In Pennsylvania during the first six months of 1908, 525 persons were killed and 4,635 injured. The railroads are a great help to the prosperity of the country, even that of the undertakers and surgeons. What should we do without them?—Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

Here is something to cut out and paste in your hat: Every little while we read in the paper that someone has run a rusty nail in his foot or other portion of his body and lo! the result is death. If every person was aware of a perfect remedy for such wounds and would apply it, then such reports would cease. The remedy is simple, always at hand, can be applied by anyone—what is better, it is infallible. It is simply to smoke the wound that is bruised or inflamed with a woolen cloth. Twenty minutes in the smoke will take the pain out of the worst case of inflammation arising from such wounds. People may sneer at this remedy as much as they please; but when they are afflicted with such wounds let them try it.

The Dickson connection, last Friday, held a little family picnic at the spring north of town, which was greatly enjoyed by all present. The outing was given in honor of Donald S. Nace, and he invited a few of his little friends to help him enjoy it, and they certainly did. Wading in the creek was the principal pastime until supper was announced, when they gathered around the spread and, didn't they eat? It was a pleasure to see the little folks enjoy the good things set before them. We are told that some of the ladies of the party were badly frightened by the appearance on the scene of a lot of cattle, which caused them to take to the fences out of reach of the gentle animals.

Do You Sit Correctly?
It is while sitting that women most hurt their figures. They do not place themselves so that they sit on the tip of the spine. Let any woman who is reading this sentence now drop her paper and notice if she is sitting on the tip of her spine or four or five inches above it, causing a curve in the vertebrae. It is easy enough to know, because if the end of the spine has been made to do its work she cannot straighten herself any more in the seat, although she may be able to throw back her body more, but if the line of her backbone is as it should be she cannot pull herself up higher on the chair. This is because the weight is already placed at its proper angle. On the contrary, the instant the spine is allowed to curve to ward the lower end the whole figure is thrown out of plumb. The abdomen is made to protrude and the hips are thrust up.

Origin of Our Free Public Schools.
When the socialists are charged with pursuing an agitation that would destroy every institution, human and divine, that man holds sacred, how many people know that the proposal to establish free public schools in this country first met with the same sort of reception? And yet that is a fact. The public school system came into existence through the agitation of a group of weavers, tailors, and mechanics in Philadelphia, New York, and Boston. These workmen organized a party in 1859 with "free public schools, where the children of rich and poor alike can attend on an equal footing," as its chief demand. A public meeting called to discuss this proposition in Philadelphia at the old city hall was broken up by the police and the speaker arrested and taken to jail. And the New York "Evening Post" of that day called on "the bankers, the preachers, the merchants, and other respectable members of society," to organize to put down "this pernicious agitation which threatens to undermine the very foundations of society." That must sound very familiar to the readers of certain metropolitan newspapers which habitually thrust forward the Socialist Bagaboo.—William Mailly, in Success Magazine.
