Foilowing a long series of what the residents of Curacao regard as anagonistic actions on the part of President Castro, directed against themselves, and the Dutch government mobs gathered in force at this capital, and expressed their resentment in an attack upon the home of a Venezuelan who had published state-ments in Venezuelan papers derogatory to the island, and later held violent demonstrations in front of the Venezuelan consul, surrounded the German consulate, where he had taken refuge, and compelled the ordering out of armed troops, so that the consul might be protected from in-ury. The demonstration before the residence of the Venezuelan consulcuor Lopez, occurred late at night and although no actual attack was made, it is stated that two shots were fired from the consul's house no one, however, being injured.

Prior to this, about 10 o'clock F a mob numbering about 1,000 gathered in front of the dwelling of a Venezuelan resident, who, it is believed, had insulted Curacao in the Venezuela papers; broke down the doors with stones and seizing the man, compelled him to sign a paper which set forth an elaborate excuse for the publication of the statements with which he was charged.

leaders of the populace also forced him to make a public apology from the balcony of his home, while the crowd below hooted and groaned in accompaniment. Furthermore members of the man's family were compelled to play the Dutch national hymn, while the people below shouted: "Down with Castro; long may Wilhelmina live!"

WAR AGAINST INCREASE IN THE FREIGHT RATES

President Roosevelt,

Cincinnati (Special). - Brushing aside all intermediate modes of action, the Receivers and Shippers' Association of Cincinnati has carried its war-against a general increase in freight rates directly to the President of the United States.

A communication was forwarded to President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay and made public here asking the years ago against certain railroads forbidding increase in rates. If so, he is asked at once to cause the At-torney General to bring proceedings for contempt against the Missouri Pacific Railway and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad. Denying that politics has anything to do with the letter at this time it is explained that because of fact that certain general increases in freight rates are to become effective on August 10 on certain roads prompt and positive action became necessity

In conclusion the letter says: "This association stands for a square deal for the carriers. It believes that their property rights should be protected the same as the property rights of individuals. But we are unalterably opposed to any policy of the carriers which has for its purpose the ignoring of our courts and the placing of themselves above the laws of the land. If they expect the protection of the laws and the courts, they must show wholesome regard for the law and respect the decrees of the courts. If the Missouri Pacific and the Rock Island deliber ately ignore this solemn mandate of courts and continue in an ur lawful manner to burden trade and ommerce among the States by continually increasing rates, the ques-tion arises: Is there no power in this land sufficiently strong to reach railroad companies that recklessly brush aside the decrees of our courts This association believes that you will, in carrying out your policy for the strict enforcement of the law, see to it that these railroad companies are required in the future to observe this decree."

STANDARD OIL CO'S

THE CASE IN BRIEF.

The Standard Oil Company of Indiana was the defendant, the case being brought by the government on the charge of accepting rebates from the Chicago and Alton and other railroads. The indictments were returned in August, 1906. The trial began March 4, 1907, at Chicago. The jury was obtained in a day. Several indictments were quashed by Judge Landis, the United States district judge, who heard the case.

There were 1,462 counts and the maximum fine was imposed on each count making the total fine $29,240,000, the largest fine ever imposed in history.
The United States Circuit

Court of Appeals, Judge Gross-cup writing the opinion, finds that the tariff was not published, that the shipper cannot be obliged to what the established rate is, that Judge Landis erred in considering each carload a separate offense and that in imposing the maximum fine he abused the discretion vested in his court.

President in Addressing a Conference of One Hundred Naval Officers Says We Should Have a First-class Fighting Navy or None at All-Scoffs at Soft Blows.

"In Time Of Peace." Etc.

The President told the officers at the Navai War College in no unmistaktable terms that ability to fight is the first requisite of a navy, and that it should not be a coast defense navy. He spoke of the possibility of baving to restrict immigration and the friction that this might provoke, and this in connection with Hobson's recent statement that the President was supposed to apprehend a war with Japan made his utterances seem like a velled hint in that direction.

The President was also emphatic regarding the need of heeding suggestions from the men who work the ships in the construction of the fighting craft.

Newport, R. I. (Special) .- After # narrow escape from disaster at sea, the yacht Mayflower, bearing the President and his party from Oyster Bay to this port, was in collision with a lumber schooner. President Theodore Roosevelt met almost 100 offi cers of the navy and army at the Naval War College here, and, it words that struck like blows with the fist, urged the imperativeness of a great and "fighting" navy if the United States is to maintain manding position among the nations

Following this address, directed to the nation at large and marked by startling emphasis as to the country's naval needs, the President held a secret conference with the scores of officers. This more than any other single factor, according to official predictions, is to have epochmaking effect upon the future warship construction methods of the United States. In this conference, with the same terse directness that character ized his public utterances, the Presi dent insisted that methods must be adopted which will contribute to the country's work of naval construction the highest degree of efficiency possible of attainment in modern war ship building. Though not urging voerturning of the present naval de-partment methods, he held that reoverturning of the present naval de ery must not be withheld if the exist ing mechanism presents a bar to this

The striking address of President Roosevelt had as its setting a boom-ing of saluting cannon that shook the Newport harbor with echoing thun-der; a parade of white-clad naval ap-prentices, 1,200 strong, who will form, in part, the crews of the na-tion's war fleets in the future, and the dignity of those impressive cere-monies which mark official events of
