ORIGIN OF "LET US ALONE" SLOGAN.

The "Let Us Alone" Society, which was organized in St. Louis recently, is a direct outgrowth of efforts by B. F. Yoakum, chairman of the Board of Directors of the St. Louis and San Francisco lines. The organization includes many of the most prominent business men of St. Louis, E. C. Simmons being at its head. Within the last two months Mr. Yoakum has spoken several times on the necessity of inaugurating what he termed a "Let Us Alone" policy, in order to restore confidence in the commercial world and to prevent a serious check to the natural developments of the resources of the country in the West and Southwest.

weather conditions have been unfavorable to distributive trade this week, and a rather quiet trade is reported the country over. Jobbing trade has remained quiet, with business confined to small filling-in orders. Fall business has shown no particular increase in activity, and orders are still scarce. The disposition seems to be to let jobber carry the goods, and manufacturers are likewise distinclined to make up stocks ahead of orders. Collections are still slow, and extensions asked for or granted are still a feature. Thus far industrial output shows litthe or no disposition to expand. Curtailment is still the feature in textile fines, and some leading centers report production 40 per cent. off the normal. Iron and steel industries show little change from the preced ing quiet conditions, except that talk of price reductions in the crude iron branch is becoming more pro-nounced, while finished lines hold at previous quotations. Railway ton-nage is at a very low point, idle cars have increased to a record total, with coal cars prominent, indicating that this trade is especially short of work. Foreign trade is quiet as a whole, but some improvement is reported in export demand for cereals after the smallest week's shipments in two years. The best points in the situ-ation are the more cheerful feeling as to the ability of railroads to bor-row and the undeniably good outtook for the winter wheat crop,

Is it a Catarrh Remedy, or a Tonic, or is it Both?

Some people call Peruna a great tonic. Others refer to Peruna as a great catarrh remedy.

What is Pe-ru-na?

Which of these people are right? Is it more proper to call Peruna a catarrh remedy than to call it a tonio?

Our reply is, that Peruna is both a tonic and a catarrh remedy. Indeed, there can be no effectual catarrh remedy that is not also a tonic.

In order to thoroughly relieve any case of catarrh, a remedy must not only have a specific action on the mucous membranes affected by the catarrh, but it must have a general tonic action on the nervous system.

Catarrh, even in persons who are otherwise strong, is a weakened condition of some mucous membrane. There must be something to strengthen the circulation, to give tone to the arteries, and to raise the vital forces.

Perhaps no vegetable remedy in the world has attracted so much attention from medical writers as HYDRASTIS CANADENSIS. The wonderful efficacy of this herb has been recognized many years, and is growing in its hold upon the medical profession. When joined with CUEEBS and COPAIBA a trio of medical agents is formed in Peruna which constitutes a specific remedy for catarrh that in the present state of medical progress cannot be improved upon. This action, reinforced by such renowned tonics as COLLIN-SONIA CANADENSIS, CORYDALIS FORMOSA and CEDRON SEED, ought to make this compound an ideal remedy for catarrh in all its stages and locations in the body.

From a theoretical standpoint, therefore, Peruna is beyond criticism. The use of Peruna, confirms this opinion. Numberless testimonials from every quarter of the earth furnish ample evidence that this judgment is not over enthusiastic. When practical experience confirms a well-grounded theory the result is a truth that cannot be shaken.

CHANGE IN FOOD

Works Wonders in Health.

It is worth knowing that a change in food can cure dyspepsia. "I deem It my duty to let you know how Grape-Nuts food has cured me of indigestion

"I had been troubled with it for years, until last year my doctor recommended Grape-Nutsfood to be used every morning. I followed instructions and now I am entirely well.

"The whole family like Grape-Nuts, we use four packages a week. You are welcome to use this testimonial as you see fit."

The reason this lady was helped by the use of Grape-Nuls food is that it is predigested by natural processes. and therefore does not tax the stomach as the food she had been using: it also contains the elements required for building up the nervous system. If that part of the human body is in perfect working order there can be no dyspepsia, for nervous energy represents the steam that drives the engine.

When the nervous system is run down, the machinery of the body works badly. Grape-Nuts food can be used by small children as well as adults. It is perfectly cooked and ready for instant use.
