Target Practice.

"The trip has demonstrated that the Atlantic fleet can go to any part of the world if coal is provided. The men and officers of the fleet have not regarded the present cruise in the same remarkable sense that the public has. With them it has merely been a day's work—nothing more. However, they are all gratified at the successful conclusion of the cruise to date. It merely confirms our expect

Failure to Rescue Jeffs.

Much disappointment is expressed throughout the fleet over the failure of the expedition to rescue the American of the expedition to rescue the American not yet fired all their guns in practice. All will engage in record target practice. There will be four ranges, four ships firing at a time. The rafts for the targets were finished and towed out to the grounds, to the southeast of where the squad on was anchored. Three or four of the ships, including the Georgia, Rhode Island, Kansas and Vermont, were on the range lay. the Georgia, Rhode Island, Kansas and Vermont, were on the range laying out the lines and anchoring buoys found with Jeffs' initials on it. COMMERCIAL COLUMN.

Weekly Review of Trade and Latest Market Reports.

Bradstreet's says: There is quite considerable im-provement in both the tone of gener-al distributive trade and in the volume of business actually booked by jobbers. Withal, however, there is jobbers. Withal, however, there is little change to be seen in the character of the buying, which is still along very conservative lines, and while the volume of business doing is larger now than at any time since last fall, the shrinkage from a year ago is distinct and unmistakably large. Collections are still very backward; prices of staples tend lower, as for a long time past; the earning power of employes in many lines of industry is being curtailed by short time or wage reductions, and the threat is made that a refusal to accept lower wages may result in a wide-spread suspension of activity in the coal trade. The demand for iron and steel shows little real expansion, aside from some lines like wire and similar goods; old material tends to ease, and many consuming plants are running on short time.

The long standing curtailment of cotton goods products shows no signs of ending; in fact, a continued heavy cut in production is indicated, and notice has been given, in addition, of a 10 per cent, reduction in wages at some Eastern mills.

Dry goods of various kinds, grocer-ies, hardware, implements and paints are moving fairly well. Export trade in cotton goods does not gain much, and the outgo of farm products is not as large as in recently preceding months.

RESPONSIBILITY UF EDITORS.

By the Editor of the Ladies' World. George William Curtis laid down the unalterable law of editorship when he said that a man should not do anything as an editor that he would not do as a gentleman. No gentleman would introduce into your home a conversation on a strictly private medical topic, or relate stories of well-known persons that were palpably false. And no editor has a right to seek your company by such means, even though they are contained in a publication behind which he is to a large extent hidden and protected. You have grown careful about your food, your milk supply, your meats your vegetables, and the slightest thing that is questionable now leads to vigorous complaint. But what about the mental food for your family, the reading for your sons and daughters, and even your own magazines and newspapers? When you find rottenness, do you follow dictates of your conscience and your judgment, or do you calmly accept it as the natural product of a new age?

There is nothing new in the standards of decent editing and healthy reading. The best and the cleanest in current literature is hardest to secure; it means more in thought effort and money. The sensations which are exploited before you are not only exaggerations in themselves. but are essentially cheap and false in their price marks. Furthermore, ther are doubly expensive in that they destroy the appetite for sane literature and accurate information. just as tainted food too highly seasoned will injuriously affect the whole physical and moral structure

Homes in which erotic stories and scandal romances are read, be they in books or magazines or newspapers, are not the homes that are contributing to the proper manhood and womanhood of the world-are not the homes that will supply the leaders in thought and action for tomorrow. These vulgar sensations taint the mind, and a tainted mind means a tainted soul.

"Therefore, who taints his soul may be said to throw dirt in God's "Give an account of thy stewardship, for thou mayst be no longer steward." This was the message brought to America a few weeks ago by the Bishop of London, a modern leader of the people, the first Bishop of London to preach in America, and he gave his message to a congregation of millionaires. Just before he sailed he was called to see a man whose name was known throughout the world. This man had just been given six weeks to live, and the whole matter of responsibility and pride came before him vividly, alarmingly What was fame or great wealth in the presence of a death sentence, only six weeks away?

"It is my contention," said the Bishop, "that a man who believes that he is more than a steward is as mad as a Bishop of London who thinks he owns the world." Again, "Anything you have is not your own, We are simply stewards, not owners. Editors are the stewards of the responsibility which they owe to their readers; you are the stewards of the responsibility which you owe to yourselves and to your homes.

Watches For the Blind.

The blind, like other mortals, wish to know the time exactly, and as very few of them are in a position to se cure a good repeating watch, whose cost is always great, they have to be content with ordinary watches, and ly causes disarrangement of the time-

In view of these difficulties a foreign firm has constructed a watch for the blind, which represents the figures in allegorial manner, and apparently is very convenient. The signs in relief are the following: o'clock, a dot; 2 o'clock, two dots; 3 o'clock, a triangle; 4 o'clock, square; 5 o'clock, a five pointed star;

6 o'clock, an eclipse. These same signs are repeated in the same order in bas-relief representing the hours from 6 to 12. The number of signs is therefore limited to six, and it is very easy to ascertain from them the time of day. The hands are very strong and the watch has been used with good results. Another watch for the blind has been invented by M. Pierre Tissot-Bersof, by which the blind can tell not only the hour, but also the min-The hours are represented by figures of the Braille system.-Bos-

A picture of Joseph Leggett, Police Commissioner of the city, published in a recent issue of the Call, brought to me a little incident I observed New Year's Day five years ago. On that day I was standing at Scott street and Golden Gate avenue, intently watching the antics of a citizen who evidently had a liberal amount of New Year's cheer aboard when Leggett, with his whiskers floating in the breeze, appeared. He came down the steep incline from Devisadero street on his wheel at what appeared to be a breakneck speed, when the inebriated citizen spied him, and im-mediately stepping out into the roadway, raised both hands in the air and yelled in a megaphone voice:

"Go it, you old dude—go it, you old dude!" and as the present Commissioner disappeared down the aveque gave a final demoniacal yell: "Go it, you --- old dude!"-San Francisco Call.

Reclaiming Southern Missouri.

In the eleven counties of Southeast Missouri containing swamp or over-flow lands thirty-one drainage ditches or canals have been constructed with a total length of about 660 miles. These ditches have reclaimed 255,000 acres of land, an area amounting to nearly 383 square miles. These lands, which were practically worthless before drainage, are now worth from $35 to $65 an acre.—Doniphan one Weman's Ingratitude, Temperance in Englan'.

A century ago drunkenness was a pr valent vice among all classes in England. So little was thought of it that William litt rould appear in the House of Commens in a state of beastly intoxication while prime minister without provoking any unfavorable remark. To-day o r up per and middle classes are as sob r at any reople in the world. How has this change been brought about? Certainly not by acts of Parliament or compulsory restrictions of any kind upon the consump ion of liquor. I suppose it is due to the progress of education and refine ment, a letter understanding of the p isonous effects of alcohol and the formation of a more wholesome public opinion in consequence. DO YOU KNOW WHAT WHITE LEAD IS?

Its Chief Use and a Method of Deter-mining Good from Bad Explained.

White Lead is the standard paint material all over the world. It is made by corroding metallic lead into a white powder, through exposing it to the fumes of weak acetic acid and carbonic acid gas; this powder is then ground and mixed with linseed oil, making a thick paste, in which form it is packed and sold for painting purposes. The painter thins it down to the proper consistency for applica-tion by the addition of more lineard

There is, however, a positive test by which the purity or impurity of White Lead may be proved or ex-posed, before painting with it. The blow-pipe flame will reduce pure White Lead to metallic lead. If
