Two drivers in a Pittsburg Six automobile passed through town Saturday evening. The car is trying to make a new record between New York and Pittsburg on a $50000 wager, and the way they went through town they look like winners.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts gently upon the bowels and thereby drives the cold out of the system and at the same time it allays inflammation and stops irritation. Children like it. Sold by Trout's drug store.

The valuable and instructive series of articles on Commercial Law, published for some months in the Philadelphia Sunday Record, and which recently terminated, will be published in book form by the author. There is one preparation known to-day that will promptly help the stomach. This is Kodol. Kodol digests all classes of food, and it does it thoroughly, so that the use of Kodol for a time will without doubt help anyone who has stomach disorder or stomach trouble. Take Kodol today and continue it for the short time that is necessary to give you complete relief. Kodol is sold by Trout's drug store.

Adverting to a prevalent idea that the small seeds of many of our summer fruits are the cause of appendicitis, the Pittsburg Dispatch says: "The persons who are refraining from the luscious raspberry and cream through fear of appendicitis are foregoing a very good thing and their neighbors are benefiting thereby. The raspberry is innocent. It disseminates no appendicitis. Let the fearful take freely of olive oil and eat raspberries to their full desire."

This is what Hon. Jake Moore, State Warden of Georgia, says of Kodol For Dyspepsia: "E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill.—Dear Sirs—I have suffered more than twenty years from indigestion. About eighteen months ago I had grown so much worse that I could not digest a crust of corn bread and could not retain anything on my stomach. I lost 25 lbs; in fact I made up my mind that I could not live but a short time, when a friend of mine recommended Kodol. I consented to try it to please him and was better in one day. I now weigh more than I ever did in my life and am in better health than for many years. Kodol did it. I kept a bottle constantly, and write this hoping that humanity may be benefited. Yours very truly, Jake C. Moore, Atlanta, Aug. 10, 1904." Sold by Trout's drug store.

Removing Ax Handle.
The handle may be easily removed from the ax by placing the blade on the top of a heated stove and leaving it there till the iron around what is known as the "eye" becomes quite hot. Heat expands the iron, making it an easy matter to drive the handle from the blade.

King Corn.
American corn is one of the wonders of the world. It is big in any way you look at it. In dollars it is worth double that of any other crop grown in any country on earth. The majesty of Uncle Sam's cornfield this year surpasses all understanding. If every foot of ground in Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey were planted in one solid field it wouldn't match the one that is to-day being cultivated.

As becomes the giant crop of mother earth, corn surpasses all others in swiftness of growth. When farmers exulting declare they can hear the corn grow it is the literal truth. In ten weeks the stalks attain their full average height of about eight feet. The 100,000,000 acres of waving green cornfields are to-day like a banner of hope. They promise abundance and more comfort to all the people of this fortunate land.

Nothing that comes out of the ground all around the world can rival in real grandeur American corn as it appears in mid July—unless it be the mountains of yellow ears that will fill the granaries in Autumn.

The President's Salary.
It is safe to say that very few of the people living in this country know how the president of the United States draws his salary of $50,000 a year. Of those few who have given the matter a thought, a large majority do not know whether he receives his salary monthly, quarterly or semi-annually. As a matter of fact, the salary due the president is taken to the White House by a trusted messenger from the office of the treasurer of the United States on the last day of each month and handed over to the official whose business it is to look after it. The president receives his salary in the shape of a check, the $50,000 being divided into eight checks of $4,166.67 each and four checks of $4,166.66 each. Thus one month out of every three the president receives 1 cent less on his check than he does the other two. Some such arrangement as this is necessary, as, of course, $50,000 is not exactly divisible by twelve.

War Against Consumption.
All nations are endeavoring to check the ravages of consumption, the "white plague" that claims so many victims each year. Foley's Honey and Tar cures coughs and colds perfectly and you are in no danger of consumption. Do not risk your health by taking some unknown preparation when Foley's Honey and Tar is safe and certain in results. Trout's drug store.

Care of Umbrellas.
After coming in out of the rain let the umbrella down, and stand it on the handle, that it may dry in this position. The water will thus drip from the edges of the frame, and the cover dry uniformly.

When placed with the handle upward, as is frequently done, the water runs to the top of the umbrella and the moisture is there retained in the lining underneath the ring, causing the silk or fabric with which the frame is covered to become tender and soon rot.

Ordinarily, the top of an umbrella wears out sooner than any other part of it, and in the majority of cases may be thus accounted for.

A silk umbrella is much injured by being left open to dry; the silk becomes stretched and stiff and will sooner split than cared for. When not in use, let the folds hang loose, not fastened down. The creases are less apt to split from such usage.—New York Press.

The World's Best Climate is not entirely free from disease; on the high elevations fevers prevail, while on the lower levels malaria is encountered to a greater or less extent, according to altitude. To overcome climate affections, lassitude, malaria, jaundice, biliousness, fever and ague, and general debility, the most effective remedy is Electric Bitters, the great alterative and blood purifier; the antidote for every form of bodily weakness, nervousness, and insomnia. Sold under guarantee at Trout's drug store. Price 50c.

How to Know a Mad Dog.
Hydrophobia is in reality so rare and so terrifying that its symptoms and treatment are little understood. As a matter of fact, the commonly accepted expression of madness in a dog is often misleading. The real mad dog does not shun water, as it is said. On the contrary, mad dogs often rush to the water and drink it eagerly, if they are able to swallow. The mad dog does not foam at the mouth. It does not run amuck, snapping at everything in its path. What, then, are the indications of the mad dog? To those familiar with a given dog the surest symptom and the one which should excite closest attention is a distinct and unaccountable change in the dog's disposition—a staid dog becoming excitable, and a frisky one dull. That condition does not necessarily mean rabies, but it is suspicious, and if in addition the dog has trouble in swallowing—as though it seemed to have a bone in its throat—beware! That dog should be instantly tied up, because if it be rabid it takes but a day or two for ferocious instincts to develop. The unmistakable evidence, however, of a dog with rabies is the sticky, whitish saliva which covers the teeth and shows on the drawn lips. The eyes glare and are red; the dog has paroxysms of running fury, during which it barks hoarsely, which alternate with periods of temporary exhaustion.—Caspar Whitney, in Outing.
