow, two tenths gallon; sassafras, ash, hickory, red oak, water oak, elm, and maple, four-tenths gallon; Douglas fir, quaking aspen, and black walnut, six-tenths gallon; sycamore, cotton wood, and lodgepole pine, seven-tenths gallon. The price of creosote is about 10 cents per gallon in the East and Middle West, 16 cents per gallon on the Pacific coast, and 27 cents per gal on the Rocky Mountain States. The cost of treating a post will therefore vary from 4 to 15 cents. Properly treated, it should give service for at least twenty years.

Experiments of the Forest Service show that with preservative treatment the durability of lodgepole pine in Idaho is increased sixteen years. The cost of creosote is there relatively high, yet by treating posts there is a saving, with interest at 6 per cent. of 2 cents per post yearly. More important than the saving, however, is the fact that though preservative treatment other woods are fitted to take the place of cedar, of which the supply is rapidly becoming exhausted. A detailed description of experiments in preserving fence posts, together with practical suggestions for treating them on a commercial scale, are contained in Circular 117 of the Forest Service. This publication can be obtained upon application to the Forester at Washington.

Law Unconstitutional.

The supreme court by a majority of one, declared the Dunsmore two-cent fare bill unconstitutional. The decision was based solely upon a clause in the state constitution, which prohibits interference with corporations by the legislature when such action involves injustice to stock holders.

Water and Salt.
Give the cow plenty of water. How much water do you think was drunk by the cow that gave ninety-six pounds of milk. That does not mean that the milk was water, as her milk tested about 3.5 per cent fat. You cannot water-milk through the cow. Only man has learned that trick.
Next give the cow plenty of salt. Treat her kindly. Treat her as if she were your friend.
The cow house should be kept clean and sweet and well ventilated. It is impossible to get good milk from a cow kept in a stable that is not clean.
